

P.M. VISITS SCHOOL AT S'IDE.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker tells children at a school in Summerside, P. E. I., something that makes them very happy, possibly that they will have the remainder of the day free from classes. Mr. Diefenbaker visited the school as he visited Summerside during a political tour of the Atlantic Provinces. (CP Wirephoto)

TIGNISH HIGH

Life In The Three Armed Services Is Illustrated

The end of the month of February brought report cards again in our High School. These reports show that the majority are giving satisfaction in their studies—of course, there are some exceptions.

The Queen's Commission On February 12, two army officials, one who is presently stationed in Halifax and the other in Charlottetown, showed a film "The Queen's Commission" to the High School boys in the auditorium. This picture dealt with life in the different armed forces and the advantages that are offered High School graduates who wish to enter one of these services. We are almost convinced that some of our boys will enter the world of jets and clouds in the near future.

LAST SOCIAL

Our last High School entertainment before the Lenten season was a very spectacular Valentine social held in the auditorium which was tastefully decorated with white and red streamers and hearts. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Valentine Queen and King, Freda Martin of Grade XII and John McInnis of Grade XI, by their attendants, Alice Collicutt and Leonard Gallant, both of Grade XII.

The chaperones for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Terrence Gavin, Mr. and Mrs. John Finnessey, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Macdonald, Mrs. Foster Skerry, and Mr. Charles Gavin. We wish to thank them for their kind interest shown towards us by attending our social.

YEARBOOK

Our year-book staff is hard at work. Recreation periods are being sacrificed and much extra work is being done by this staff so that their contributions to this book will be worthwhile souvenirs of their efforts. Oh—we almost forgot to mention the names of
