PROFESSOR SATTLE, of Munich, after diligent examination of four copper coins struck in the reign of Herod Antipas, the son of Herod the Great, has come to the conclusion that Christ was born in the 749th and not in the 754th year after the founding of Rome, as usually assumed. He thinks the former date agrees to the testimony of Matthew that Christ was born toward the end of the reign of Herod the Great, the statement of Luke that he was born at the time of Augustus Caesar's census of Judea, and also the statement of that evangelist John began to baptize in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar. If Professor Sattle's calculations are correct, the present year is 1888 of the Christian era instead of 1883.

HOPES and FAT CATTLE.—Says the Truro Star: Mr. James A. Leaman returned from P. E. Island on Saturday. While there he purchased a car load of horses and a car load of fat cattle. The horses and cattle will arrive in Truro next week. Two animals, a cow and a steer, have already arrived, and we are bound to say that they are among the finest ever seen in Truro. The live weight of the steer was 1,400 lbs. The cow is still to be seen in Mr. Leaman's barn. She weighs 1,300 lbs., and is one of the handsomest and certainly the fattest cow we ever saw. These two animals flourish great credit on "Iswadale" farm, and its enterprising proprietor, Robt. Bridges, Esq., of Charlottetown, P. E. Island.

Great things are going on this morning. Out in the orchards under the course back of the apple trees, over in the woods beneath the top of the birch and maple, the chestnut and ash, under the dead leaves on the hillside where the struts are struggling to life; down in the meadows, where the brown grasses are brightening; out on the lawn, where the world is just beginning to assert itself by a water's white wave of a snail's grey, without noise or friction or any visible movement, millions of horse power are at work. There's a million of the grave of the cross; the dead spores of last year's lily of the valley begin to get a gentle pressure from below; in tufts of yellow grass a green blade thrusts up her head; the dandelion rattle in an agitation of young competition, and on every fibre of the soil and elm a force which no man may number and no human power resist is working mightily against—N. Land League Convention.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28. At the session of the Irish National Land League of America, to-day, a resolution was passed, charging the British Government with committing outrages against, and the destruction of the Irish people. It also charged the British Government with confiscating the property of the Irish people, forcing them to flee from their native land, driving manufacturers from the country by oppressive laws, and filling the benches of the Irish Courts with purchased Judges. The Convention also passed a resolution pledging moral and material support for the recall of self-government to Ireland, and urging the Irish people throughout the world to purchase nothing from England that they can procure elsewhere.

It is understood that Archbishop Croke has been summoned to Rome to consult with the Pope in regard to the state of Ireland.

A yellow fever scare prevails at Lima and Callao. The Chileans are adopting every known precaution to prevent the spread of the disease, including the sprinkling of the streets with chloride of lime, and water strongly charged with carbonic acid.

Carmody and Morgan, two of the men arrested in Cork on charge of being connected with the dynamite conspiracy, have been discharged from custody. All the other men arrested in Cork have been sent to Liverpool, where they will be tried on that charge.

Advices from Peru report a few unimportant skirmishes. Caecero continue to promise that he will make a raid on Lima, where he hopes the populace will rise and massacre the Chileans. The foreigners are becoming more alarmed and many fear the city is about to witness further trouble. Peace ideas, however, are making progress.

A special from Beauregard, Miss., says: Reports from Georgetown yesterday some what modify previous reports of the number killed, which is now stated at about 18. At Beaulieu's Settlement, Mrs. Ford and several children were killed, and great damage to property done. At Beauregard twelve white and five colored people were killed. One hundred and eleven churches and public buildings in Beauregard—not leaving a building of any pretension remaining. Signs from Beauregard were blown 29 miles, and papers have been found 65 miles away. South-east of Beauregard, eight miles, the cyclone played sad havoc.

Inspector Boyd, of the Glasgow police, at the examination of the dynamite conspirators, swore Bernard Gallagher, when arrested in Glasgow, said he was in America, at the explosion in that city, with which he was charged, occurred. He said he came to England in the steamer "Catalonia," on Feb. 9th, under the name of Campbell. Mr. Boyd also said that Bernard notified the authorities in the early part of this month that he wished to give information. The inspector further testified as to the statements Bernard Gallagher had made touching the doings of the conspirators. He connected O'Donovan Rossa, with their plans; Whitehead, he said, was about the first man to come to England. He said he knew all the conspirators, about thirty in number; he had been in Brooklyn, N. Y. The hearing was then adjourned until Thursday next.

DIED.

In this city, on the 26th of April, James Carmichael, in the 66th year of his age. The deceased was a native of Charlottetown.

Suddenly, after three days illness, at Point Prim, on the 18th of January last, in the twenty-second year of her age, Margaret, beloved daughter of Archibald Finlayson, greatly regretted by a large circle of relatives and friends. Notwithstanding the suddenness of her death she was calm and resigned to the will of Him who doeth all things well, and died in the full assurance of His infinite mercy. She was for the last seven months a member of the Orwell Head Presbyterian Church. Only a month before the 8th Dec., her elder sister, a brother and two sisters, she has left parents, a brother and two sisters, to mourn their great loss; but they do not mourn as those having no hope, as their loss is her eternal gain.

While she lived she pressed hopefully onward, Thinking through each weary day, That the toil of life's road would seem nothing, When she got to the end of the way.

COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. "One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot to grow with hair, after using one bottle of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.
