

Many Canadian Connections Noted In British Elections

By PETER BUCKLEY
LONDON (CP) — Canadian connections of every sort have turned up in the list of candidates for next Thursday's British general election.

Davie Fulton's former secretary is running. So are former professors at the universities of New Brunswick, McGill and Saskatchewan. And so is Lord Beaverbrook's great-nephew. The list cuts through the ranks of the four parties which have offered the most candidates.

Upper Canada College, Toronto, alone has three of its former students out on the hustings: two bearing the Liberal banner and one a Labor candidate.

Among those running again is the only Canadian-born member of the last Parliament Godman Irvine '56, Conservative member for Rye in Sussex. A native of Toronto and a barrister, he has represented Rye in Sussex. A native of Toronto and a barrister, he has represented Rye since 1955 and had a 16,976-vote majority in the 1964 general election.

HAVE GOOD CHANCE
Several of the Labor candidates stand a strong chance of reaching Parliament if public-opinion polls prove accurate in predicting a swing to Labor.

Joan Lester, 34-year-old native of Vancouver, is contesting Eton and Slough, where the Conservative winner had a margin of only 11 votes in 1964.

Bruce Douglas-Mann, 38-year-old solicitor and alumnus of Upper Canada College, is representing Labor in Maldon, where the Conservative majority last time was 1,531.

Geoffrey Hickman '57, who spent three boyhood years in Montreal and Port Arthur, Ont., has the chore of trying to unseat Tory deputy leader Reginald Maudling in the London-area riding of Barnet.

Malcolm Macpherson, 62, former U. of N.B. lecturer and Canadian army major, is defending Stirling and Falkirk riding, which he first won for Labor in 1948.

Labor MP Raphael Tuck, 55, who had an upset victory in Watford in 1964 and is seeking re-election, was formerly professor of law at the University of Saskatchewan in 1941-45, professor of political science at McGill in 1945-47 constitutional adviser to Liberal Premier Stuart Gavson of Manitoba in 1943 and has many other connections with Canada.

STANDS FOR LABOR
Shirley Williams, 36, daughter of former professor George Catlin of McGill, is seeking to retain Hitchin for Labor after winning the riding in 1964.

Among Conservative hopefuls is Christopher Dobson, 30, who was educated at McGill and Sir George Williams University in Montreal, lectured at McGill and was secretary in 1960-61 to Davie Fulton when he was Conservative justice minister.

Dobson was editorial director of Canada's royal commission on taxation and still is a special representative of the Canadian Commons' Speaker studying procedure in state legislatures. He is running in Bolton West riding, where the Labor MP had a majority of nearly 3,000 votes in 1964.

Jonathan Aitken, 24-year-old great-nephew of Canadian-born Lord Beaverbrook, is contesting Meriden, which gave the Labor candidate a margin of only 363 in the last election. Aitken, a publisher associated with Monitor Publishing Co. of Montreal, was on the Oxford debating team which toured Canada and the U.S. in 1964-65.

LOST IN 1964
Tom Stacey, 34, a Montreal Star reporter in 1955-56, failed to win Hammersmith North for the Conservatives in 1964 and is contesting the Labor-held seat of Dover this year.

Peter A. Blaker, 43-year-old Tory MP seeking re-election in Blackpool South, was educated at the University of Toronto and served in Canada with the British foreign service.

In Aberdeen South, Lady Priscilla Tweedsmuir, daughter-in-law of a former Canadian governor-general, is defending a Tory seat she won with a majority of 3,308 in the last vote.

The Conservative candidate in Wandsworth is Sir Hugh Linstead '64, who held the seat from 1942 until he lost it in 1964. Among a long list of distinctions is an honorary doctorate of laws from the University of British Columbia in 1956, granted after a coast-to-coast Canadian speaking tour about Britain's health service.

The Liberal party, whose parliamentary existence may be in peril in this election, has a strong contender in Eric Lubbock, 37, an Upper Canada College graduate who seeks re-election in Orpington.

Agnes Scott, 57, who trailed in a three-way contest for the Conservative riding in Woking in 1964, again is the Liberal candidate there, Mrs. Scott was educated in Hamilton, Ont., and served with the Canadian Red Cross and later the women's section of the RCAF during the Second World War.

SEEKS TO UNSEAT A TORY
Cyril Carr, 40, Liberal candidate in the Tory riding of Liverpool Wavertree, is another Upper Canada College alumnus and also went to Ridley College in St. Catharines, Ont.

Communist party hopefuls include Bert Ramelson, 54, son of an Edmonton fur dealer and a law graduate from the University of Alberta, who is making another bid for the Labor-held seat of Leeds South, and Tony Chater, 35, who spent two years on biochemical research in Ottawa and is contesting Luton, another Labor-held seat.

EARLY TO BED

SANTIAGO (AP)—Chile's television programs now end at 11.15 p.m. every night except Saturday. This is part of the government's efforts to get people to go to work earlier and do without the traditional three-hour lunchtime siesta.

HOW TO MAKE THE MOST IN SELLING YOUR CAR

Is there really a prime time to sell your car? Do you know its actual worth, both wholesale and retail? Can you realize more for it through private sale? April Reader's Digest gives six simple rules to heed in 'How to Make the Most in Selling Your Car'. This timely article, of interest to every car owner, is based on answers researched from the men who know — car dealers to Finance company executives. Don't miss it! Get your copy of April Reader's Digest on sale at your newsstand now!

 stenographers	 steeplejacks	 stoves
--	---	---

FIND ANYTHING... FAST IN THE YELLOW PAGES

CHICKEN?

Lucien Thibodeau (LEFT) of Ridgeway, Ont., and service station operator Roy Pearson grin at pet chicken of Mr. Thibodeau, which hitched a ride on the axle of the family car from Ridgeway to Crystal Beach. The bird wasn't discovered until the car was put on a hoist for a grease job, and Mr. Thibodeau said he had been driving upwards of 60 miles an hour. Turns out the chicken had been chased under the car by a dog.

(CP Wirephoto)

Pipe Lines Profits Up

TORONTO (CP) — Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd. had net income of $13,834,185 or $1.82 a share last year, compared with $13,243,311 or $1.76 a share in 1964, the company's annual report says.

The report, released Monday, shows operating revenues were a record $136,973,000, up 14 1/2 per cent from $119,612,000 in 1964.

President James K. Kerr said:

"Net income was proportionately less than the increase in operating revenues due mainly to the increased cost of short term supplies of gas purchased pending completion of the new pipeline, through the United States."

In August, 1965, American Natural Gas Co. agreed to be an equal partner in a project to build a $200,000,000 pipeline from Emerson, Man., through the U.S. to Sarnia and Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Hearings for application to build the line opened March 1 before the national energy board in Ottawa and are scheduled to open April 19 before the Federal Power Commission in Washington.

Commission Cost Given

OTTAWA (CP)—Estimated cost of the royal commission on bilingualism and biculturalism to March 31 will be $4,502,635, the Commons was told Monday.

The figure was given by John Matheson, parliamentary secretary to Prime Minister Pearson, in reply to a question by Robert C. Coates (PC—Cumberland).

Estimated cost of the commission for the 1966-67 fiscal year starting April 1 is $1,200,000. It was established by a cabinet directive July 9, 1963.

He gave these figures for the length of time and cost of earlier commissions:

MacPherson royal commission on transportation, 28 months, $574,000; Glasco commission on government organization, 30 months, $2,791,915; Porter commission on banking, 30 months, $732,901; Gordon commission on economic prospects, 28 months and $1,303,819; Rand commission on coal, 11 months and $98,166; O'Leary commission on publications, eight months and $136,121.

MORELL

Mrs. William Kelly, Morell, has entered the Charlottetown Hospital for treatment.

Reggie Peters was a visitor in Morell Monday visiting Vince McGrath who had been in hospital. Mr. McGrath will be 95 on April 26, is enjoying fairly good health and has a wonderful memory.

A baby shower was held at the home of Mrs. Clem Sinnott for Mrs. Geo. Kelly.

BEAR TURNS, TABLES

MOSCOW (AP)—The hunter became the hunted when Pyotr Artimovich returned to his winter hut in Siberia. A bear was sleeping on his bed. He raised his rifle but the animal struck it out of his hand, losing off a shot, and disappeared into the forest.

EATON'S 4 BIG DAYS Pre-Easter Sale

WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY

See EATON'S 8 Page Circular delivered to Your Door For Details of the Sale Specials.
NO DOWN PAYMENT on Budget Charge or Extended Budget Charge Accounts.

an EATON
SUPER VALUE

"SIMMONS" HIDE-a-BEDS

Ordinarily 339.50

Super Value, Each

219.50

NO DOWN PAYMENT—12.00 Per Month

Check the Luxury Features of Cavalier Hide-a-Beds:

- Light contemporary design with slim back.
- "T" cushion for styling and extra value. Cushions are of 4" Beauty rest pocketed coil construction, providing quality, comfort and durability.
- Cover is a viscose and acetate blend, good wearing and cleaning qualities, available in Bronze, Gold-colour, Green, Blue/Green; Muskrat Brown.
- Mattress features a 312 coil unit jiffy join tufted, cotton stripe cover and pre-built border.
- The bed unit is Simmons bed-in action which opens out to regulation bed height, has no dangerous metal projections, has recessed bar instead of legs to support foot of bed when open. Very easy to open—a smooth working unit. Entire unit tips forward for easy cleaning—no struggling to clean at the rear of bed.