Saints Clinch Hoop Title With 61-51 Win Over UNB

Saint Dunstan's Varsity Saints secured the N.B.-P.E.I. Intercollegiate Basketball League crown Saturday by defeating UNB Red Raiders 61-51 in one of the most thrilling performances ever seen at SDU.

The Saints needed to win by two or more points to clinch the title and in their previous clash with the New Brunswick collegians had lost 51-42.

With thirty seconds remaining in the game Saints were leading 57-51 and it appeared as if the championship was slipping away but then Bob Francoeur was awarded two foul shots and made both to make the score read 59-51, still two points short of their goal.

The UNB Cagers then grabbed the ball and tried to run out the clock, thus losing the game but winning the championship but one of the UNB players was fouled on and missed in his attempt.

Saints got the rebound and with two seconds remaining Francoeur let go with a lefthanded hook shot from about fifteen feet out that sailed through the hoop to clinch the two-province crown.

FRANCOEUR STARS

Francoeur, hero of the game with his title winning basket, was also top scorer for the Saints with 25 points. Don DesRoches swished the twines for 15 and Joe Sassi 10.

Top sniper for UNB was MacLellan with 14 points followed by Tomchak with 11.

Halftime score was 28-19 in favor of Saints.

Saints now meet the Nova Scotia series winners, presumably, the powerful Acadia Axemen with the first game of the best of three series slated for the home of the N.S. winner March 2. The second and if necessary third games will be played here March 8th and 9th. The Maritime champ travels to Windsor Ontario to compete in the National Championships.

George McGuigan and Scott Stewart handled Saturday's game, calling a total of 24 fouls, 14 against UNB.

Lineups are as follows: —

Saints — Sassi 10, Francoeur 25, Garrity 5, DesRoches 15, Farrell 6. Total — 61.

UNB — MacLellan 14, Hanusiak, Harvey 8, Tomchak 11, Labonte 9, Lay 9, Reddin. — Total 51.

Fast Times Feature Causeway Race Card

Another large crowd jammed the North River causeway to watch the 7th Victoria Driving Club-sponsored ice racing program of the season Saturday afternoon. Ideal weather and a near perfect track enabled the horses to step fast times with the best of the card being 29 set by "Midnight Sun.

Midnight Sun, recently purchased by Ray Sudsbury of Charlottetown, was first to the wire in three dashes but was set back to fifth place in the opener for beating the gate. Jollity's Pride, driven by Don MacNeill moved to first place after the setback.

Other double dash winners on the card were True Marion, Fur Amnway and Queen's Irving. Partner's Dream took one dash of the opening race.

In the third race Jolly Lass lost a shoe in her first outing and fell as she came to the wire, and was unable to race in the next dashes as she broke her sulky when she fell.

ANCIENT MESSENGER

Cameron Rink Wins Twice To Capture Curling Ch'ship

SUMMERSIDE — The Doug Cameron rink of Charlottetown defeated the champions, the Art Burke foursome, twice in a row at the Summerside Curling Club on Saturday to win the British Consols competition and qualify to represent Prince Edward Island in the Macdonald Brier to be held at Brandon, Manitoba, beginning March 4th.

The first game, which got underway at 2 P.M., was fitting climax to a week of fine curling. The Cameron rink, needed this one to stay in competition, led their opponents from the 3rd to the 9th end, but Burke, tying it up in the tenth and going two ahead in the eleventh, looked to have successfully turned back the challenge of the Cameron quartet.

Then a masterful rake-out shot in the twelfth gave Cameron two points and forced an extra end. High drama rode the rocks in that overtime session. An attempt at a double take-out early in the end almost succeeded but left a red Cameron rock biting the outer circle and this eventually proved disastrous to the Burke foursome. This biter and another red one on the button was what Burke had to contend with as he fired his last rock. Hitting the shot rock head on and staying was the trip to Brandon, but his stone was a shade to the left and he went out himself, making the red biter the margin of victory.

In the second game at 9 P.M. which ended 12-7 for Cameron, Burke's five-ender in the fifth gave him a 6-3 lead, but Cameron came right back with a four-ender in the sixth and was pretty much in command from then on in. Burke conceded half way through the twelfth end.

There wasn't much suspense in the latter stages of this contest, which proved a sort of anti-climax to the afternoon thriller.

Trophies were presented by Frank Bryan, president of the P.E.I. Curling Association, to all players of the four consolation winners. Chief Justice Campbell, trustee of the Brier and honorary president of the Summerside Curling Club, congratulated the winning Cameron rink, nothing that this was not the first time for them to represent the Island at the Macdonald Brier, and they had made the best showing of any Island rink. He expressed the belief that they would be worthy representatives again of Prince Edward Island.

SPORT ECHOES

A Gala Curling Week

Island Curling fans have had a gala week at the Summerside Curling Club. Naturally there have been some lopsided scores, but the proportion of close, exciting struggles was, we believe, higher than usual. Of the two semi-final and two final games, two were breath-takingly close, one was a good battle most of the way, and only one was a walk-over. Fans will not soon forget the battle Horace MacFarlane's rink waged against the defending champions, Art Burke's foursome, or the even more suspenseful first of the two final games between Burke and Cameron on Saturday.

They say he who laughs last laughs best, and Burke who was establishing a reputation for coolness under fire finally failed to come through when the Brandon trip was perched on his final rock. You can't win 'em all and Burke is indeed a pressure curler of note. We think Doug Cameron and his boys are also troubled very little with the butterfly problem and will make Island fans proud of their achievements at the Macdonald Brier. More power to their draws, guards, and take-outs.

The fact that a Charlottetown curling rink added another victory to their long string of triumphs in Island British Consol play was not exactly a stunning upset. Most people expected it. There were encouraging signs, however, that this long reign may be coming to a close. We don't remember any Summerside rink coming so close to getting into the finals as the rink skipped by Horace MacFarlane this year. There seem to be other signs of the narrowing of the gap.

When we see a curler miss an important shot in the eleventh or twelfth end we immediately think: "he choked up under pressure" but there is another angle to it which may depend on what kind of shape the curler is in. The boys naturally get tired towards the end of the game, and their co-ordination may slip a little. It may be fatigue, not nervous tension, that is the villain of deepest dye in the curling melodrama.

Moment Of Truth Approaches

In Intermediate "A" hockey we are approaching the moment of truth. Fans who go to Civic Stadium tonight, and we understand most everyone is going, will get a partial answer to the question? "Are the Eagles really birds of prey, or do the Prince County Combines combine enough speed, power, and finesse to come out victorious? If Eagles and Combines always win their home rinks, then the Combines will advance into the league finals. So the Eagles will be going all out for victory tonight, and the Combines, knowing it's a "now or never" proposition, will do their darndest to make it "now."

We're not mapping out strategy for the Combines, but we'll make a guess that Cudcliffe's charges will be out to "ground" the RCAF boys with a lot of stiff body-checks. By the way, Lucan Allen, Summerside's oldest living hockey player will drop the first puck, and he will be escorted to centre ice by the president of the league, Dr. Hillard Clark.

Last Week's Bouquet

A word of praise for Penguins' Donnie Frizzell,
His work made Royals' first attempt a fizzle,

But the march of the Cameron men
Gets the posies from our pen;
They throw a rock just like a guided missile.

Last Week's Brickbat

Athletes react to criticism in different ways,
Blast one, it stiffens his resolve, and then he plays
Far better than he ever did before;
Berate another, and he grovels on the floor,
Whining for sympathy, support, unearned bouquets.
