TORONTO (CP) — A school here in the heart of English-speaking Canada is paying effective lip service to biculturalism: French lessons start in kindergarten and English will be introduced as a second language in Grade 2.

The Toronto French School, established in September, 1962, with about 15 five-year-olds taking lessons in an Anglican Church, now instructs 100 in two churches and has a waiting list of 200 for next fall.

Apart from expansion in size — the teaching staff numbers five this year while one teacher handled classes the first year — the school measures its swift success by the quick fluency and accurate accents of the French spoken by its pupils.

Says a mother who had five years of high-school French of her six-year-old son's progress with the language in a year: "He corrects my pronunciation and grammar."

The French School, which provides a full curriculum with all instruction in French, was founded by three married couples indignant about the low calibre of French resulting from instruction in regular schools.

MONTHLY FEE $10
Lawyers Harry Giles and George Bridgen and their wives, a psychologist and a nurse respectively, are English-speaking Torontonians who were dissatisfied with the way they were taught French and want their children to be "truly bilingual Canadians."

Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Lagrègne, who came to Canada from France and felt the teaching of French was being started too late in the public schools, joined the English-speaking couples in the French school enterprise.

Parents pay $30 a month to have their children instructed in a curriculum that stresses French—but also includes advanced features of teaching in other subjects such as arithmetic and music.

This year the school operates two Grade 1 classes, three kindergartens and a nursery school in one church building, a nursery and kindergarten at another. Next year Grade 2 will be initiated and English will be introduced as a second language.

TO TEACH RUSSIAN
The school has a charter from the Toronto board of education, an advisory committee of University of Toronto professors and, since March, certification from the government of France accepting its standards as equivalent to a lycée in France.

One-Half Premature Babies Reported 'Undernourished'

By GERRY McNEIL
QUEBEC (CP) — Research at the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal has led to a distinction between premature babies and those who are undernourished in the womb.

The study has shown that premature babies—born before the normal period of pregnancy—is completed—begin to catch up with physical standards before too long.

About half the babies previously labelled premature were actually born after a full-term pregnancy. But they suffered from lack of nourishment as a result of some defect in the placenta of the mother.

As a result, they were beaten before they started.

"These babies seem to sense their mother's womb that they aren't getting a fair deal," Dr. Thomas Primrose, one of the researchers, told reporters at the 33rd annual reunion of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Future plans include a program of special French lessons for older brothers and sisters of children attending the school and an advisory program so parents can keep pace with their children.

Mr. Giles, the school's president, says Russian and Spanish will be introduced as compulsory subjects in Grade 3.

"Eventually we hope to establish a bilingual college allied to the University of Toronto or York University," he says. "It would be chiefly for the training of bilingual teachers—an urgent problem in Ontario."

The French government has already promised to loan 30 leading teachers for the college.

In an obvious effort to survive, the heart of the unborn child enlarges itself and begins pumping more blood.

"This is fantastic," Dr. Primrose said. It was one of the earliest recorded attempts of a human being to meet his environment.

But despite valiant efforts, many of these babies died in the womb or shortly after birth. They were often born with physical and mental defects, or developed them.

AN PREDICT BIRTHS
Work by Dr. F. J. Tweedie, Fredricton - born member of the hospital's department of obstetrics and gynaecology, had shown that the birth of such babies could be predicted.

The increase in circumference of the mother's abdomen continued at a steady rate until about the 32nd week of pregnancy, then fell off. Normally, growth continued until just before the child is born.

Further study showed that placement of the mother was weak placenta, the effect was small and in a precarious condition. Normally the placenta is a tough body that can take a lot of punishment. Research to determine what, if anything happened to the goes wrong is under way.

Massive Development Set For St. John River Valley

FREDERICTON (CP) — The 400-mile-long St. John River, already feeding tremendous revenue into the New Brunswick treasury from tourist trade, fertile valley farms and forest products, is to be tapped in the most massive manner yet.

The broad and turbulent waterway, with its roots in north-eastern Maine and Quebec and its mouth in Saint John Harbor, is seen as the most economical source of power for the domestic requirements of the province in the next decade.

Armed with a $20,000,000 grant from Ottawa, the province is about to begin building a single power installation at Mactaquac, 14 miles upstream from here, that would churn out more electricity than was produced in the province last year.

Ottawa offered one-fifth of the Atlantic Development Board's $100,000,000 kitty and the province simultaneously said construction would begin in January, 1963.

The cost will be $110,000,000—more than the total revenue of the province in the 1962-63 fiscal year. The expenditure will be spread over an 11-year period until 1976 when the last of six huge generators will be in place and producing.

STARTS IN 1968
The first two units will be feeding 84,000 kilowatts of power into the lines of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission in 1968. Capacity output of the full complex will be 504,000 kilowatts.

The power commission told the A.D.P. in a brief asking for the assistance that the Mactaquac development is particularly necessary if the province expects to attract power-hungry industries.

"The most economical source of electrical power which can be developed to meet the increased system loads from 1968 onward is a hydro-electric development at Mactaquac," the brief said. But officials add quickly that this doesn't spell the end of thermal power.

Commission General Manager R. E. Tweeddale says integration of the two types of power is necessary because the province will need, in 1980, four times last year's total power output of 1,600,000 kilowatt hours.

"If we develop the whole St. John River we will get only 2,500,000 kilowatt hours," WILL EMPLOY 2500
Constructing the 1,700-foot dam just below the junction of the Mactaquac and St. John Rivers will inject $42,000,000 into the provincial economy for labor and materials. About 2,500 persons will be employed in peak periods of construction.

The long-range advantage was spelled out by Daniel A. Riley, chairman of the commission and a member of the New Brunswick cabinet.

Mactaquac is destined primarily to attract "power-intensive industries," he said.

The province has increased its effort recently in the fields of pulp and paper production, base metal production and processing and the chemical industries.

The long, curving dam will sufficiently impede the river to
