

TRAPPED IN CAB

Gordon MacDonald, 30, of North Sydney was trapped in the cab of his oil tanker for two hours before he was rescued by police, firemen and volunteers. MacDonald was trapped when the tanker was in collision with a truck at nearby North Sydney. He suffered severe leg injuries. (CP Wirephoto)

Board Meeting Set For Today

SYDNEY (CP) — A proposed corridor highway linking the Maritimes and central Canada through Maine is to be highlighted in the opening session today of the annual meeting of the Maritime provinces Board of Trade.

More than 200 delegates from the four Atlantic provinces registered for the two-day conference Sunday night. Their agenda this morning included a panel discussion on a Maritimes central Canada highway, a short-cut route now being studied by an international committee.

Two Vehicles In Collision With Bridge

The Charlottetown Police Department reported an accident that occurred at 1.10 Saturday morning on the Hillsboro Bridge involving two cars. No injuries were reported.

A late model Cadillac driven by Ronald Woodgate of Mermaid and an unidentified model car driven by Allie Duffy of 17 Beasley St. Parkdale collided with the bridge.

The damage to the automobile driven by Mr. Duffy was estimated to be $85. The Cadillac was reported to have been demolished.

Strong Gales Cause Damage

ALBERTON — Strong gales and high seas caused considerable damage to lobster gear in the West Prince area on Saturday.

Yesterday morning large numbers of traps and buoys were on the shore from Alberton to Tignish and fishermen expect their gear to be in a tangled condition when they overhaul it this morning. Traps set close inshore were the hardest hit and little loss is expected among traps set in deeper water. Seas were calm on Sunday and no difficulty is expected in putting out to sea this morning.

High winds and heavy seas also caused damage to traps in the Rustico area over the weekend, but how much was uncertain last night. High seas in the bay at Rusticoville forced some fishermen to shelter their boats at Rustico.

DEATHS

MACFADYEN — At the P.E.I. Hospital Saturday, June 11, 1966, Peter K. MacFadyen of West Royalty, formerly of Riverdale, in his 97th year. Resting at the MacLean Funeral Home until noon Tuesday, June 14, then to Bonshaw United Church for funeral service commencing at 2 p.m. Interment in the Appin Road Cemetery. Visiting hours 24, 7-10 p.m.

IRLAM — At the P.E.I. Hospital June 11, 1966, T.G. Irlam, 36 Kent Street, in his 80th year. Resting at the Cuthrie Funeral Home until noon today, then to Trinity United Church for service commencing at 2 o'clock. Interment in Floral Hills Memorial Gardens. In lieu of flowers, contributions to the Canadian Heart Foundation would be appreciated.

LOCKE — At the Prince County Hospital June 12, 1966, Charles Locke of New London in his 81st year. Remains resting at the Davison Funeral Home until Tuesday, then to St. Thomas Church, Spring Brook, where funeral service will be held at 3 p.m. Interment in the church cemetery. Visiting hours, 24 and 7-9.

Island News Page

Western and Central Districts

The Guardian, Charlottetown, Mon., June 13 1966. 3

Five-Car Pileup Occurs Saturday

SUMMERSIDE — The Borden RCMP reported a five-car pile-up late Saturday night at Seven Mile Bay turn.

A 1957 Ford driven by Phillip Ralph Lattues of Victoria, is reported to have lost control on the almost 90 degree turn and as a result went across the highway and ran into a number of cars parked on the lot in front of St. Peter's Hall.

Damaged along with the Lattues vehicle were a 1956 Chevrolet owned by Albert O'Connor Wood, Seven Mile Bay; 1964 Pontiac owned by William Wesley Trainor, Emerald; 1958 Chevrolet owned by William Hilton Bell, Albany and a 1964 Comet owned by Richard Wayne Henderson of Borden.

All four vehicles on the lot were unoccupied and total damage to the five was estimated at $2,500. Mr. Lattues, who was the lone occupant in his vehicle, suffered only bruises.

The Borden detachment also reported two breaks at Crapaud Thursday night. Broken into were the Crapaud Creamery and Waddell Bros. store with only a small amount of money taken. Entry into both establishments was gained by smashing a window. Investigation is continuing.

Beatniks Attend Graham Crusade

LONDON (AP) — A dozen long-haired London beatniks and their mini-skirted girls went to Billy Graham's crusade meeting here and two of the youths were among the first making public commitments of Christ.

The U.S. evangelist chatted with the beatnik group before the meeting.

"He told me I had a fine beard too," said Robert Wilson, a New Zealander.

Billy Graham's subject was God's delinquents and many of those he talked to wore skin-tight jeans, loafers, sweat shirts and dark glasses. Graham estimated about 60 per cent of the 22,500 present were under 25 years old.

BASED ON OLD STORY — Graham based his preaching on the old story of Samson and Delilah.

"There's nothing wrong with sex," the preacher said. "It's hot a sin. But its wrong use is a sin. Sex outside marriage is a sin."

When the time came for those ready to make a commitment to come to the front, two long-haired youths shambled out from the beatnik group. Next came two girls from a club in Soho (London's bohemian area).

Soon whole families were behind them.

"This is harvest time in England," said Graham.

The night's number of commitments or decisions for Christ, as the evangelist calls them, beat all records for the London crusade to date at 1,254.

So far 155,368 have attended the London crusade meetings.

"I think the crusade is now gaining momentum," said Graham. "I think this shows a great hunger for God."

There's nothing wrong with sex," the preacher said. "It's hot a sin. But its wrong use is a sin. Sex outside marriage is a sin."

When the time came for those ready to make a commitment to come to the front, two long-haired youths shambled out from the beatnik group. Next came two girls from a club in Soho (London's bohemian area).

Soon whole families were behind them.

"This is harvest time in England," said Graham.

The night's number of commitments or decisions for Christ, as the evangelist calls them, beat all records for the London crusade to date at 1,254.

So far 155,368 have attended the London crusade meetings.

"I think the crusade is now gaining momentum," said Graham. "I think this shows a great hunger for God."

There's nothing wrong with sex," the preacher said. "It's hot a sin. But its wrong use is a sin. Sex outside marriage is a sin."

When the time came for those ready to make a commitment to come to the front, two long-haired youths shambled out from the beatnik group. Next came two girls from a club in Soho (London's bohemian area).

Soon whole families were behind them.

"This is harvest time in England," said Graham.

The night's number of commitments or decisions for Christ, as the evangelist calls them, beat all records for the London crusade to date at 1,254.

So far 155,368 have attended the London crusade meetings.

Romanian Red Leader Suggests Pact Abolition

BUCHAREST (Reuters)—Nicola Ceausescu, Romanian Communist party leader, called Saturday for the abolition of NATO and the Warsaw Pact to enable the countries of Europe to establish relations on a new basis.

"This is the way to security in Europe," he added in a speech in Ploesti, during a tour of Romania's Arges region, as reported by the Romanian news agency Agerpress.

Western observers regarded Ceausescu's call as the most emphatic statement yet on the abolition of military pacts, a common feature of Romanian policy pronouncement during the last two years.

It also was the first time the Romanian leader has publicly referred directly by name to NATO and the seven-member Warsaw Pact in calling for the abolition of military treaties.

Ceausescu said it is time to end the two pacts "so that relations on a new basis can be established between the European countries."

CO-OPERATION BLOCKED — "We hold that peoples can live in peace in Europe," he said. "The military blocs are an obstacle to co-operation among people."

But he added: "Of course, as long as the NATO aggressive bloc continues to exist, our country like the other members of the Warsaw Treaty will heighten its vigilance to increase its defence capacity."

In Moscow, the call was seen as a long-term aim, rather than a serious immediate objective.

Soviet observers said this was not very different from what the Soviet Union has said.

They said Ceausescu's remarks could mean an easing of the known policy strains between the two countries, although more time and more evidence will be needed for definite conclusions.

Romania's relations with the U.S.S.R. are likely to undergo further strain when Chinese Prime Minister Chou En-lai visits Bucharest later this month.

If Chou is permitted to use Bucharest as a base for attacks on Soviet policy, however veiled they may be, the city's candidacy for a reported summit meeting of Warsaw Pact leaders next month could be endangered.

CEAUSESCU WARNED — Sources said Leonid Brezhnev, pact countries, that Romania leader, warned Ceausescu of the possible consequences when he unexpectedly flew to Bucharest last month after the Romanian leader's statement five weeks ago that the abolition of military blocs would help reduce international tension.

In East Germany, observers said Ceausescu's speech appeared to be a direct blow to recent intensive Soviet efforts to unify the East European countries behind the policy of bolstering their military alliance.

His outspoken demand seemed certain to raise tension among the Warsaw Pact members in view of next month's summit meeting.

In Warsaw, reports said Poland viewed with dismay any move to weaken the pact.

Poland still regards West Germany as the major threat to peace in Europe and relies for its defence guarantees against West Germany on the Soviet alliance in the pact.

WOULD SEEK NEW PACT — If the Warsaw Pact were to be watered down, then Poland might press for a northern alliance-binding East Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia and the Soviet Union.

The Warsaw Pact was signed May 14, 1955, after West Germany became a member of NATO, and links its members in a 20-year mutual defence treaty.

Its original members were the Soviet Union, Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Poland and Romania, although in recent years Pro-Peking Albania has taken no active part.

The treaty provides for immediate assistance to any member state attacked and for a unified military command of the members' armed forces.

MARKED CLIMAX — Ceausescu's speech was the climax to a controversy suddenly thrown into relief when Brezhnev made his mystery-shrouded visit to Bucharest May 10 for talks with the Romanian leader.

On Brezhnev's return home, there were reports quoting Romanian sources in Moscow as saying Romania was urging drastic revision of the pact's structure.

The Romanian foreign office denied some parts of the reports—that Romania said it was no longer necessary for Soviet troops to be stationed in other pact countries, that Romania would not continue to contribute to the cost of stationing these troops, or that it had suggested bilateral agreements on this perhaps a member from the West should move an amendment specifying that at least three members be of English descent.

Marcel Lambert (PC—Edmonton West), speaking in French, told Mr. Mongrain his approach would harm French-language minorities outside Quebec.

Mr. Mongrain said the best way to oppose separatism is to codify biculturalism in the law.

what the Soviet Union has said.

They said Ceausescu's remarks could mean an easing of the known policy strains between the two countries, although more time and more evidence will be needed for definite conclusions.

Romania's relations with the U.S.S.R. are likely to undergo further strain when Chinese Prime Minister Chou En-lai visits Bucharest later this month.

If Chou is permitted to use Bucharest as a base for attacks on Soviet policy, however veiled they may be, the city's candidacy for a reported summit meeting of Warsaw Pact leaders next month could be endangered.

CEAUSESCU WARNED — Sources said Leonid Brezhnev, pact countries, that Romania leader, warned Ceausescu of the possible consequences when he unexpectedly flew to Bucharest last month after the Romanian leader's statement five weeks ago that the abolition of military blocs would help reduce international tension.

In East Germany, observers said Ceausescu's speech appeared to be a direct blow to recent intensive Soviet efforts to unify the East European countries behind the policy of bolstering their military alliance.

topic between each country and the Soviet Union.

Monday, the Warsaw Pact defence and foreign ministers met secretly in Moscow to prepare for a communist summit meeting in July at which Romania's show of independence is expected to be a key issue.

Romania's relations with the U.S.S.R. are likely to undergo further strain when Chinese Prime Minister Chou En-lai visits Bucharest later this month.

If Chou is permitted to use Bucharest as a base for attacks on Soviet policy, however veiled they may be, the city's candidacy for a reported summit meeting of Warsaw Pact leaders next month could be endangered.

CEAUSESCU WARNED — Sources said Leonid Brezhnev, pact countries, that Romania leader, warned Ceausescu of the possible consequences when he unexpectedly flew to Bucharest last month after the Romanian leader's statement five weeks ago that the abolition of military blocs would help reduce international tension.

In East Germany, observers said Ceausescu's speech appeared to be a direct blow to recent intensive Soviet efforts to unify the East European countries behind the policy of bolstering their military alliance.

His outspoken demand seemed certain to raise tension among the Warsaw Pact members in view of next month's summit meeting.

In Warsaw, reports said Poland viewed with dismay any move to weaken the pact.

Poland still regards West Germany as the major threat to peace in Europe and relies for its defence guarantees against West Germany on the Soviet alliance in the pact.

WOULD SEEK NEW PACT — If the Warsaw Pact were to be watered down, then Poland might press for a northern alliance-binding East Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia and the Soviet Union.

The Warsaw Pact was signed May 14, 1955, after West Germany became a member of NATO, and links its members in a 20-year mutual defence treaty.

Its original members were the Soviet Union, Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Poland and Romania, although in recent years Pro-Peking Albania has taken no active part.

The treaty provides for immediate assistance to any member state attacked and for a unified military command of the members' armed forces.

MARKED CLIMAX — Ceausescu's speech was the climax to a controversy suddenly thrown into relief when Brezhnev made his mystery-shrouded visit to Bucharest May 10 for talks with the Romanian leader.

On Brezhnev's return home, there were reports quoting Romanian sources in Moscow as saying Romania was urging drastic revision of the pact's structure.

The Romanian foreign office denied some parts of the reports—that Romania said it was no longer necessary for Soviet troops to be stationed in other pact countries, that Romania would not continue to contribute to the cost of stationing these troops, or that it had suggested bilateral agreements on this perhaps a member from the West should move an amendment specifying that at least three members be of English descent.

Marcel Lambert (PC—Edmonton West), speaking in French, told Mr. Mongrain his approach would harm French-language minorities outside Quebec.

Mr. Mongrain said the best way to oppose separatism is to codify biculturalism in the law.

what the Soviet Union has said.

They said Ceausescu's remarks could mean an easing of the known policy strains between the two countries, although more time and more evidence will be needed for definite conclusions.

Romania's relations with the U.S.S.R. are likely to undergo further strain when Chinese Prime Minister Chou En-lai visits Bucharest later this month.

If Chou is permitted to use Bucharest as a base for attacks on Soviet policy, however veiled they may be, the city's candidacy for a reported summit meeting of Warsaw Pact leaders next month could be endangered.

CEAUSESCU WARNED — Sources said Leonid Brezhnev, pact countries, that Romania leader, warned Ceausescu of the possible consequences when he unexpectedly flew to Bucharest last month after the Romanian leader's statement five weeks ago that the abolition of military blocs would help reduce international tension.

In East Germany, observers said Ceausescu's speech appeared to be a direct blow to recent intensive Soviet efforts to unify the East European countries behind the policy of bolstering their military alliance.

His outspoken demand seemed certain to raise tension among the Warsaw Pact members in view of next month's summit meeting.

In Warsaw, reports said Poland viewed with dismay any move to weaken the pact.

Poland still regards West Germany as the major threat to peace in Europe and relies for its defence guarantees against West Germany on the Soviet alliance in the pact.

WOULD SEEK NEW PACT — If the Warsaw Pact were to be watered down, then Poland might press for a northern alliance-binding East Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia and the Soviet Union.

The Warsaw Pact was signed May 14, 1955, after West Germany became a member of NATO, and links its members in a 20-year mutual defence treaty.

Its original members were the Soviet Union, Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Poland and Romania, although in recent years Pro-Peking Albania has taken no active part.

The treaty provides for immediate assistance to any member state attacked and for a unified military command of the members' armed forces.

MARKED CLIMAX — Ceausescu's speech was the climax to a controversy suddenly thrown into relief when Brezhnev made his mystery-shrouded visit to Bucharest May 10 for talks with the Romanian leader.

On Brezhnev's return home, there were reports quoting Romanian sources in Moscow as saying Romania was urging drastic revision of the pact's structure.

Ruby Claims Not Insane

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Is Jack Ruby insane?

Was he out of his mind when he killed Lee Harvey Oswald, the man accused of assassinating President John F. Kennedy?

The middle-aged former night club operator says he is not insane.

A formal hearing to decide whether Ruby dies in the electric chair.

It is more than 2½ years since Ruby pulled a pistol and aimed Oswald before a television audience of millions. He remains outwardly calm, playing dominoes, reading the Bible and doing occasional pushups in the Dallas County jail as he awaits the final court decision.

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals said May 1 that a sanity hearing must be held before it could consider Ruby's appeal from his 1964 conviction.

In a surprise move, Ruby's current lawyers Thursday asked for the withdrawal of a 1964 affidavit filed by Ruby's sister, Mrs. Eva Grant, in which she said he was insane. The lawyers claimed that the May 18 ruling was based on the affidavit and that its withdrawal would in effect remove the necessity of a sanity hearing.

Twenty-five thousand people will be in the Meredith march when it reaches Jackson, Miss., Dr. Martin Luther King predicted Sunday.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

By DON McKEE. BATESVILLE, Miss. (AP)—

Twenty-five thousand people will be in the Meredith march when it reaches Jackson, Miss., Dr. Martin Luther King predicted Sunday.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

It will rival the Alabama pilgrimage from Selma to Montgomery.

WHY DAIRY FOODS ARE YOUR BEST FOOD VALUE

Dairy foods are good foods. Milk is often called "nature's most nearly perfect food" because the minerals, proteins and vitamins contained in milk are found in no other single food.

Milk can't be made by machines. No one has yet invented a substitute for the dairy cow nor the many skills of the dairy farmer. Yet compared to most other foods, dairy foods have remained fairly constant in price.

Since May 1954, to the beginning of 1966, in most Canadian markets, the aggregate increase in home delivered milk (standard homo) has increased only 5 cents a quart.

In the same period, the dairy farmer shipping to these markets received only 2 cents per quart more for the milk produced on his farm. And yet the costs of farm operation have increased a great deal. So much so, that dairy farmers are leaving their farms at the rate of 10,000 each year. This could result in a future shortage of dairy foods and increased consumer prices.

Canada's dairy industry is vital to our economic and nutritional health. If dairy foods cost a little more than they used to, they'll still be your best food buy.

80 Eglinton Avenue East, Toronto 12, Ontario

Get $100 for every $75 with six-year Scotiabank Savings Certificates

Buy as little as $10 worth or as much as you like—cashable any time.

THE BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA

SERVE NATURE'S COOL REFRESHER

Smart homemakers include in the daily menu fine dairy products made from milk.

June represents the beginning of a new year for the dairy industry and guarantees an abundance of healthful, nourishing dairy foods throughout the year.

P.E.I. DAIRYMEN'S ASSOC. P.E.I. FLUID MILK ASSOC.