MARY HAYWORTH

Divorced Man Is Confused By Girl Friend's Demands

Dear Mary Haworth: I am a divorced man, 35, with a son 12, in his mother's care. I have been going steady for 18 months with a girl (around 30) from Belgium. I have wished to marry her, but desire pulls one way and intellect another.

Alimony payments would make it difficult to start another family; yet I would have tried, gladly, if it weren't for Berthe's instability. She has been married twice, once in Belgium and once here. Two children by her first marriage, and one by the second, have been turned over to others for adoption.

With little business experience, she is always looking for the perfect job, and never holds any job longer than a few weeks. I've had to help her financially as best I could, which puts me in a bad way, as my funds are limited.

She wants to be married very badly, it seems, as she has talked of nothing else from the start. Also she wants a child right away and I would like to make her happy, but I don't want another marital failure, as I too know the heartache of divorce and having to give up a child.

WOMAN DEMANDS

She is extremely jealous and expects me to give up anything and everything not connected with her, including my son, though I've explained that I love him and need him, and have to see him when he wants to see me, every month or six weeks. I have tried to induce her to meet him and like him, but she refuses; and I've even felt guilty seeing him, knowing her views as I do. Well, a few days ago she blew up and said I would have to choose between her and him; that she won't see me again if I see my son any more. I can't agree to this; but how can I get her to be more reasonable?

Also, how can I convince myself now that she would be a good wife? I haven't seen her in a week and miss her very much. Thanks for your advice. W.W.

OFFERS WARNING

Dear W.W.: Your letter has been a long time in transit; and by now you may be back in Berthe's clutches. And possibly even married to her, on the heel of a sleigh of suffering estrangement—plotted by her to put you in the mood to accept her senseless terms. But here's hoping you are still in the clear, in view of the facts as I see them.

Using your head, there is no way to convince yourself she would be a good wife, because her past history and present behavior, towards your son and as a wage-earner, show that she hasn't the heart or the character for it.

What one is before marriage, or outside of marriage, one will be in marriage. So don't imagine that a legal ceremony is going to work a magic difference in Berthe's customarily jealous, disorderly, irresponsible mode of behavior—and her destructive determination to weed your son out of your life.

St. Charles Hold C.W.L. Meeting

The St. Charles Parish Council held their annual meeting on Sunday, April 19th, at 8 p.m. Meeting opened with Prayer.

That fortunately for him, he studied for the ministry before switching to the social welfare field. And, in his seminary studies in the teens, he encountered a religious instructor who taught the boys that their character—if and when they entered the ministry—would be precisely what it had been in their preparatory years.

Responsive to the professor's teaching, this chap started then and there to bring his character into good repair and under habitual self-control; and looking back, he calls it the best conditioning for marriage a man could have. But he also finds it a form of learning that the average youngster, in the average educational routine, is seldom exposed to.

In your situation, facing Berthe's ultimatum, your allegiance belongs to your son absolutely, as against her, since a choice is required. And it is to your credit that at the time of writing me, you were still standing firm after a week's "war of nerves," unleashed by her to undermine your morale and strengthen her hand (she hopes).

M.H. Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of this newspaper.

led by the Director, Rev. Charles Gallant. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the Secretary, and approved as read.

The Treasurer gave her report. Income for the year amounted to $872.31. Expenses $36.23, which leaves a balance of $136.03 on hand.

Correspondence consisted of a letter of thanks from the Maryknoll Sisters. And a letter from the Provincial President, also one from the Convener of Finance.

April 26th, Feast of our Lady of Good Counsel will be observed by Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament, Social Action Convener reported having visited and treated the sick.

The Director, Rev. Charles Gallant then spoke to the women. He thanked the officers for the past year. He also thanked the Parish Council for sponsoring the card parties last winter.

The election of officers followed: President, Mrs. Ben Doucet; Treasurer, Mrs. Wm. Cahill; 1st. Vice-President, Mrs. Ray Peters; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. Earl Peters; 3rd Vice-President, Mrs. Jerome Gallant. This ended the business part of the meeting.

Meeting closed with the Act of Consecration to the Blessed Virgin Mary.
