EXTRAORDINARY FREAKS OF MARRIAGE.—The lovers of "romantic adventures," and "strange coincidence," will be entertained by a perusal of the following narrative, which appears in the Tyrone Constitution:—" In the village of Plumbridge, in this county, two rather curious episodes occurred at two weddings held there. In one case, the party was composed of the bride and bridegroom, accompanied by their 'best man,' &c. They proceeded on foot from the house of the bride's father, a man named McBride, living in Glenelly, towards the chapel of Plumbridge, where the priest was awaiting their arrival to unite them in holy matrimony. The bride was, as is usual in such cases, conducted by the 'best man,' and had gone about half way to the chapel, when the bridegroom, thinking perhaps that the bride was paying too much attention to her 'best man,' became jealous. Consequently the 'best man' was ordered away. A scuffle ensued, when the 'best man' was thrown off the road into a ditch. The bride took the part of the 'best man,' and refused to go with her 'intended.' She said she would not marry him, but would have her 'best man' for her husband. The 'best man' ran back to the father of the bride, related what had happened, and, as had been suggested by the bride, asked his consent to take the place of the 'jealous' bridegroom. The father of the girl agreed to this new arrangement, when both immediately proceeded to Strabane, got a licence, came back to Plumbridge, and met the bride, who had steadfastly refused to be married to her former pugilistic and jealous courtier. The next morning, in Plumbridge Roman Catholic Chapel, she got married to her 'best man' of the preceding day. The rejected one, feeling he had come to a serious loss by the fickle fair one, determined to seek compensation for damages sustained, and next day proceeded to the bride's father's house, and took an inventory of all his effects as a preparatory step to proceedings for a breach of promise, which he had directed an attorney to institute for £350 damages. Now for the second episode. On the same day, memorable in the local history of Plumbridge is the fact that another bridegroom, named Kane, was conveying a young widow, named Coyle, to the same chapel, and from the same place, when they were met by an old lover, named Conway, whose latent love for the fair dame once more burned so fiercely that he leaped off the car, whispered a few poetic words in her ear, which had the desired effect on her. Proving false to her husband elect, she went away with Conway, to whom she was married the next day."

TRUE NOBILITY—A MOMENTOUS QUESTION

All work, even cotton-spinning, is noble. Work is alone noble. "Be that here said and asserted once more," so Carlyle says. But we must remember that there are degrees in nobility. The highest nobility is the nobility of beneficence. An honest man, says the poet, is the noblest work of God. We have no hesitation in extending the apothegm. The noblest work of God is the man who is not only honest, but who does the greatest good. The greatest of all temporal blessings is Health. And as the mental condition is controlled by the physical, the effects of Health can hardly be regarded as terminating with a mere temporal benefit. Then who is the greatest of all human benefactors? He, obviously, who combines as to restore Health that has been deteriorated, and to preserve Health that is good. The secret of restoring and preserving Health has been the greatest aim of the modern philanthropist, as it was the philosopher's stone of the ancient alchemist.

That secret has been discovered, its discoverer proving himself thereby not only the greatest philosopher, but the greatest philanthropist the world ever saw. The question, "Who is he?" has been asked by millions, and answered to them, and they have rejoiced. Professor Holloway has conferred more blessings on humanity, than have all the soi-disant social reformers and pseudo-philanthropists the world ever saw. The fame of his Pills and Ointment has penetrated to the remotest confines of the earth, and their use has diffused Health, and all the happiness that follow Health, over countless households. From the icebound Capes of Lapland to the sunny shores of the Mediterranean, from the hoary summit of the Ural mountains to the Eastern shores of the Atlantic, there is not a city, town, or village of note, in which they are not met with. The missionary takes little else in his medicine-chest; the sailor never needs a more varied supply for his. They are peculiarly adapted to the diseases incidental to all climates. They have never failed here nor elsewhere. Friends: we indulge in no exaggeration; we defy contradiction, because we state what we know to be true. If you are ill, try these medicines, and then say whether our statements are baseless. We are confident of your decision.—Boston Bee.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are decidedly the best remedy for all disorders of the stomach and bowels, the liver and kidneys. They act with so decided an effect, and yet so gently, that people of the most delicate constitutions may take them with the most perfect confidence. They do not contain a single grain of mercury or other noxious substance, being composed exclusively of rare balsams. They are, therefore, equally safe and efficacious, and as a family medicine, nothing yet invented or discovered can be compared with them for a moment. With these inestimable Pills at hand together with the printed directions affixed to each box, no other medical advice or assistance can be needed in any ordinary case of sickness.

Ayer's Pills.

Are you sick, feeble and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system deranged and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills and cleanse out the disordered humors—purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and deranges its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering and derangement. While in this condition take Ayer's Pills and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and, with it, the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint is also true in many of the deep seated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly and many of them surely cured by the same means. None who know the virtue of these Pills will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure, such as Headache, Foul Stomach, Dysentry, Bilious Complaints, Indigestion, Derangement of the Liver, Costiveness, Constipation, Heartburn, Rheumatism, Dropsy, worms and suppression, when taken in large doses.

They are Sugar Coated, so that the most sensitive can take them easily, and they are surely the best purgative medicine yet discovered.

Ayer's Ague Cure.

For the speedy and certain Cure of Intermittent fever, or Chills and fever, Remittent Fever, Chill fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical Headache or Bilious Headache, and Bilious Fevers; indeed, for the whole class of diseases originating in biliary derangement, caused by the malaria of miasmatic countries.

This remedy has rarely failed to cure the severest cases of Chills and Fever, and it has this great advantage over other Ague medicines, that it subdues the complaint without injury to the patient. It contains no quinine or other deleterious substance, nor does it produce quinism or any injurious effect whatever. Shaking brothers of the army and the west, try it and you will endorse these assertions.

"OFFICIAL REPORT"

One of our Generals, in a recent report to the War Department, makes use of the following words: "I cannot close my report without saying a few words concerning the cavalry arm of our service. It is almost impossible for our men to keep our cavalry and artillery horses in good order on forced marches and long rides without some medicinal aid, and I would therefore suggest to you that a be issued to every cavalry and artillery soldier.

The cost is comparatively small, taking into consideration the price of horses, as I find from experience that they will not only keep them in good spirits, but they can travel farther, with more ease, with their aid. Let this be attended to."

The General is correct. No man can keep his stock in good condition without them. Get Carlton's Condition Powders.

Give them a fair trial, and you will at once see the benefit derived from them. Use CARLTON'S CONDITION POWDERS, and take no other. For sale by all merchants and druggists throughout the known world. Get our Almanac.

CHEAP GAS.

THE Directors of the Charlottetown Gas Light Company have reduced the price of GAS from 15s. to 10s. per thousand feet, when consumed in Gas Stoves, for cooking or heating purposes.

The Gas Stove used for heating purposes, surpass all other Stoves in cleanliness, safety, quickness of adaptation, as well as in economy.

The Gas Stoves, when used in Halls, radiate a warm and agreeable atmosphere throughout the whole house, and as the gas can, with the greatest safety, be left burning during excessive cold nights, it obviates the necessity of using stoves in the Bed-rooms throughout the dwelling, thus making one Gas Stove perform the same duty as five or six coal stoves when placed in the several Bed-rooms, and not only diminishing the risk of fire to the same extent, but also the cost of warming the various apartments, together with the yet greater benefit derived by enabling persons to discontinue the use of Bed-room fires, so highly injurious to health.
