Bishops Approve Concept They Share Pope's Role

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The assembled bishops of the Roman Catholic Church have approved by a vote of almost six to one a concept that they share authority with the Pope.

It was the second day in a row that the Vatican ecumenical council had taken historic votes with possibly profound significance for Roman Catholic thinking and for efforts to promote Christian unity.

On Tuesday, the 2,300 council fathers — cardinals, patriarchs, archbishops and bishops—voted to write a chapter on the Virgin Mary into a general document on the church, instead of giving her the emphasis of a separate schema.

On Wednesday, they adopted a view that the church's bishops as a whole, and by divine right, possess in union with the Pope "full and supreme power over the universal church," but that he retains his primacy.

Supporters of the action on Mary and the concept of shared authority had cited the promotion of Christian unity among their arguments. Non - Roman Catholic Christians often have complained that Roman Catholicism overemphasizes Mary and insists too much on papal authority.

APPROVE OTHER ITEMS

The council fathers, also took two other major actions:

—They approved in principle the revival of permanent deacons, but did not go into the question whether the deacons might be married.

—They endorsed a council document opening the way for the use of such native music instruments as tom-toms and bamboo flutes in Roman Catholic religious services in mission lands.

Council action on episcopal-pape authority and on permanent deacons came in the form of test votes designed to guide the council's theological commission in its consideration of the schema "de ecclesia," examining the nature of the church. The test votes were not binding on the council, but huge majorities showed that there would be no trouble achieving the two-thirds majorities required for formal council actions.

U.S. Subsidiaries Plan Cut In Capital Outlay Next Year

By HAROLD MORRISON

WASHINGTON (CP) — Canadian subsidiaries of U.S. companies have shown increases in sales and profits but they plan to reduce capital outlays for 1963 following a two-year rise, the U.S. commerce department says in a survey of U.S. industry's foreign operations.

Capital outlays in Canada are estimated to decline to $1,022,-000,000 in 1963 from $1,181,000,-000 in 1962 and $1,151,000,000 in 1961. Direct investment in all major production, from petroleum to smelting, are estimated to decline next year.

In contrast, total sales by these Canadian branches and subsidiaries rose to $19,220,000,-000 in 1962, an increase of about $1,380,000,000 over 1961, "reflecting a broad expansion of the Canadian economy," the department said.

The over-all ratio of profit to sales for all foreign operations also rose to 5.44 per cent in 1962 from 5.28 in 1961 and the department noted that this improvement "was primarily in Canadian operations." In Europe, the ratio dropped sharply to 4.83 per cent from 5.75.

Of the total 1962 sales by these U.S. controlled companies in Canada, sales of manufactured goods increased to $9,720,000,000 from $8,920,000,000 in 1961. These companies sold $8,095,000,000 of these manufactured goods to Canadian consumers in 1962, exporting only $1,609,000,000 to the U.S. and $435,000,000 to other countries.

MOSTLY DOMESTIC

"Over 80 per cent of the output from the foreign manufacturing plants in 1962 was sold in the domestic markets of the countries where the plants were located," the department said.

Of the 1962 total sales of $28,100,000,000 by the over-all foreign operations, only about $1,400,000,000 represented exports to the U.S.

"Most of the sales to the U.S. originate in Canada and consist primarily of such traditional items as food products, paper and other wood products, chemicals and metals."

In the six years since 1957, the department estimated that exports to the U.S. from these American operations abroad increased by only $250,000,000—"and this was entirely for Canada."

Selecting some major industries, the department concluded that in Canada these U.S.—controlled firms are relying less on U.S. and more on Canadian domestic sources for their investment funds.

For example, total investment by mining, smelting, petroleum and manufacturing companies increased to $2,048,000,000 in 1962 from $1,852,000,000 in 1961. Of this total, the amount coming from the U.S. dropped to $164,000,000 in 1962 from $235,-000,000 in 1961.

Supply Ships Complete Job Despite Ice

OTTAWA (CP) — The transport department has reported that its icebreakers and supply vessels have completed delivering more than 100,000 tons of cargo to nearly 30 ports in the Canadian Arctic despite the worst ice conditions ever encountered.

A total of 19 coast guard vessels, including seven icebreakers and about 20 commercial ships, eight of them under charter to the department, took part in the supply operations. A number of coast guard ships suffered dented plates from the ice floes with the exception of three shallow-draft ships, all were able to continue.

The icebreakers now will undergo refit in preparation for winter icebreaking operations on the East Coast and the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

New British Commissioner Stresses Trade

OTTAWA (CP) — Sir Henry Lintott, newly - named British high commissioner to Canada, arrived here and said his first move will be to consult his advisers here on improving the balance of Anglo - Canadian trade.

Sir Henry said his first objectives will be to make contacts with Canadian government leaders and consult the high commissioner's staff on trade problems. He said in Montreal Tuesday on his arrival that trade is the principal problem facing the two countries.

He was accompanied by his wife and two children, John, 13 and Harriet, 9.

SHILLING GIVES LARGE RETURN

LONDON (AP) — Three Scottish tyyists are richer by £620 (-1,860)— for the outlay of one shilling.

The shilling bought four freak three-penny postage stamps at a Glasgow post office. The stamps, printed to celebrate the Red Cross centenary, missed a printing process and show a white instead of a red cross.

At a stamp auction the stamps fetched a total of £620.

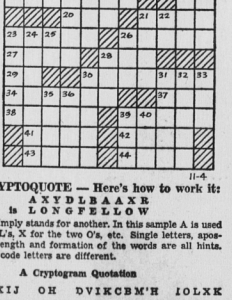
Saturday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Opening lead— king of diamonds.

It takes a certain amount of luck to win a bridge tournament — even though all championship tournaments are played in duplicate form. After all, your opponents may play well against you and this is a matter of luck.

But it also takes skill, on top of luck, to win a tournament, and, of the two, skill is by far the more important factor. So any time you hear of someone winning a championship, it's reasonable to assume that the result is attributable more to good play then to just luck.

Terence Reese and Boris Schapiro, British stars, played in a tournament in St. Vincent, Italy, several years ago and easily won the pair event in which 140 pairs were entered. Here is a remarkable hand in which they participated and earned a top score for their efforts.

Schapiro, sitting East, opened the bidding with three diamonds. South overcalled with three hearts and Reese, resisting the impulse to double, modestly bid four diamonds, confident that the bidding would not suddenly die.

Sure enough, North bid four hearts, which came around to Reese after East and South had passed. Most players would certainly have doubled at this point with the West hand, especially against vulnerable opponents, but Reese decided he would get a better score at five diamonds doubled (the opponents were sure to double or else bid five hearts) than he would at four hearts doubled.

So he bid five diamonds (which could not be defeated) and South, after two passes, bid five hearts. Reese had played possum long enough, so he doubled. South somewhat boldly redoubled and missed making the contract by three tricks—1,600 points.

It turned out that four hearts doubled, down two, would have been about an average score, that five diamonds doubled and made would have been above average; but that five hearts redoubled, down three, was a clear top score.
