Opening lead—king of clubs.

In the nationals held in Detroit, I was playing with one of my favorite partners, who shall have to be nameless. Pitted against us in this hand were the legendary and ubiquitous Two Little Old Ladies.

The less said about the bidding the better, but we wound up at three notrump. The L.O.L. at the left of my illustrious partner maintained a demure silence during the bidding.

She opened the king of clubs. Dear partner ducked in dummy and won the six of clubs return with the ace. He tried the heart finesse, losing the queen to the king. The L.O.L. thereupon cashed her Q-J of clubs, bringing her side to four tricks, a spade and a heart being discarded meanwhile fromdummy.

Now the L.O.L. made an astonishing play. She led the queen of spades—ostensibly attacking dummy's king. My unfortunate partner, having observed that the L.O.L. on his left had already shown up with K-Q-J of clubs and king of hearts, naturally assumed that the ace of spades was on his right.

Furthermore, he could not imagine that West would fail to take the setting trick if she held the ace of spades. So he ducked the spade queen, hoping that the imminent sloughter in spades would not be too severe.

The L.O.L. now triumphantly produced the ace of spades and, as a result, we went down two. I happened to be watching my partner's face as the ace of spades was played, and it would be impossible to describe here the mixed emotions of dismay, shame, anger, and futility that permeated his countenance.

Moreover, when he realized that he would have made the contract had he played the king of spades, he began to shake his head sadly from side to side, and, in fact, the last time I saw him his head was still going to and fro.

When I asked the L.O.L. why she led the queen of spades, her answer really stumped me. She said: "What else could I lead with the A-Q-10 of spades?"

More Subsidy Is Required To Sell Coal To Japanese

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons mines committee was told Tuesday that Alberta coal producers can sell 100,000 tons of coking coal to Japan provided the federal government increases the subsidy on Alberta coal by $1.0[illegible] a ton.

D. B. Young, vice - president and general manager of Coleman Collieries, Coleman, Alta., said "we can get the business if we can meet the Japanese price through a subsidy."

Mr. Young said the Japanese have made a firm offer to buy coal from Alberta producers at $10 a ton loaded in Vancouver on Japanese ships. The lowest price at which Alberta producers could sell was $11.02 a ton.

"There is only a difference of $1.02 between our price and that offered by Japanese importers," Mr. Young said.

COKING COAL ONLY

If an additional subsidy was granted, the total federal subsidy on exports of Alberta coal would be $5.50 a ton.

Mr. Young said Japan is interested only in buying coking coal to be blended with Japanese coal. It now was buying substantial quantities from Australia at $10.06 a ton and a better-quality coal from the United States at $12 a ton.

Mr. Young said Japan imports about 4,000,000 tons of coal annually and plans to increase imports to about 9,000,000. This made it important for Canada to make an effort to obtain at least a part of this expanded market.

Highway To Yarmouth Advocated

OTTAWA (CP)—A Liberal senator from Nova Scotia stood Tuesday before a 300-year-old map and gave fellow senators a geography lesson to show how badly his province needs a new road.

The senator, J. J. Kinley, left his seat during a meeting of the Senate banking committee and marched over to a wall map drawn by 17th-century explorers.

Pointing with his finger, he said the Trans-Canada Highway passes from Amherst to North Sydney, leaving the southwest corner of the province untouched. Why not run a branch highway to Yarmouth, gateway to United States markets and a key tourist area?

Senator Gordon Isnor, Liberal, Nova Scotia, said the highway should run at least to Halifax.

The committee was discussing a bill amending the Trans-Canada Highway Act to allow an extra $100,000,000 expenditure, bringing the total permissible under the act to $350,000,000.

Replying to questions, G. B. Williams, chief engineer for the works department, said it will be impossible to complete the Trans-Canada Highway by the end of 1960. The act was signed in 1950.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X E
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints each day the code letters are different.
