David represented the Mill of Beaton & MacRae in Winsloe.

The Shur-Gain Amateur Cavalcade a Public Feature of the Shur-Gain Feed Manufacturers Association was started some four years ago to cater to the children of the Rural areas of P. E. I.

The program takes the following form. It is sponsored by local groups on the Country who are given all the receipts from the sale of tickets. The sponsoring Mill donates the Prize Money to the amount of Twenty Dollars. Six winners are selected by Judges in the Country Halls and these represent the Mill on the Air Show over C.F.C.Y.

The Studio Audience decides by Ballot which one is best and that winner becomes a semi-finalist. After seven country stage shows have been held and a winner declared from each, a semi-finals playoff is held with the winner receiving a prize of Fifty Dollars. At the end of the Season the semi-finalist appear as finalist for a prize of One Hundred Dollars.

The Shur-Gain Amateur Cavalcade is directed by Eric Jessome of Margate, P. E. I. and is broadcast from the stage of the Capitol Theatre in Charlottetown. Last year sponsoring groups throughout the rural areas aggragated more than Four Thousand Dollars in receipts for their funds.

The Y's Men sponsored an All Star Show very successfully. More than Six Hundred Children appeared on the Stage, and some Two Hundred performed on the air over station C.F.C.Y. More than One Thousand Dollars in prize money was awarded by the Shur-Gain Feed Manufacturers Association.

The Program is on the Air from early Fall till Spring every season and is broadcast at 4.30 p. m. on Saturdays.

The Manufacturers of Shur-Gain on P. E. I. wish to thank each and every one who made the Shur-Gain Amateur Cavalcade such a success this past year.

N. B. Man Learns About Big Cities

MONTREAL (CP)—Regis Morneault, 53, of the little farming town of St. Jacque, Madawaska county, N. B., has decided people in big cities aren't as trustworthy as those in small towns.

Two youths were acquitted at preliminary hearing Tuesday of stealing Morneault's car and he declined to prosecute them on a lesser charge of taking it without permission.

Morneault said he had picked up the youths—Jean Paul Belisle, 24, and Fred Savoie, 23.—May 18 and asked them for guidance to a hospital where he was scheduled to undergo treatment. The youths later appeared at his hospital window, told him he hadn't locked his car properly, and Morneault tossed them the keys. The car disappeared, was reported stolen, and was found back in the hospital parking lot later.

Police said they arrested the two youths on foot and found they had kept Morneault's car registration, although the keys were back in the car.

Judge Armand Cloutier ruled there were no grounds for a car-theft charge and Morneault refused to file the lesser charge because he was ready to go home and did not want to prolong his stay here or return later.

"If you ever lose your way in Montreal again," Judge Cloutier said, "better ask a policeman for directions."
