Open This Can for Either Milk or Cream

 With ordinary milk, it can't be done. But with Carnation Evaporated Milk, it's different.
 Carnation is wonderful for every cream purpose. It's concentrated to double richness—heavy enough to whip. Superb for "creaming" coffee, cereals and desserts. Grand in all recipes that call for cream.
 And for velvet-smooth, rich flavored whole milk for cooking or drinking, you just mix Carnation with an equal amount of water.
 You can't get Carnation's two-way usefulness with ordinary milk. Switch to Carnation. The world's largest-selling evaporated milk.
For Cereals—Make This Seven Day Test
 — for just one week, use Carnation Milk on your cereal. We're sure you'll never go back to ordinary milk.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—
 the man who has an ego requiring constant attention, is not good matrimonial material.
 Keep looking, Lizbeth, until you come up with a fine man who can appreciate you. Let your present Lothario go with nary a regret!
DEAR MISS DIX: My boy friend has a car. The other night he was driving recklessly and had a bad accident. Now he wants me to help pay for it. I have no money, but he threatens to go to my mother and tell her. She has forbidden me to go out with this boy because he has a bad reputation. I have no money and don't know where to get it.
ANSWER: You have had a very unfortunate experience, but I hope it has taught you the lesson that mothers are usually right. Your so-called friend is a contemptible scoundrel, and if your escapade has convinced you of that fact, it wasn't in vain.
 Your only recourse is to make a clean breast of the matter to your mother. Let her know that you realize that she was right. You have absolutely no financial responsibility for the accident; don't let the boy try to tell you otherwise. And don't let him frighten you into doing anything reckless. You have had enough trouble, and have escaped much more drastic consequences; profit from the lesson.
DEAR MISS DIX: I am 14 years old, and in high school. A boy I like asked me out twice, but I refused both times. Now when I'd like him to ask me again, he won't. What can I do to encourage him?
ANSWER: At 14 one isn't expected to know all the social graces, but one of the first to be acquired is the ability to accept an invitation graciously. Since you like the boy, why did you refuse his invitations? If it was merely to keep him guessing, or to see how many times he'd ask you before you accepted, you have now accomplished your purpose. Boys are easily discouraged, and this one cannot be blamed if he doesn't ask you out again. All you can do now is hope.
MISS Nissen cannot reply personally to readers but will answer problems of general interest through this column.
