Healy's Hibernian Minstrel Company and Mirror of Ireland will open at Market Hall on Friday and Saturday, June 28th and 29th. The entertainment is one well-known to the Charlottetown public as being first class of its kind when it last visited us, and judging from notices from the press elsewhere it has in no way deteriorated. The St. John Telegraph says:—"Where such a varied performance is given as by Healy's Hibernian Combination it is rare, indeed, that everything is of the best description. There is not one act but received the utmost attention and was greeted with marks of approval. The minstrel scene was done in white face and was something out of the usual class, the end men beginning the first part with an Irish jig. During the unrolling of the scenery a fine olio was given embracing all the specialties generally pre-mented, but they had the merit of being new. May Ten Brock and Maud Morrissey, vocalists, with a different class of pieces, were really good, in fact the former is an old favorite with Saint John audience. John E. Henshaw's specialties are as surprising as they are numerous. Whether in the Dutch or colored character he loses his identity, and acts in a free and easy manner. Billy McGann's north of Ireland sketches are one of the leading features of the show. There are two sketches which are produced in a satisfactory manner. That entitled 'Innocence, Crime and Justice' kept the audience in a content roar. Billy McGann took the part of the Irish Justice, J. E. Henshaw was the prosecuting Attorney and Jas. Graham the Crushed Lawyer—the leading characters. From beginning to end there was not one word nor act that would cause offence to any one, and in this respect it is a departure from the usual run of such troupes."

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

(Special Despatch to Examiner.)

LONDON, June 22. Congress, at Monday's sitting, will discuss the details of the arrangement made on Saturday, permitting the Turks to garrison the Balkan passes.

Later despatches declare that this concession, on the part of Russia, is unquestionably, conditional upon the establishment of the autonomy of Roumelia, and the evacuation of the interior, by Turkish troops.

The interior organization of the province will be next discussed.

The conditions laid down by Russia are absolute. It is understood that the negotiations relative to a guarantee for the autonomy of the province will give rise to an animated debate. The question of the evacuation of the fortresses will also rise in connection with the organization of Roumelia.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 23.

The whole Turkish right-wing has made a forward movement.

It is understood that England advocates the formation of gendarmes to replace the Russian army of occupation.

The Russians recently requested the British Consul at Bourgees to billet some of their soldiers, and, in consequence of his refusal, they threatened to tear down the British flag.

Minister Layard instructed the Consul to confine himself to a protest.

BELGRADE, June 23.

A large number of Russian officers are expected here to-morrow.

It is stated, in well-informed circles, that in certain eventualities two divisions of Russian infantry will enter the country as reinforcements to the Servian army.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 23.

There is much excitement here concerning the arrangement by which Turkey is allowed to occupy the Balkan Passes; and it is thought that Count Schouvaloff is accountable for making this concession.
