NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

MONTREAL, Nov. 16.

The "Sardinian" and "Phoenician," which leave to-morrow or Monday, will be the last Allan steamers from Montreal this season. The former is expected to take thirty-eight thousand boxes of cheese, weighing eleven hundred tons.

Canada Agricultural Insurance risks are reinsured with the Agricultural Insurance Company of Watertown. The latter has recommenced business in Canada and deposited $100,000.

Premier Joly met the civic authorities today concerning the railway route. It is understood the city will not pay another cent unless the railway enters Montreal and the workshops located in the city limits.

Merrill & Son, millers of Ottawa, have failed; liabilities heavy.

A number of prominent shippers visited the Finance Minister on board the "Peruvian" at Quebec this morning, in answer to whom the Minister promised that the removal of the restrictions placed by France on Canadian built ships should have the Government's most favorable consideration.

Sir John McDonald's return is gazetted for Victoria, B. C., and Parliament is prorogued to the 31st December, and not called then for the dispatch of business.

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.

The mission of Sir A. T. Galt who sailed for England on Saturday is understood to be to confer with Her Majesty's Government as to the best means of opening up and developing Canadian trade with the British and Foreign West Indies. He accompanies Mr. Tilley who goes to repair the negligence of his predecessors.

Mr. Buckingham has been replaced in the position he formerly occupied in the Department of Public Works, it having been decided the staff of the Department of the Interior was larger than necessary. Col. Dennis, Surveyor General, being able to perform the duties of Deputy Minister in addition to his own without an increase of salary. By this means a saving of $3,300 per annum has been effected without in any way affecting the efficiency of public service. It is understood the attention of Mr. Mills, late Minister of the Interior, was called to the fact that the staff was too large, and that Col. Dennis could perform the duties of both offices, but he paid no attention to the suggestion.

It is reported that there will be a reduction in the Civil Service of about two hundred employees before the end of the year.

Hon. Mr. Anglin is winding up the business connected with the Speakership. It is understood he will adhere to the English practice and fill up all vacancies in offices connected with the House of Commons, of which he remains de facto Speaker.

There are two vacancies in the French translators staff which he will fill before leaving.

It is also said that Lindsay Russell, Deputy Surveyor, succeeds Col. Dennis.

Buckingham has been appointed to the position of first-class clerk in the Public Works Department.

Sir John A. McDonald, Dr. Tupper, James McDonald, J. H. Pope and McKeen Beggall will go to Halifax to meet the Vice Royal party.

The appointment of Mr. Boyer, flour inspector at Montreal, has been cancelled. Mr. Labelle is to receive the position.

The Government has decided not to make any new appointments, and have not determined whether or not the Indian Agencies are to be filled.

Hon. A. and Mrs. McKenzie left last night for Toronto, which is to be their future home. Government officials are forbidden to act as Consuls for foreign countries.

DARMSTADT, Nov. 16.

The Princess Mary, daughter and youngest child of the Grand Duke of Hesse, died to-day of diphtheria, aged four years. The Grand Duke and four more children have the disease.

PESTH, Nov. 19.

Premier Tisza, speaking in the Diet, declared that the policy of Austro-Hungary was to prevent Turkey from hoping a prey to Russia. He expressed a firm hope that the Berlin Treaty would be punctually observed. If, however, any power should resist the execution of the treaty, Austria, who had been able to harmonize her interests with those of Europe, would not stand alone in the fight that might ensue.

LONDON, Nov. 16.

A Berlin despatch states that Schouvaloff will go to Baden-baden on his way to London to deliver to Gortschakoff an autograph letter from the Czar.

It is reported that measures are taken to increase the Russian army in time of war by 632 battalions.

A Berlin despatch says negotiations at Rome with the Vatican have been resumed with a fair chance of success.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 16.

The Duke of Cumberland has determined not to abdicate his rights to the Crown of Hanover. All reports to the contrary are not correct.

LONDON, Nov. 16.

James Forbest & Co., cotton spinners, have failed. Liabilities £143,000.

At Preston, 3,000 spindles, 1,500 looms, and 1,200 operatives are idle. Many of the mills are working only from two to four days a week, and there is much distress. Several cotton factories here are working only eight hours daily, and it is expected that the mills in Girsly will also adopt short time during the winter.

DUBLIN, Nov. 16.

The Diocesan chapter of parish priests of the Diocese will meet on the 28th inst. to select names from which the Pope may choose a successor to the late Archbishop Cullen.

LONDON, Nov. 16.

Lord Roseberry has been re-elected Lord Rector of Aberdeen University by a majority of four over Hon. Richard Asheton Cross, the Home Secretary. The Indian newspapers state that all the camels arriving at Quattah are detained to be used in an advance if necessary. All officers on leave have been finally recalled, and the commander-in-chief, who is at Rawil Pindae, appears to be certain that hostilities will commence on the 29th instant. The Ameer has withdrawn two regiments from Candahar, and ordered the Governor of the Pishern Valley, near Quattah, not to resist the British advance.

The "Post" predicts that the rectification of the northwestern frontier of India desired by the Government will be found to consist in the further occupation of Quattah and Jellalabad with the establishment of British residents in Cabul, Candahar, and Herat.

It is stated that the Afghans are rapidly massing upon the hills commanding the Zence and Cabul roads.

The Realm of Stalacta.

THE NEW YORK "HERALD'S" LATEST DISCOVERY!

THE GREATEST WONDER OF THE WORLD.

In developing the rabbit hole on the hillside at Luray, Page County, Va., the enterprising explorers have struck a veritable underground world of wonders. Cavern after cavern, corridors, galleries, amphitheatres of immense extent, extraordinary freaks of nature in the fantastic forms assumed by stalactite and stalagmite—all these have been discovered at Luray on a scale that probably has few equals in the world. Our correspondent has explored these wonders in order to give the readers of the Herald an accurate description of this vast system of magnificent caverns. It would be premature to venture an estimate of the extent of these natural wonders. The explorers themselves are at a loss to describe them, and each day brings new discoveries of surpassing interest. The curious formations that present themselves on every side are due to the infiltration of water impregnated with mineral matter, which, falling through countless ages, have deposited the latter and built up the strange shapes that fill the beholder with wonder and awe. In this dark laboratory of nature the untiring forces have been in silent operation since long before man became an inhabitant of the world. Lighted up by the torch, the crystallizations that encrust the deposits glitter like diamonds, and the exquisite tints of the rainbow are rivalled by the glorious reflections cast back by the myriad prisms that stud the walls and roofs of this underground palace. To the geologist and lover of the beautiful, the caves at Luray must prove attractive in no ordinary degree, and it is probable that the quiet village in Virginia will soon become the resort of curious visitors from every part of the country. Among the discoveries of the past few days are the footprints of animals in the floors of the caverns. Can these be traces of the mythical gysacticus?

SUGAR.

The stock of sugar in the United States is said to be less than usual. Statistics show that the total consumption of raw sugar for the year ending December 31, 1877, was close upon fifteen hundred millions of pounds. On the 1st of January last the total stock of raw sugar in the country was, in tons, 50,548; the receipts from all points from January 1 to October 1, 1878, 547,990; total, 597,230. Of this quantity there had been withdrawn for consumption, previous to October 1, 523,911 tons; with raw sugar exported, 2,080; leaving stock on hand, October 1, 71,647. During the month of September last the receipts were 42,141 tons, and the withdrawals for consumption, 76,124 tons. Should the present demand for raw sugar continue, it is apparent that at least 100,000 tons must be received to prevent the supply running short. There will be little difficulty, however, in replenishing the stock. An Havana despatch says: "The coming sugar crop promises to be excellent, the cane being finely seasoned through a succession of northern winds after abundant rains during the summer. It is estimated that the yield will reach 700,000 tons, taking into consideration the fact that much of the last crop of grain remained uncut in the fields. No contracts for the new crop are reported, owing to the dull and stagnant market. Several plantations commence grinding this month."

The New Judicial Appointments in Ontario.

The St. John News says: "It has been admitted by his severest critics that Sir John A. McDonald's judicial appointments have generally, if not always, done him credit. In his late Ontario appointments he seems to have maintained his reputation in this matter. Chief Justice Hagarty, who stands high as a jurist, is raised from the head of the Common Pleas to that of the Queen's Bench. Mr. Wilson, a Puisne Judge, succeeds Chief Justice Hagarty in the highest place on the Common Pleas Bench, while Mr. Matthew Crooks Cameron succeeds Judge Wilson in the vacant Puisne Judgeship. Judge Wilson's merits will not be denied, and Mr. Cameron will be readily admitted. He was the leader of the Conservative Opposition in the Ontario Assembly. He was rather a failure as a politician, and notably so as a party leader. Indeed, he was far too much devoted to the practice of his profession to be of much account as a parliamentary leader. But he is a man of high character, and of eminent ability and long experience as a lawyer. He will probably make an excellent judge."

It was I. B. Hamm that left the Island not See Jones; he still lives—his cheap imposition is dead. Poor work did it.—3i
