John Barley-Corn, My Foe.

John Barley-Corn, my foe, John,
The song I have to sing
Is not in honor of you, John,
E'en though you are a king.
Your subjects they are legion, John,
I find where'er I go ;
They wear your yoke upon their necks,
John Barley-Corn, my foe.

John Barley-Corn, my foe, John,
By your despotic sway
The people of our country, John,
Are suffering to-day.
You lay the lash upon their backs,
Yet willingly they go
And pay allegiance at the polls,
John Barley-corn, my foe.

John Barley-Corn, my foe, John,
You have broken many a heart,
And caused the bitter tear, John,
From many an eye to start,
The widow and the fatherless
From pleasant homes to go,
And lead a life of sin and shame,
John Barley-Corn, my foe.

John Barley-Corn, my foe, John,
May Heaven speed the hour,
When temperance shall wear the crown
And Rum shall lose its power ;
When from the East unto the West
The people all shall know
That greatest curse has been removed,
John Barley-Corn, my foe !

How A Woman Buys Meat.

When a woman enters a butcher shop to select a piece of meat for dinner she has her mind made up to take mutton roast. Therefore, when the butcher rubs his hands, and asks what she will have, she promptly replies:

"I'll take some of that mut—"

She stops there. Her eye has caught sight of ham, and she suddenly decides to take ham.

"Best ham I ever saw, madam ; how much ?"

"Well, you may give me three p——. Well, I dont know, either. My husband was saying he'd like some sausage."

"Plenty, madam. Now, then, how much will you have?"

"It's pork sausage, is it ?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Well, I suppose a pound would be enough for our small family; but—but—"

"Shall I weigh a pound, madam!"

"I was wondering if a veal pot-pie wouldn't suit him better," she answered. "You have veal, I suppose ?"

"Oh, yes, madam; heres a splendid bit of veal, as good a piece as ever I saw."

"Yes, that does look like veal," she says, lifting it up.

"And you'll take it ?"

"Let's see," she muses. "Y——, no, I guess not. I'd better take pork chops."

"Nice chops ! How much ?" he asks.

"One of those slices will weigh a pound I suppose ?

"About a pound, madam."

"And it was a young hog ?"

"Quite youngish, madam."

"And can you cut the rind off ?"

"Yes, madam."

"Well," she says, heaving a sigh, "I guess you may give me some beefsteak—some that's nice, and be sure and cut all the bones out."

And she'd only been half an hour coming to the point.

The Tramp's Last Request.

The Michigan tramp does not sit still and let the moss accumulate on his back, while all the rest of the world goes ahead. Yesterday a genuine specimen of the iron-plated traveller of highways called at a house on Second street and asked for dinner.

"No food to spare." was the reply.

"Can't you give me an old coat?"

"No."

"Or a pair of old boots?"

"No."

"Can't you spare me even a pair of socks ?"

"No,"

"Nor a piece of bread ?"

"No."

"The fellow's chin fell as he fumbled in his pocket, and his voice had a lonesome sound as he pulled out a small autograph album, and said :

"Well, if you can't do any better, I'll have to be satisfied with your ottergraph ! Please use blue ink!"—Detroit Free Press.

No Time.

No time to mend your dress, but when the little hole catches on a nail and becomes a great rent, then you will have time to mend it, and it will be an hour's work, while five minutes would be enough for the little hole.

No time to pull up that weed, but when your garden is full of weeds you will find you must exterminate them, and you will toil in the hot sun for a whole day.

No time to teach that little child of yours, to give it habits of neatness and show it what is right and what is wrong! No time! Ah! but you will have time enough in the after years to bewail your forgetfulness of that little immortal soul entrusted to your keeping !

We all have time for twenty things a day which we do not do, busy as we may think ourselves.

The Greatest Medical Discovery since the Creation of Man, or since the Commencement of the Christian Era.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTERS are acknowledged by all who have used them, to act quicker than any other plaster they ever before tried, and that one of these plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different: the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

Physicians in all ages have thoroughly tested and well know the effect of Capsicum; and it has always been more or less used as a medical agent for an outward application; but it is only of very recent date that its advantages in a porous plaster have been discovered. Being, however, convinced of the wonderful cures effected by DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTERS, and their superiority over all other plasters, they now actually prescribe them, in their practice, for such diseases as rheumatism, pain in the side and back, and all such cases as have required the use of plasters or liniment. After you have tried other plasters and liniments, and they have failed, and you want a certain cure, ask your druggist for DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTER. You can hardly believe your own convictions of its wonderful effects. Although powerful and quick in its action, you can rely on its safety for the most delicate person to wear, as it is free from lead and other poisonous material commonly used in the manufacture of ordinary plasters. One trial is a sufficient guarantee of its merits, and one plaster will sell hundreds to your friends.

Ask your druggist for DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTER, and take no other; or, on receipt of 25 cents for one, $1 for five, or $2 for a dozen, they will be mailed, post paid, to any address in the United States or Canadas.
