

To Describe Planning Of National Capital

The National Capital Plan for Ottawa will be told in detail here by Mr. Walter B. Bowker, (above) Director of Information of the National Capital Planning Commission, when he visits this city March 24 as part of his tour of the Maritime Provinces.

Mr. Bowker, a native of England, is a keen photographer and his lecture here will be illustrated by many of the color slides he has made of the work to be done at the Capital. A former newspaperman, he served overseas in the past war and on his return to Canada joined the National Film Board. He was borrowed from the latter to prepare a program of public information regarding the plan for the Capital and since 1947 has been connected with this project.

Brooder House Destroyed By Fire

What might have ended in a tragedy was narrowly averted yesterday at 1 p.m. when a flooded oil brooder exploded on the farm of Mr. Parker Wood on St. Peter's Road, setting fire to the brooder house.

Mr. Wood had just completed placing 500 chicks under the brooder when he found that the stove was not taking oil. As he removed the pipe to check on the fault, a blast of flaming oil hurled the stove from its location. He endeavored to push the stove ahead of him out the door where it jammed, and for a few horrifying moments his escape was cut off.

A neighbour arriving in the nick of time grappled with the stove from the outside and Mr. Wood reached the open air and safety just as the interior of the small brooder house became a mass of flames. Chicks and brooder house were a total loss.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear husband, William T. Ling, who departed from this life on March 22nd, 1952. One year ago you left me. How well I recall the sorrow that it gave me. For the one so loved by all. How much for you I have grieved. No one will ever know But I pray you are still happy Since God has willed it so. Ever remembered by his wife Cora.

Leaving in May To Visit Europe

Departmental business will be combined with Rotary Club activities when Mr. R. C. Parent above, superintendent of the Experimental Farm here, travels to Europe early in May. Mr. Parent will leave here May 8th en route to Paris to attend the International Rotary convention there.

It will be his first visit overseas and he expects to see the Coronation parade and pay working visits to Scotland and Northern Ireland.

Following the Rotary convention in Paris Mr. Parent will visit several French agricultural institutes and also plans on seeing Versailles and the Canadian War Memorial at Vimy Ridge. After that he will be in London from May 29th till June 16th.

His program in England will be a full one due to the courtesy of Mr. Darke, agricultural adviser to the British High Commissioner in Canada, who has here recently. He has arranged through the Department of Agriculture at Whitehall for Mr. Parent to see some of the world's outstanding agricultural centres. One of them will be Rothamstead, the oldest and most famous in Britain. The head of that institute is Sir William Ogg who visited the local Experimental Farm two years ago and planted an oak tree. Sir William at that time was in Canada with a British Agricultural Mission.

Other Activities Among other places in England Mr. Parent will visit at Kew Gardens, the Dairy Research Institute at Hurlay and the Artificial Insemination Unit at Shinwell. He will also spend a weekend with Dr. D. Akinhead, Reading, who is head of the Commonwealth Bureau of Horticulture and who was a visitor to this Province last year. He will be particularly interested in learning many of the details of the administration of the Institutes he visits, dairy research, pasture investigations and the special Scottish potato breeding station outside Edinburgh. Mr. Parent is charged with keeping complete records of his department as well as a picture file. For this purpose he is taking two cameras with him, one for color photos and the other for black and white. After leaving England Mr. Parent will travel to Scotland, arriving at Edinburgh on June 15th where he will hold discussions with agricultural officials at St. Andrew's House. Among other activities there he will visit Aberdeen, the Rowett and Macaulay Research Institutes, Balmoral, the Royal Highland Show at Alloa, the Hannah Dairy Research Institute at Ayr. He will also pay a call at the farm of Lord Rowallan near Kilmarnock. His Lordship is the Chief Scout and Mr. Parent is a former Provincial Commissioner of the Boy Scouts here.

Will Visit Belfast

A three-day visit will be made to Belfast, Ireland, where he expects to visit many agricultural centres under the direction of Mr. J. Young of Loughborough Agricultural College. On return he will sail from Liverpool on the S.S. Newfoundland and will make his first visit to the Old Colony to observe the work of the Experimental Station there.

Mr. Parent, who will be accompanied by Mrs. Parent, expects to be absent from the Province for approximately two months. On their way overseas they will spend a few days in Boston visiting relatives before sailing from New York on the Mauretania. The Rotary Club has chartered ships for transportation and Dr. Darke, through the British office has arranged hotel accommodation.

Discuss Plans For Scout Jamboree

Plans for the 2nd Canadian Jamboree at Ottawa this summer were discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the Provincial Council of the Boy Scouts Association held yesterday. The Prince Edward Island contingent will consist of 33 Scouts of at least First Class rank and three leaders.

Open Agency For Farm Machinery On Great George St.

Two enterprising young brothers from Hope River, Patrick J. and Thomas M. Bolger have secured the agency for several farm necessities with a national reputation, and have opened a place of business at 203 Great George Street under the firm name of Charlottetown Farm Supplies.

While De Laval separators occupy a premier position in the farm equipment on hand, the firm also carries Milk Coolers, Milkers, Water Systems and all the necessary parts for servicing.

Mr. Patrick J. Bolger, senior member of the firm brings to the organization considerable experience obtained in Toronto and Windsor while engaged in the sales and servicing of farm equipment.

Music Festival Ass'n, Charlottetown

Question - Last week in this column you asked for ideas as to how both audience and performers could be seated in order to see and hear the final concert programmes. The solution is so obvious that it seems to me to need no pointing out. If F.W.C. auditorium where these concerts have been held persons small, why not hire one of the theatres, or even the Forum? B.F.M.

Dear B.F.M. It may be a surprise to you to learn that the capacity of the Prince Edward, our largest theatre, is only 800 and that no other hall larger than F.W.C. exists in our city at the present time.

The possibilities of the Forum have also not been overlooked by your committee but major obstacles here are the cost and the fact this building cannot be heated and this might be an absolute necessity in early May.

If and when a high school is erected here it is hoped an auditorium capable of seating 2,000 persons will be included in the plan, for if such were available on occasions as these, one of the many problems faced by your Concert Committee would be solved.

Wonderful Record In Play Directing

The first lady of the stage in Charlottetown, Mrs. Ruby Houle, (above) said last night that she is directing her last production after nearly 60 years of appearing before the public.

Now 75 years of age, she has been giving readings since she was 15 and has been seen in countless plays with such well known local performers as the late William Whitlock, Mr. J. Austin Trainer and many imported professional leading men.

She was given the Canadian Drama Award in 1936 for her outstanding work in the field of Canadian drama. One of her most popular productions has been that of Anne of Green Gables which she has staged many times in all parts of the Province. At present she is producing "Fires of Spring" with a cast of teenagers and it will be presented Monday at Hertz Memorial Hall. She says it will be her last.

For the past nine years she has been directing plays of the Trinity United Church Young People. In early life she taught public speaking and elocution at St. Dunstan's University. She is a past president of the Rebekah Assembly for the Maritimes Province, an office she assumed in 1931 and visited all lodges in the Maritimes. She is also a past Provincial President of the P. E. I. Protestant Orphanage.

The Week at S.D.U.

Last Saturday and Monday were our days of reckoning as the authorities in their own little ways required an account of our stewardship. We speak of the mid-term exams of course. It seems difficult to believe but we are now on the home-stretch with just a little over two months remaining in the term, and less than a week and a half before the Easter holidays. Extra-academic activities are now on the decline and especially since the exams everyone has received that extra impetus for a renewed and greater effort on the studies. In the confusion of last week's preparations, one of the things neglected was last Saturday's "Week", in which we meant to tell you among other things, of the Philosophers' Banquet on St. Thomas Aquinas' feast, and the basketball game with St. P. X.

Last weekend, Father Allan MacDonald, the devoted local University adviser for the local World University Service of Canada, attended the Maritime Regional Conference of the W. U. S. C. at St. Mary's University in Halifax. There are about eight committees of this national organization in the different Maritime universities, and these have always been, and are a strong factor in realizing the objectives of the W.U.S.C. The business of this conference centered particularly around the forthcoming Summer Seminar in India, and in deciding on the future financial policy of the Maritime W.U.S.C. The dates of the complete Seminar trip have now been tentatively set from May 27th until September 16th, and the location of the Seminar proper at Bangalore in southern India. This early date has been decided on in order that the delegates may attend the Coronation ceremonies in London on June 2. Applications received will be considered by a local selection committee of faculty and student representatives, and their choice made the first of next week, will then be referred to the National Office in Toronto for final confirmation around April 7th.

The first basketball team has won the admiration of Maritime fans for their recent feats against the powerful Xaverians. They were singularly successful in winning the N. B. - P. E. I. series without losing a game and in setting a scoring record for Maritime basketball. In their first game with St. P. X. in the College gym they lost by the slim margin of 43-46. This was by far the best game ever played here and a very hard one to lose since the scoring was so close throughout.

In Antigonish on Wednesday night they lost again by three points, this time the score being 64-61. This game was rated by fans as one of the best ever played at St. P. X., and that's saying a lot! High scorers for the Saints were Reardon, Dorais and Taylor with 27 points, 13 and 11 respectively. Bob McMooney was fourth with 5, while Joe Mullyally had 2, Cy McIsaac 2 and Earl MacKinnon 1. Jackie Reardon, the Maritime basketball king had an average scoring tally of 22 points for these games and this with some of the closest guarding possible.

Promoted To Rank Of Lieutenant

Word has been received of the recent promotion to the rank of Lieutenant, Royal Canadian Infantry Corps, of Mr. D. F. Sigsworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Sigsworth, of Charlottetown. Mr. Sigsworth, a member of the St. Dunstan's University contingent of Canadian Officer's Training Corps for two years, was commissioned second Lieutenant in October, 1951. His promotion came while he was on the strength of the Loyola College contingent, C.O.T.C., and followed tour of duty with the Second Canadian Highland Battalion in which he commanded the assault, Pioneer platoon in the support company. Mr. Sigsworth is at present a member of the faculty of Loyola College in Montreal.

as the decisions reached during this time of reflection, may well shape one's entire future. This is a closed retreat, in order that silence may better aid the grains of thought obtained from the Retreat Master's conferences and spiritual reading, to grow into fruition.

Thought for the week: "Silence is the element in which great things fashion themselves together; that at length they may emerge, full-formed and majestic, into the daylight of Life, which they are henceforth to rule." - Carlyle in Sartor Resartus.
