

HAPPY WINNER, SAD LOSER

Los Angeles—The expressions after their battle for the heavy-weight championship was ended. Patterson, left, puts his arm around challenger Roy Marris for the 13th round. The Texan's handlers decided that Harris couldn't go on, although Harris said afterward, he wanted to continue. (AP Wirephoto)

Lots Of Fight Sites But No Suitable Opponents

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Manager Gus D'Amato discussed Colorado Springs, New York and London Tuesday as possible sites for subsequent title defenses by heavy weight champion Floyd Patterson.

"My only definite commitment is Colorado Springs," D'Amato said. "I have had several conferences with Governor Steve McNichols about making such a boxing match part of Colorado's centennial celebration next year."

"However, I've given only a verbal commitment. No contract has been signed and won't be until a suitable opponent is selected."

The manager, whose champion won with a 12th round knockout over Texan Roy Harris Monday night, said a London fight is possible as the next match for Patterson.

"When I left London," D'Amato said, "I told promoter Harry Levine that he could promote the next title defence if he could find a suitable opponent. I think he would want it only if a British fighter could be involved, although I don't rule out the possibility of a fighter from another country, meeting Patterson in London."

LENCE TO GET NOD

If Patterson fights again this year, D'Amato added, it probably will be under the promotion of Emil Lence of New York who staged Patterson's first successful defence against Hurricane Jackson in July, 1957, in New York. No site and no opponent has been selected, however, for another fight this year, the manager said.

Lence talked about leasing Madison Square Garden and suggested Nino Velde of Cuba as a possible opponent for Patterson. Velde has won his last five fights. Lence also talked about October or November for such a fight, with theatre television.

D'Amato added he is not ruling out Bill Rosenzweig as a promoter for another Patterson fight. Rosenzweig promoted Monday night's fight as his first venture in big-time boxing and says he wants to continue in the field.

Pittsburgh's "Big Poison" In Hospital After Seizure

OMAHA (AP) — Paul Waner, "Big Poison" of Pittsburgh Pirates a generation ago and a member of the Baseball Hall of Fame, is in an Omaha hospital after suffering a heart attack.

A left-handed right fielder from Harrah, Okla., Waner went to Pittsburgh from San Francisco in 1926. The little slugger—he stood five feet, eight inches and weighed 153—stayed with the Pirates through 1940 and with his younger brother, Lloyd, terrorized National League pitchers.

Omaha Cardinals Manager Bill Bergesch said doctors were worried about Waner's condition during the night but that the former slugger was improved Tuesday.

Waner, whose hits topped the magic 3,000 mark in two decades of play, was stricken in an Omaha hotel after attending a ball game. He has been a batting instructor for St. Louis Cardinals organization and was here to work with hitters of the Omaha American Association team, a Cardinal farm club.

Scientists Meet To Discuss Origin And Nature Of Life

MONTREAL (CP) — Fifteen hundred scientists from 47 countries, including Soviet Russia, converged on this city this week to discuss developments in a field of study attempting to uncover the origin, nature and development of life in man, animals and plants.

Both are elements which can be altered by radiation and which ultimately could produce forms of life vastly different from their ancestors.

First sessions of the 10th International Congress of Genetics start today, but in pre-meeting discussions the scientists talked of the "shaking up" ideas in genetics have received during the last decade.

Dr. Harold H. Smith of the Brookhaven National Laboratory in the United States said geneticists, more than any other group of scientists, appreciate the dangers of an over-load of radiation.

Genetics is the science of heredity—a branch of biology which has assumed great significance in the atomic age. It deals with the study of the gene and chromosome, the microscopic elements which form the physical basis of the transmission of "The geneticist can appreciate the long-range dangers, since the bodily defects which may follow radiation do not appear for several generations.

"It is these that man should learn to fear most, since they are hidden—for a time at least," he said.

Y's Men Nine Tip Kinsmen

The Y's Men little leaguers took the first game in the round-robin play-offs to decide the championship of Summerside at Queen Elizabeth Park yesterday morning defeating the Kinsmen by the convincing score of 22-11. Alan Gaudet went the route for the winners, giving up 19 hits. The Kinsmen used three mounds-men, Bill Dickie, Paul Gallant and Paul MacWilliams who were touched for 12 safe bingles.

For the Y's Men David Matheson led with the stick getting 3 hits in 3 tries. Brian McNeill hit 2 for 5, and Jackie Pate, 2 for 3. Bill Dickie was the most potent hickory — wielder for Kinsmen, getting 3 for 4. Paul Gallant and Sammy Wedge, 2 for 4, and Roger Richard, 2 for 5.

Paul Gallant, while playing at short, made one of the fanciest catches seen among the little leaguers this season. Jackie Pate in centerfield also made a sparkling grab.

Two Little League play-off games were rained out last night and there will be two games played this morning and one this evening.

Bomber Manager Offers Riders Package Deal

WINNIPEG (CP)—Jim Ausley, manager of Winnipeg Blue Bombers, said Tuesday he has offered Saskatchewan Roughriders a package deal, which would include import quarterback Eagle Day.

Ausley said he made the offer when he learned that Rider quarterback Frank Tripucka was injured Monday night. Tripucka suffered a shoulder separation and a doctor said the former Notre Dame player will be lost to the team for a minimum of three weeks.

Ausley said he could not reveal what players are involved in the proposed deal or what Bombers want in return. He said he expects to hear shortly from Rider officials on their decision.

PLAIN and FANCY DESSERTS

Creamy and rich-flavored... smooth and luxurious... desserts that look special, taste special, are hard for any family to resist. That's why you'll want to know about the unusual goodness that Carnation Evaporated Milk gives to even the simplest desserts. Carnation's double-richness makes such a wonderful difference in results. Take custard for instance. You'll scarcely believe how good custard can be, until you make it the failure-proof Carnation way. Double-rich Carnation assures custard that's never watery — always perfectly set, creamy-colored, rich-tasting. And Carnation's special blending qualities give smoothness not possible with any other form of milk.

cream. But remember to use Carnation. No other form of milk will do.

CREAM TROPICANA
(Makes 6 to 8 servings)
2 tablespoons flour
½ cup sugar
½ cup water
2 eggs, well beaten
Juice and grated rind of 1 orange
Juice and grated rind of 1 lemon
1 cup undiluted CARNATION EVAPORATED MILK

Sift flour and sugar together into saucepan. Mix water and eggs. Stir into sugar and flour; then add fruit juices and rinds. Stir constantly over low heat until thickened. Cool. Chill Carnation in freezing tray until soft crystals form through milk. Whip until stiff. Fold into egg mixture. Pile into dessert glasses and chill until serving time.

Delicious topping for custard: chocolate sauce, or frozen strawberries, or sliced fresh fruits.

FANCY ENOUGH FOR GUESTS—yet easy to prepare—that's what desserts are when you make them with Carnation, the double-rich milk that whips. Here's a perfect example of what I mean—Cream Tropicana. It's amazingly inexpensive, yet tastes as if you had made it with costly whipping CARNATION—the evaporated milk that makes desserts so special—also does marvels for coffee. Enjoy richer-flavored coffee—and save—with Carnation, the evaporated milk that tastes most like fresh cream.

Bold Ruler Now In New Career

PARIS, Ky. (AP)—Bold Ruler, thoroughbred racing's horse of the year in 1957, arrived at nearby Claiborne Farm Tuesday to enter a new career as a sire.

The Wheatley Stable's great handicap star was taken to a barn for examination and turned loose for a romp in the paddock.

Bolder Ruler will go to the stud in 1959 at Claiborne, the home of his famed pappy, Nasrullah. The four-year-old colt, toting 136 pounds, finished sixth in his last start July 26 in the Brooklyn Handicap and either injured an ankle in that race or in training.

Trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons announced 10 days later that Bold Ruler would be retired, saying "he's too good a horse to take chances with, so we'll stop him for good now."

The Ruler, seldom out of the money in his great career, won 23 of his 33 races including 17 stakes. He nailed down the Preakness, one leg of the triple crown last year, and all told earned $764,205.

Successor List For Fired Reds Boss Long One

CINCINNATI (ZAP)—The men who'll pick the successor to Birdie Tebbetts as manager of Cincinnati Redlegs are expected to begin scanning a list of possible candidates some time this week.

And the question of whether the choice will be made within the next week or two or not until the end of the season still is as much up in the air as the identity of the new manager.

Tebbetts quit suddenly last week after the faltering Redlegs had dropped into last place in the National League. Coach Jimmy Dykes was named acting manager until a new pilot could be selected.

The Curbstone Club owners and general managers have come up with a steadily growing list of possibilities. They include Mayo Smith, ousted manager of Philadelphia Phils; Bobby Bragan former manager at Pittsburgh and Cleveland and now directing Spokane of the Pacific Coast League; Al Lopez, manager of Chicago White Sox; Chuck Dressen, Los Angeles Dodger coach; Jim Turner and Ralph Houk, New York Yankee coaches; and Leo Durocher, the fiery former manager of the Dodgers and also the manager of the Cincinnati Enquirer said Sunday that Smith would be the man.
