It be that a bird flying over had dropped that worm? "Oh!" cried little Mrs. Peter, and jumped aside. Another squirming worm had fallen right in front of her. She didn't like worms. There was a funny look on Peter's face as he saw that second worm. Yes, sir, there was a funny look. "Don't tell me it is raining worms!" Peter.

liked, and at the very least he should have jumped to six clubs instead of giving the non-jump raise to five-odd. Had he done even that much, South might have taken the final step.

CAPITOL SUMMERSIDE, NEXT MONDAY AND TUESDAY

BOGART IS BRILLIANT IN DYNAMIC 'DEADLINE'

"Taking its cue straight from the headlines, 'Deadline—U. S. A.' the frank and searing new melodrama, starring Humphrey Bogart which opens today at the Capitol Theatre, Summerside, undertakes to handle a story as exciting as any that has appeared in print. That it does so boldly and challengingly, with nothing barred or prettified, attests to its lambang success as high-powered movie fare.

"Deadline—U. S. A." exposes big city corruption down to the roots. Though no movie has dared to say so before in quite the out-spokenly honest terms this one employs, actual events have sadly taught us the hard truth that a racket machine often involves politicians who control a community's destiny. It's a lesson "Deadline—U. S. A." impresses on an audience, and the picture adds to its substance by pointing out that an antidote to crime in government may well be a free and fighting press.
