Canada's Death Rate Lowest In History

OTTAWA, Oct. 3 — (CP) — Canada's death rate in 1950 was the lowest on record, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The rate was 8.9 per 1,000 population compared with 9.2 in 1949 and an average of 9.8 in the five years from 1941 to 1945.

Births dropped slightly in 1950 for the third successive year, but marriages were higher.

Infant mortality hit a low of 41 per 1,000 live births in 1950. Compared with 43 in 1949 and a 1941-45 average of 55. Maternal mortality fell to 1.1 per 1,000 children born alive from 1.5 in 1949 and 2.9 in the 1941-45 period.

Deaths from all causes totalled 123,649 in 1950 against 124,047 in the previous year. Heart diseases took 38,718 lives compared with 35,536 in 1949. The toll from cancer was 16,548 compared with 15,732; tuberculosis 3,582 against 4,239 and accidents of all types 7,538 compared with 8,191.

Marriages rose to 124,733 from 123,877, but the rate was slightly lower at 9.0 per 1,000 population against 9.2.

The birth rate dropped to 26.8 from 27.1 in 1949, 27.2 in 1948 and 28.8 in 1947, the latter being the highest in the last 25 years. Despite the three-year decline, the rate was well above the average for the 1941-45 period of 23.6. The rate of natural increase was 17.9, unchanged from 1948 and 1949, but well above the 1941-45 average of 13.8 per 1,000 population.

Live births in 1950 totalled 370,978—4,439 more than in 1949—and only slightly under the record of 371,740 in 1947. Newfoundland's birth rate was the highest of the provinces at 34.5 per 1,000 population, followed by New Brunswick at 31.4, Prince Edward Island 30.1 (Quebec 29.9, Alberta 28.7, Nova Scotia 26.2, Saskatchewan 24.8, Ontario and Manitoba 24.1 and British Columbia 23.8).

The number of illegitimate live births was higher at 14,422 against 14,300 in 1949. By provinces the figures were: Newfoundland, 448; Prince Edward Island, 163; Nova Scotia, 1,184; New Brunswick, 689; Quebec, 2,703; Ontario, 2,754; Manitoba, 776; Saskatchewan, 919; Alberta, 1,186; British Columbia, 1,597.

estimated that stocks of cold storage eggs also dropped to 62,000 cases, compared with 105,000 a year ago. Cheddar cheese supplies totalled 22,463,000 pounds, against 21,274,000 in 1950.

What is the Miracle of Canada?

The miracle of Canada is the reward of its thrifty people; it is a standard of living wrought by men and women who believe in spending and saving wisely. The average Canadian, for example, owns his own car and his own home. He pays his bills when due. His pattern of living is excellent.

When the pattern breaks
But unexpected emergencies do break the pattern. Usually the emergency requires more money than he has available. This can happen to anyone. Then help must come from a dependable outside service.

3 out of 4 choose Household
HFC feels that no one should borrow unless a loan is the best solution to a money problem. Because HFC service is friendly, dependable, 3 out of 4 Canadian families prefer to borrow in amounts of $50 to $1000 from HOUSEHOLD FINANCE. Your telephone book lists the office nearest you.
