Dairy, BYC Big Winners In Last Night's Games

In the two games played in the City Softball League last night the B.Y.C. clubbed the Navy 15-5 while the Dairy clobbered Keefer Drug 24-8, to rack up one of the largest scores in league play so far this year.

Art Bailem hurled for the Dairy and gave up six hits, struck out six and walked six. Walter Constance and George Schlyer pitched for the losers and were hit for 22 blows.

Mike Connolly led the Dairy hitters with five hits in six trips and Len Arsenal belted a grand slam homer.

George Schlyer hit two for four and Scantlebury clipped a triple for Keefer's.

Angie Carroll made a number of difficult catches in centre field for the Dairy.

Joe Thistle held the Navy to six scattered hits as he made his first start of the year a winning one for the B.Y.C. Sonny Stull started for the Navy and retired in the fifth in favor of Dick Doyle.

Gerard Burge hit a bases loaded home run and Kenny Tulle socked a three-run homer for the winners. Clary Peters and Kenny Tulle of the B.Y.C. each had four hits.

Billy Pryor led the Navy with two hits. Sonny Stull drove home the first inning with a double that cleared the bases. Dick Doyle connected for a triple in the sixth inning.

Gerard Burge and Ray McCloskey made brilliant running catches in the outfield for the B.Y.C. Junior Dowling robbed Sonny Stull on a nice run off third base, while Joe Thistle, Alf Coady and Kenny Tulle combined for the only double play.

Maurice Williams came up with one of the fielding gems of the game as he hauled down Joe Thistle's liner with a one-hand stab in the fifth inning.

In This Corner

Casey Stengel is breathing more easily today as his chattels fought off a determined White Sox bid over the weekend, that sent the bustling Chicagoans take over first place in the American league for about twenty four hours. Casey's Yanks came out of their spell on Sunday and knocked off the Sox twice to again take over top spot in the American League's stirring pennant race.

The big worry in Stengel's life at the moment is the failure of his star hurler, Bob Turley, who has gone into a tailspin in the last few weeks and has lost his last five starts. Turley, who was once sporting an 8-1 record, is now struggling along at an 8-6 pace which is hardly adequate for a "star".

Rival managers have been busy fustling the virtues of patience into their players and as a result batters who have been providing nothing more than an air conditioning system on hot days for catcher Berra, with their flailing hickories are now playing a waiting game and with their caps pulled down on their shoulders, hope for the aid of Turley's Frankenstein in getting to first base.

In almost all of the games he has lost Bullet Bob has given up fewer than six or seven hits but his wildness has been his undoing. Nine walks are very nearly as good as nine singles and they are just as unnerving to his teammates if Turley's wildness could be toned down he would be the best pitcher in either league. Possibly he is just having one of those streaks that most pitchers know so well when all umpires seem to be suffering from myopia and the plate is no bigger than a dime. Yankee pitching coach, Jim Turner, has a task before him, but he can pull New York fire-baller out of this mess, then we wouldn't bet a broken bat against the Yank's chances of walking to their third pennant in seven years.

Flyers, Dodgers Meet Tonight

In tonight's City League baseball encounter Jimmy MacDonald's Flyers are pitted against the hard hitting Dodgers. The last time these two teams met the Flyers eked out a thrilling 1-0 victory, in one of the most exciting games played here for some time.

League officials have reduced the price of admission for this season to 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children in the hope that bigger crowds will begin to attend the games. If these two teams put on a display to equal their last contest fans will certainly be getting their two bits worth.

Coach MacDonald has announced his ace Donnie MacLean as his starting choice but Charlie Ryan, continuing his seamy strategy, will not make his choice known until game time, which is

Luis Arroyo Wins Eighth As Cards Beat Phillies 4-1 And Reds Defeat Giants 5-3

ST. LOUIS (AP) — St. Louis Cardinals took advantage of an error to push across three unearned runs in the fourth inning Monday night and defeat Philadelphia Phillies 4-1 as rookie southpaw Luis Arroyo scattered seven hits and batted in two runs.

Arroyo, gaining his eighth victory against only two defeats, yielded one unearned marker as he lowered his earned-run average to a brilliant 1.91.

In addition, the shunky little Puerto Rican singled home the last two of three unearned St. Louis runs in the fourth inning, handing veteran righthander Murry Dickson his fifth defeat against four wins.

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Gene Conley buried four-hit ball for Milwaukee Monday night as the Braves downed Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 in a National League baseball game.

The Braves counted their first run in the fourth inning when Johnny Logan doubled down the right field line, scoring Billy Bruton who had singled and then stole second.

Milwaukee's second run came

Track And Field Revival In City

The week of June 25th and July 1st will feature track and field meets at Centennial events. On Saturday the Pirates gave up only three hits before being replaced by Bob Purkey in the eighth. Purkey gave up one hit.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati Redlegs scored four runs in the fifth inning Monday night and went on to hand New York Giants their fifth straight defeat 5-3. Homers by Dusty Rhodes and pinch-hitter is arranging for trophies and ribbons for this event.

As a holiday finale and Dominion Day attraction, fans will see athletes from various mainland centres and this province take part in the Centennial Invitation Meet. All in all it should be a good track and field revival and many old track and field enthusiasts will be pleased to see so much activity in this line. It is hoped, too, that out of these competitions a band of athletes can be gathered to carry the Abewell name and colors to Antigonish Highland Games and other meets this summer. Earl Riggs, general caretaker at Memorial Field is working hard to have everything in shape for this series of meets and it is hoped that large entry lists will greet officials for every event.

Weighing 7 3/4 pounds, and measuring 26 1/2 inches, the big trout, above, held by Lorne Noonan of Albany, who made the catch at Scales' pond during the weekend, using a spinning rod, and worms for bait, is believed to be a record size. Caught on the first cast after arriving at the fishing site, this big rainbow trout will be preserved as lasting proof of a fish story that will be a difficult one to equal. (Photo by Wotton)

Among the other boxers he fought in his day are Gussie MacLellan, "Kid" Lantz and "Butcher Boy" MacDonald.

Harry Poulton, making his second start of the current season, dropped a decision to Elois Durelle of Bai St. Anne at Truro on June 16. According to reports out of that town, the fight card was the best ever staged there. There is a possibility that the pair will be re-matched at a later date.

How about it Mr. Doherty? Gaston Roy dropped a heart-breaker at Fredericton on June 15. After leading on points going into the seventh round, Dixon lifted one out of nowhere and clipped Gaston high on the temple and the french slugging spent the rest of the night counting sheep.

Return bouts seem to be the order of the day. On June 23 Yvon Durelle is scheduled to battle former world's olympic champion Floyd Patterson at Newcastle, N.S. The last time out Yvon lost by

Patterson Meets Durelle June 23

NEWCASTLE, N.B. (CP)—Floyd Patterson, Brooklyn light heavyweight, is expected here by plane today or Wednesday for his Thursday night bout in Sinclair Arena against Canadian light heavyweight champion Yvon Durelle of Bai St. Anne.

The bout is scheduled for 10 rounds and promoter Dode Durelle reports Durelle, training at Bai St. Anne in "the best shape ever" and "punching hard."

Earle G. MacLeod

Most of us let the garageman take out the dip stick from the engine block, wipe it off and put it back in again to check the oil level. It's a messy job and an easy way to mark up a clean white shirt.

I usually "leave it to George" too, but in looking over a used car the oil on the dip stick and the dip stick itself can tell you a lot about what the car looks like inside.

Here's one simple test that's effective; wipe the oil off the dip stick (after getting your shirt sleeves out of the way) and notice if the surface of the stick is pock-marked or etched on the part that is normally below the surface of the oil.

If it is, that's a sign of acid. Most fuels contain a trace of acid and if the engine is running cold, or a cylinder is missing, unburned fuel, with this acid, makes its way into the crankcase and will eventually attack polished steel surfaces, such as the crankshaft journals, the cams, the links and pins in the timing chain—and, of course, the dip stick.

And while we're about it, this is the time to point out the importance of changing oil frequently. This acid action against the car's vital insides is the penalty of letting old oil work its worst against your engine.

I've already mentioned the trick of watching for blue smoke from the exhaust (blue, not black or grey) that's another easy trick for stung up a car.

These are some of the simple tests anyone can perform when shopping around for a used car. Before a car comes on to our lot, of course, trained people make sure that it's a good buy for the owner to whom we'll pass it on.

But while you're shopping around, we want you to satisfy yourself about the car you're looking at. Look it over, have the kids jump up and down on the seats if you want, then take it out for a test drive.

And we had a good many people last evening who dropped in to test drive our cars. The majority were well pleased with what they drove and nine of them liked the cars well enough to buy.

Once again a terrific bargain went to the bidder of the car on the auction block. A 1949 Dodge 4 door for $185.00. Drop in this evening and see the fun and pick up a car at a price anyone can afford. Did you know that the average car owner in Canada earns less than $40.00 a week.

Our big sale is still on and will be all week. Come in and let's get together on a deal.
