Choral Group To Appear In Tryon

—Seen above is the Summerside R. C. A. F. Choral Club, who will present an interesting program at Tryon Baptist Hall on Friday evening. This will be their first public appearance outside of the R. C. A. F. station since winning the choral group singing trophy at the South Shore Musical Festival in Summerside last November. All of the proceeds from the concert will be given to the South Shore Musical Festival to assist in the splendid work carried on by this organization.

Strange But True

By F. H. MacArthur

Losing a valuable diamond ring in a glove she was trying on was the experience of a Chicago woman, Mrs. Anna Engle. As soon as she missed the $3,000 diamond, Mrs. Engle returned to the glove department of a Chicago store and found the ring in a glove which she had tried on but had not bought. Now it is possible to buy an ash tray gadget which neutralizes odors. This should be good news for housewives and others who turn up their noses at Lady Nicotine. An Allentown, Pa., chemical salesman invented the nose pleasing thing which can be attached to any type of ash tray and is easily removable for cleaning the tray.

Bummer Dan's Bar which turned out $50,000,000 in good Montana gold was named for Bummer Dan McFadden who paraded around the saloons until the miners got fed up on feeding him and ordered him to stake a claim and go to work. Reluctantly Bummer Dan put off his glad rags and went to work on a claim he'd staked in an out of the way place called "Creek's Bar". Result: $50,000,000! Bummer McFadden's name came close to being posted along with five others in Boat Hill Cemetery for stealing. The five wooden markers bear only a name and a one-word epitaph, "Hanged".

Any way, they had Bummer Dan on a horse's back instead of a scaffold. The end of the rope not fastened about his neck was tossed over a high cotton wood limb and then attached to a rider's saddle horn. Somebody gave the nag a cut of a whip, at the same time calling loudly, "Well, so long Bummer!"

But it was not curtains for Montana's number one parasite. Before the horse was well under way, he stumbled and fell. Then a posse came up leading the sheriff who, they claimed, was the sixth man wanted. Thus it came about that sheriff Harry Plummer changed places with Bummer McFadden. It was after this close shave that Bummer stumbled across the $50,000,000 gold mine. If you think your working days are over, because of old age, remember that T'ian was 91 when he painted his famous Jacopo de Strada, 72 when he did Pope Paul III, and 77 when he painted the Danae. Giacometti was hale and vigorous at the age of 86 years. The late G. B. Shaw was earning a fortune from royalties on his plays when he was over 90. To compile a complete list of the young old people who have done and still are doing great things in the world would fill a thin volume.

It is interesting to note that these people who live to a ripe old age have not as a rule been of the wealthier classes. Persons who travel the fast road seldom reach that era of life known as old age.

Korean newspapers utilize a combination of both Chinese characters and native language. Korean children speak Japanese and English as well as their own tongue. Korean men wear western garments while the women cling to antique dress.

Minersville, Pa., has a poster which might be copied by other towns to good advantage. It reads: Speed Limit 15 miles per hour. — "Our Children should be seen and Not Hurt."

Over a grapefruit counter in a Cincinnati Ohio, supermarket: Do not squeeze me until I'm yours. There are only three musical glasses in existence today. Ben Franklin is credited with inventing this rare musical instrument. It consists of a number of glass bowls cupped together in graduated sizes on an iron spindle lying horizontally in a box.

Believe it or not but a common little housefly decided the outcome of a billiard match for the world's championship, and cost the loser $40,000 and his life!

The scene of this strange event takes us back to the year 1865, and to Washington Hall in Rochester, N. Y., where Louis Fox and John Deery were all set to match their skills.

The game was being closely contested. Then Fox took the lead and things looked bad for his opponent.

Deery looked like a beaten man. Fox was at the table now, victory for him seemed certain. He needed but one point to grab the championship and $40,000.

The crowd became tense with excitement. Fox lined up his shot, started his stroke. This is where the fly entered the picture. It came from nowhere, circled the table a couple of times ready to shoot. The fly came back to rest on the cue ball.

Once more Fox put the fly to flight, and prepared to shoot. But that persistent fly came back, and for the third time found and lit on the ball. Angry, Fox went for the fly. Loosing his temper proved his undoing. He moved the cue ball — and lost his chance to win.

Deery now took over and piled up a big score, won the championship and the $40,000. That night fox committed suicide. Thus a fly decided the championship in a key match of billiards!

HAPPY DAYS

MONTREAL, (CP)—As in many other municipalities, Montreal's parks officials now are busy refurbishing the summer equipment for recreation centres for children. All but 10 of the city's 162 skating and hockey rinks had been dismantled last week.

REGINA, (CP)—Production of Saskatchewan crude oil in 1952 was about 35 per cent greater than in 1951, reaching a record output of 1,666,000 barrels.

Young Peoples Union for the love-ly gift of an electric pulpit lamp presented to York United Church on Sunday, March 22nd. Games and a sing song of many familiar hymns, such as "What a Friend We Have In Jesus" and "When the Roll is Called Up Yonder," were enjoyed. This Union was host to the Young Peoples Union of Central

Church at this meeting, and a dairy lunch was served by the hostess and committee in charge. The next meeting is to be held in Central Church.
