

A PATHY RUNNING WILD

EVEN PIG AND WHISTLES THREATENED

PIG CANCELLED THIS WEEK!!

The Thursday night Pig 'N Whistle which have become a ritual trademark of UPEI, are in grave danger of becoming an extinct species. The Pig 'N Whistle have been traditionally the major source of revenue for the Student Union. They not only provide students with an opportunity to converse with students in the privacy of their own building, but they also provide work for CP's, bartenders and waitresses. It is unfortunate that the Pigs may have to be cancelled, but the Student Union cannot afford to lose any more money this semester. The last number of Pigs have been very poorly attended and as a result the Union finds that they have been paying out more than they have been taking in. Something had to be done and what was decided was to cancel this weeks Pig (Karson) and have one more trial run the last week of classes before March break. The date is February 28th and the band is the notorious Guinness. Guinness is an Irish band who have never failed to bring the house down at UPEI. Advance sale of tickets will go on sale for this event on Wednesday and Thursday Feb. 27 & 28th.

till 4:00 P.M. each day, but these tickets will be of a limited supply - So you are encouraged to get yours early. Advance tickets allow you to enter as soon as you arrive instead of waiting in long line-ups.

Hopefully, Guinness will go over extremely well and will be an encouraging sign for future Pigs. Your support is urgently needed so set aside February 28th for Guinness -- one last big party before March break.

RUMOUR HATH IT

- that March Break is approaching slowly but surely
- that South Carolina holds an attraction for certain students...eh, Cathy?
- that Cooch holds the record for having the most people in an apartment at one time
- that B. Beairsto gets his education at UPEI in the TV room
- that Gary M. had to put up with two crazy girls this weekend, or was it the other way around?
- that Marie L. can't whistle
- that Jayne H.'s voice is back...Look out Blanchard.
- that floor hockey and Don's don't get along
- that Blanchard is planning a House party
- that it must be a leap year...the Wimp got a rose on Valentine's Day
- that Wade is becoming notorious for making night calls at Bernadine
- that Carol's bed is haunted, much to Terry's misfortune
- that Kim had a visitor thrown upon her while she was in the closet
- that Lynn S. is an "OLD MAID"
