SPORTS FRONT

By PIUS CALLAGHAN

FOOTBALL FANS got a first hand look at a real powerful football squad when Gus MacFarlane's Mount Allison boys played Saint Dunstan's here Saturday afternoon.

The Mounties had been top heavy favourites to turn back the inexperienced local collegians but nobody had dreamed the Sackville gang would rub it in the way the Allisonites did.

THE GARNET AND GOLD had come here with an impressive victory string but it wasn't so impressive that anyone thought the Saints would be beaten by such a lop-sided score. The visitors displayed a really devastating ground attack and the Red and White lads just didn't seem to be able to do anything about it.

Folks had expected the Saints to be somewhat weak defensively but there were those who claimed the local scholars would bother the New Brunswickers to no end once they took over possession of the ball. We were inclined to go along with that line of reasoning. But we, along with many others were wrong.

IF YOU FORGET about Gil Collins's touchdown, then there isn't much left to talk about as far as Saint Dunstan's is concerned. Their ground attack got exactly nowhere all afternoon and their aerial attack was indeed limited. Probably Saints' inefficiency was caused by Mount Allison's efficiency. We think some of it was, but a whole lot of it wasn't. Saint Dunstan's had a poor day all around and you can't have a poor day and expect to make a credible showing against as powerful an outfit as the Garnet and Gold.

THE TERRIFIC LACING the locals received doesn't add up if you consider the results of previous games in the Maritime Intercollegiate Football League. Saint Dunstan's beat Saint Mary's 37-33. Saint Mary's trounced Saint Thomas and Saint Thomas only lost 47-13 to Mount Allison on the Sackville grid. We had figured the boys of MacFarlane about three touchdowns better than the locals after checking those statistics, but we were out by seven touchdowns.

WE ARE NOT endeavouring to 'ride' the Saints. After all, this is their first season in intercollegiate competition and up to Saturday they had surpassed the fondest hopes of their supporters. Given a couple of years, Saint Dunstan's will take their place with the best of them in college circles. Saturday was their first loss since they've tried their hand at the new game, so that in itself is a pretty fair record. And losing to an outfit like Mount Allison, doesn't take too much away from that record.

We were disappointed, not that Saints didn't grab a victory (we never expected such an upset to occur) but that the locals appeared to play dead before the Mounties. We still think that MacFarlane has a crack football team but we don't think that a 71-7 score is any indication of the abilities of the two teams. The Sackville boys had to rely practically entirely on their ground attack and Saints should have had more answers for them than they showed us Saturday.

WE WERE DISAPPOINTED in Mount Allison's air attack. They didn't try it very often but the great part of the time they did, it looked weak indeed. For Saints it's a good job it was because, had it clicked, that score would have been even worse. Saints have one more home game left. That one is against Saint Thomas and it should be a fairly even battle. Before Saturday's game, we would have made the locals heavy favourites to beat the Tommies, but we're not making any such prediction right now. Before that tussle, A. J. MacAdam takes his men to Fredericton to battle the University of New Brunswick's Red Bombers. That will be a rough one, and Saints and their fans can look for as tough, if not tougher, competition than they faced here Saturday.

HOWEVER, REGARDLESS of the outcome of the remaining games, Saint Dunstan's made their presence really felt in their first season of Canadian football. They can do no worse than two victories in five starts and that's pretty fair for beginners. If they can topple Saint Thomas here the latter part of next week, they'll finish the season playing 600 football. And that may just be good enough to be runners-up to the Allisonites.

There weren't too many at the start of the season who would rate the locals nearly that high. Yet, here they are threatening to finish ahead of teams which were rated much better than the Red and White gang.

Saturday's game is history. Forget it Saints and let's see you romp home with another victory before the 1958 season draws to a close.

THE BIG FOUR football picture is really in a muddle and Toronto Argonauts are the ones to blame. Argos made it three in a row Saturday and ran their point total to eight (2 behind Ottawa) with another win over Ottawa Rough Riders. However, Montreal Alouettes were not co-operative and they went ahead and beat the front-running Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

The victory for the Montreal team put them one point ahead of the Riders who are really beginning to sweat. Alouettes have home and home games remaining with the rejuvenated Argonauts in Ottawa and the same arrangement with the powerful Tiger-Cats. Should the Riders lose their two (and it's likely they will) and Argonauts whip the Alouettes twice, then Ottawa would be out of the playoff picture.

What a windup in that Big Four.

THIS IS THE NIGHT that hockey enthusiasts hope to get an Island Hockey League formed. Last Monday Saint Dunstan's first season of Canadian football. They can do no worse than two victories in five starts and that's pretty fair for beginners. If they can topple Saint Thomas here the latter part of next week, they'll finish the season playing 600 football. And that may just be good enough to be runners-up to the Allisonites.

Other winners were Fresh Girl, Scottish Light, Crystal Maid, Red's King and Dynamite Volo.

Pennsylvania, owned by John Balloch of Truro, came on with a surprise finish to win a mile and one-quarter trot in 2:47 3-5.

The daily double combination of the Halifax-owned Fresh Girl and Scottish Light from Roy Bevan's Charlottetown stables returned $107.20.

The daily double paid $13.40 and the quinella $57.10.

The daily double combination of Roxie's Golden Girl and Silver's Pride paid $115.40. The Quinella payoff was $41.20.

Horton Academy Will Be Closed

WOLFVILLE, N.S. (CP)—President Dr. Watson Kirkconnell of Acadia University here announced Sunday Horton Academy would be closed next summer for an "indefinite period."

He made the announcement at services celebrating the 120th anniversary of the founding of Acadia University.

He said the governors of Acadia decided to suspend the work of Horton Academy after the close of the present academic year and divert its facilities to university uses.

Horton Academy was founded in 1828 by the Baptist Education Society as a residential classical high school in which young Nova Scotians might be prepared for more advanced study. Its name was derived from the village of Horton, later renamed Wolfville.

After the school was founded by James Pike, now Acadia University, in 1838, the two institutions worked together.

When the Baptist Education Society ceased to exist, the academy came under the governors of Acadia University.

Banker Heads Relief Fund

Mount Allison University is all alone atop the Maritime Intercollegiate Football League standings today.

Gus MacFarlane's powerful Garnet and Gold Sackville squad had little opposition getting to their lofty position Saturday at the Saint Dunstan's football field they overwhelmed the local Saints 71-7 before a large crowd of spectators.

For a few minutes of that first quarter, it looked as though the local students might throw a scare into the New Brunswickers. At one point Saints led 7-6 and the S.D.U. supporters were really whooping it up. After Arnie Saunders had put Mount Allison ahead with a touchdown, the result of a Saint Dunstan's fumble. The Malpeque Road scholars roared back and Gil Collins went over from thirty yards out with a nice bit of running. Gil kicked the extra point and the locals led 7-6.

But here the merriment ended as far as Saint Dunstan's is concerned. The their fans were concerned. The went to work and it was the kind of work that Collins and his associates couldn't cope with. Pete Smallman treated of running to a great exhibition of running to 35 with touchdowns resulting after 35 with touchdowns. Both times Saints' pursuers tried desperately to catch the fleet-footed Smallman but it was to no avail. Touchdowns followed by Bob MacLaren and Harry Haukka before the teams went over their half-time mark. The five touchdowns, two of which were converted, plus a rouge left Saints facing a 33-7 deficit as they took the field for the final thirty minutes.

Saint Dunstan's backers weren't anticipating their favourites to pull this one out of the fire but had high hopes of a much better showing by the locals in the final half. But it didn't turn out that way and Mount Allison grabbed six more majors, plus two converts without a reply from the McAdam-coached crew. Dave Culbertson and John McGill each picked up a pair, with Bob MacLaren and Doug Pryde each garnering one touchdown. Two of the kicks for the extra points were good.

Mount Allison stayed on the ground most of the afternoon and it was here that their attack was the most devastating. They tried nine passes in the air but were successful on only four of them. Saint Dunstan's percentage in successful passes was even lower. They tried eight and only three clicked. MacFarlane's Garnet and Gold piled up twenty-two first downs, three times as many as the Red and Whites were able to accumulate.

Yardage penalties were about even. Mount Allison lost 65 yards for infractions, Saint Dunstan's 60.

Ideal weather favored the first meeting of Mount Allison at Saint Dunstan's in Canadian football competition. Both teams had large cheering sections with a large delegation accompanying the Allisonites to Charlottetown.

One minute silence was observed before the start of the game out of respect to the memory of those who were lost in the Springhill mine disaster.

The Saint Dunstan's University band under bandmaster Lloyd Ward, was in attendance and rendered appropriate music at various intervals.

Saint Dunstan's next game is at Fredericton where they are the guests of the University of New Brunswick. Their remaining home game will see St. Thomas College of Chatham paying the Saints a visit.

The Hasty House entry was favored by the crowd and paid $4.20 to win, $3.90 to place and $2.90 to show. Andrew Alan paid $5.70 to show.

Andrew Alan, owned by Mrs. Hirsch Jacobs, finished third, four lengths behind Mahan, and Bell Hop, owned by John M. Schiff of New York City, defeated Ekabu in a photo-finish for fourth money.
