Tom Tyler In 'Unconquered Bandit' At The Capitol

Raids by cattle rustlers, or "stock-thieves" were common occurrences in old Western days, and form an important part of the plot of "Unconquered Bandit", the new Tom Tyler film, now playing at the Capitol Theatre. It was a crime held in particular detestation by the ranchmen, as well might be the case, seeing that their principal investments were in stock, and short shrift was given the raiders caught red-handed by the indignant rangers. As a matter of fact, a horse-thief had less chance than a murderer of escaping with his life, it is rounded up.

Tom Tyler's escapade in masquerading as Night Hawk, the master-thief of "Unconquered Bandit," is therefore an experiment deeply fraught with peril of no ordinary kind. How he eludes his pursuers, plans and executes his vengeance on the ruffians who murdered his father, and persuades the girl he loves of his innocence, provides one of the most wildly exciting plots ever filmed. The star is surrounded by an usually talented cast. Pretty Lillian Gilmore appears as Helen Cleburn, Tom's sweetheart, and plays the role with a piquant dash and allure which has won her golden tributes from the newspaper critics.

Old Man Winter has again put in his appearance and at time of writing there is plenty snow down for good sleighing in the country. (Patriot Please Copy).

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. ISABELLE D. GRAHAM

Funeral services for Mrs. Isabelle Darrach Graham, wife of the late Joseph Graham, were held on Saturday, March 14, 1936, from her late home at 52 Governor's Road, in Milton, Mass. Mrs. Graham died at her late home on Friday morning after an illness which had extended for several months.

Mrs. Graham was born in Canoe Cove, Prince Edward Island, 72 years ago. She lived in Barre, Vt., for more than 40 years. Mrs. Graham's only near surviving relatives are a brother, James Darrach of Canoe Cove, Prince Edward Island, and a nephew, Henry F. McLean of East Milton with whom she made her home. Mr. Graham died about 22 years ago. Her three daughters had also died. Rev. Arthur Dewitt Paul, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated at the services. The body was taken to Barre, Vermont, where there were also services on Sunday afternoon. Burial followed in the family lot in the Barre Cemetery.

Mrs. Graham visited her old home at Canoe Cove every summer for the last 20 years and only left there the last week in September of last year. She will be very kindly remembered by relatives and friends.

Was Well Received

The Hartland Observer says:—Guy G. Porter of Andover, long a prominent figure in the potato trade, certainly deserves the thanks of the people of New Brunswick, more especially those of the great potato growing counties of Carleton and Victoria, for the efforts he is putting forth to stimulate both agricultural and industrial development. On the evening of Thursday last, Mr. Porter, supported by a strong and influential delegation, representing all shades of political thought, appeared before members of the Legislative Assembly and strongly urged that steps be taken towards the establishment of a plant for the production of alcohol from potatoes. Having only recently returned from a tour of seven European countries, where he made a close study of the development

RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is often caused by uric acid in the blood. Urea, a blood impurity, should be extracted by the kidneys. If kidneys fail, and urea remains, it changes to uric acid which in minute crystals lodges in joints or between muscles causing excruciating pains. Plan to prevent rheumatism by keeping your kidneys in good condition. Take regularly Dodd's Kidney Pills — for half a century the favorite kidney remedy. 101

Saint John Had Champion Barber

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

SAINT JOHN, N. B., April 16 — Old timers in Saint John dug back in their memories today and found a rival for Budapest's self-styled world's champion barber and his claim of having shaved a man in 28 seconds.

They produced the deeds of James S. Pitt, former Saint John man who died in Cambridge, Mass., and announced he had shaved a customer and run 100 yards all in one minute—and quite frequently at that.

When he went to Cambridge, they reminded the Boston barbers used to come around and see how it was done. According to them, the then civic head of Cambridge, Mayor Brooks, offered $500 to anyone who could beat Pitt's record but there were no takers.
