You lead the ace of diamonds against south's four heart contract, your partner playing the four and declarer the three. How should you continue?

Did you listen to the bidding? Then you will know that South has at least ten cards in the major suits because he couldn't afford to force north to choose unless he could guarantee that three card support would be enough. If he has two losing clubs, he will be able to get rid of one on the king of diamonds as soon as he gets in. You must lead the three of clubs immediately in order to be sure of taking any club tricks that are due to you.

There is no need to worry about the possibility of south having the ace and a small club since the other one will disappear anyway on the king of diamonds. Thus the switch to clubs cannot lose - and it may be essential in order to beat the contract.

Under-18's Left Out in Cold

A present controversy on the UPEI campus is the plight of Student Union members who are under eighteen. They are not legally allowed into a licensed premise and thus are left out of most Student Union events. Difficulties have been met in attempting to move the Back Door Coffee House to the evening.

The only - and obviously the best - solution left is to consider the suggestions of the people in question. So, if you are an underprivileged under-eighteen, suggest something, no matter how obscene, to Woozy MacDonald or leave it with Jane at the Student Union office in the basement of Memorial. Woozy would appreciate immediate replies especially with Winter Carnival coming up.

*"NO! You can't keep the water bed!
Christ walked on water. He never slept on it!"*

The imitation of Christ takes many forms.
A Redemptorist Priest is one.

During the long debate over the status of the Faculty of Education in the university Senate, the emphasis was always placed not on the quality of the learning environment but on the quality of the product (read student) being turned. Ah well, I guess it proves what we already know - that universities do not teach, they certify.
