Prince Welfare Agency Deals In Human Tragedy

(Editor's note: This is another in a series of articles concerning organizations taking part in the province-wide United Fund campaign).

By JEAN MACISAAC
Guardian - Patriot Staff Writer

Human troubles come in expensive packages costly to every one of us, because the hidden cost of unhappy living is the human and social tragedy of family breakdown.

The Prince County Catholic Welfare Agency, budgeting for $18,345 in the United Appeal, serves well over 1,000 families every year on every level of society and individuals of any age from the cradle to the grave.

The workers meet with marital discord, sickness, economic crises, delinquent children, unwed mothers, childless families in search of adoption or tragic home conditions victimizing children. They see the aged, the blind and the deaf, and almost every conceivable type of social problem.

NEEDED COUNSELLING

At least 300 of the families who passed through the agency last year needed intensive case work by way of family counselling. Thirty-four unwed mothers were helped and 30 new adoption placements were made.

The Prince County Welfare is accredited as a child placing agency. Here studies are made of child and prospective adoptive parents, choosing a particular home for a particular child.

Temporary boarding care is another service, and many children are serviced in their own homes. These latter often suffer neglect on the part of parents who are careless about sending them to school or church. In some cases neglect is so serious referral to the director of child welfare is necessary, and other cases wind up in court.

Family problems are many. Low standards of living, terrible housing conditions, unemployment, unhappiness and quarrels, alcoholism and deserted mothers — all these and many others brought parents to the agency during the past year. Services were given to both Protestant and Catholic clients.

COME TOO LATE

Unmarried mothers come to the agency, but sometimes they come too late to assure the best services. Very often this results in emotional problems which prevents the mother from making the best plans for her child. The results can be tragic if the mother refuses to give her child the advantages of a good home through adoption. It has been found that parents are often very little help in this respect.

The aged are worthy of every effort to assure their happiness during their last days on earth. The agency tries to give them the warm and secure environment of a happy home. Some of them live a destitute life.

"It is our experience" an annual report reads, "that teenage children leave school with very little academic or vocational training whereby they are fitted to earn a decent standard of living" Much human potential is wasted in this way.

Probably one of the most disheartening aspects of this work, the agency feels, is the attitude of so many people to those who are deemed "no goods". It would be well to remember, the director notes, that all are poor in one sense or another and everyone needs the help of his neighbour in one way or another.

Dr. R. W. Auld, Kensington, was summoned and after receiving medical attention the victim was taken to hospital by Davison ambulance, where the fractured leg was operated on and placed in a cast.

Truck Driver Drowned Says Coroner's Inquest

SUMMERSIDE — Death by drowning in the truck he was driving on May 1, 1962, when it plunged over the east side of the Summerside Marine Wharf about 5 p.m., was the decision of a coroner's jury which met at Summerside last night in connection with the death of George Leonard Dyment.

Coroner Dr. Wilfred E. Callaghan presided at the inquest, and the Crown was represented by Summerside Police Chief Donald Wannamaker.

The autopsy report revealed that death was due to drowning, and that there was no trace of alcohol.

Lawrence Gallant, the first of three witnesses, told of his escape by jumping from the truck when it seemed evident that the vehicle would plunge over the cement ramp into the water.

Arriving at the wharf about 5 p.m. from where they were hauling potatoes, he said the deceased had turned the truck toward the ramp to back into a railway car, and appeared to have difficulty in getting the truck into reverse as it continued forward at a "creeping" rate of speed towards the side of wharf and over into the harbor.

The witness said he had jumped from the truck and had yelled at Mr. Dyment to jump also.

Near the end of his testimony at the inquest last night the witness fainted and fell to the floor.

After being revived however, he continued with testimony and in answers to questions from the jury stated they had not been drinking and that there was no liquor in the truck. He said he had not heard any noise of brakes, but rather the sound of shifting gears as if the driver was having difficulty getting the truck into reverse.

BRAKES DEFECTIVE

Otis MacKinnon, the second witness, a mechanic, told of towing the truck from the wharf after it had been recovered by a crane hoist, and of later doing some repairs to the vehicle. He said he found the brake linings on a left wheel had been completely worn out so that the metal of the brake shoe was coming in direct contact with the brake drum. He said that the rubbers retaining the brake fluid at this wheel had been blown out, and the effect of this would be total loss of brake fluid and loss of brake power to all four wheels.

Ernest Arsenault, St. Eleanors farmer, owner of the truck, and employer of the deceased who had just commenced work for him on the day of the accident, said he had driven the truck a couple of days previously and had not noticed anything wrong with the brakes.

He told of having earlier had a new engine installed in this truck, a 1959 GMC, and that he had asked the garage people to put the truck in good road order for him at that time.

Members of the jury were Stanley Grove, foreman; Claud Harkness, Walter Duggan, Willard Walfield and David Wells.

Albany Lions Club Receives Charter

SUMMERSIDE — The newest Lions Club in Prince Edward Island was presented with its charter last night. The new club is at Albany with a membership of 16 at present. New King Lion is Wilfred F. MacCormac; first vice-president is Donald Cameron; second vice-president is Alastair MacLeod and secretary-treasurer is C. H. MacDonald.

The charter banquet meeting was held at Albany with the Kensington Lions Club as sponsors and representatives from other Lions Clubs of the area also present. Represented were Kensington, Summerside, Charlottetown, Souris, St. Eleanors and O'Leary, who just recently received its charter.

J. George MacKay gave the civic welcome to the new Lions Club and welcomed Albany to Lionism. Mr. MacKay noted, as he studied literature on Lionism, that it was one of the few organizations that have no racial or religious discrimination. He mentioned some facts and figures about Lionism and termed it "a united group of men working shoulder to shoulder for the betterment of the community and their lives."

Marvin Wiley, zone chairman of the district and Joseph Molloy spoke briefly, outlining their tasks and how they may assist the new Lions club and vice versa. Mr. Wiley explained how each province in District 41N1 (Maine, N.B. and P.E.I.) is broken into regions and zones. Mr. Molloy stated some of the projects carried out by Lions on provincial and world levels.

DISTRICT GOVERNOR

District governor Colin MacKay was guest speaker and presented the club with its charter. Mr. MacKay spoke on Lionism. He lauded the Island for inception of the second Lions Club within a month. He termed the founding of this new club as 'a culmination of a desire to 'extend Lionism and also the beginning of a new adventure for members. To me this is a dream come true.'

Mr. MacKay gave credit to the Kensington club for sponsoring the new organization. He outlined the size, scope and works of Lions International.

The district governor explained that the insignia of the club, two Lions facing in opposite directions from a circle, symbolized that the circle was the band of union and the lions facing in opposite directions meant that Lions are always looking for new fields of service and planning. Commenting on the motto "We Serve" he stated that a good member must serve with grace and humility.

Describing the growth of Lonism, he noted that more than two clubs per day throughout the world have been formed over the past 10 years or so. "Each club is an integral unit," he said, "but the heart of the organization of Lionism lies with the individual member."

ISSUES CHALLENGE

Mr. MacKay issued a challenge to the new club to "bring your membership up to 31 and begin immediately while the fire is still hot." He stated that it is very difficult to operate efficiently with a small membership, which often meant doubling up on offices, such as secretary-treasurer, which the Albany club was forced to do.

The charter was accepted on behalf of the club by King Lion MacCormac, who also presented District Governor MacKay with a gift from the club. Each of the visiting clubs presented the new club with a useful club gift.

New members of the Albany club are Earle Boulter, Russell Noonan, Alex Dawson, Dan Keough, William MacLennan, Lester MacLeod, Lawson Jenkins, Kenneth Flavell, W. F. MacCormac, Donald Cameron, Alastair MacLeod, C. H. MacDonald, Louis McCourt, George Green, Layton Green and Philip Noonan.

Theatre As Creative Art Outlined At S'side

SUMMERSIDE — "How are we going to be accepted as a profession and where are we going to take our place in society," said Mrs. Norma Springford, Montreal, who this week is conducting a seminar for directors at Prince of Wales College in Charlottetown.

Mrs. Springford was guest speaker yesterday at the noon luncheon meeting of the Summerside Rotary Club.

Born in Saint John, N. B., Mrs. Springford now owns her own theatre in Montreal, "Mountain Playhouse." She has lectured at McGill University and Sir George Williams College in Montreal.

Mrs. Springford said that in the days when she was a little girl, popular opinion was skeptical of the theatre. "There seemed to be an unwholesome, unhealthy, unwashed air about the whole thing," she said.

The drama advisor continued, "professions need training. Where do you start in that nebulous thing, the world of entertainment?". She said she often hears people talking to one another outside the theatre following a performance and they whisperedly ask one another "I wonder what these people do in real life."

She said a theatrical production is a heightened picture of ordinary life. "We struggle to give something of ourselves. A painter can paint exclusively for himself and a writer can write for his own pleasure, but a theatre must have an audience of at least one. People sometimes criticize, but usually in groups of two," she noted.

Mrs. Springford told the Rotarians that all people need to have creativity as part of their lives, and the community theatre is a means of achieving this end. "This will prevent us from having stereotyped characters," she said.

NATIONAL THEATRE

The guest speaker forecast that some day in the not too distant future Canada will have a national theatre. Stratford, Ontario, was one of the great theatres, she noted.

"We like a good clean fight and a good audience," she concluded, "Don't just buy a ticket come backstage and see us too."

Mrs. Springford was introduced by J. Watson MacNaught, QC, and thanked by Francis MacNeill.

President Edgar Cannon presided at the meeting. It was announced that the Rotary auction this year was smaller than last year's although the crowd present helped the items to be sold well.

Bedeque Driver Fined On Negligence Charge

SUMMERSIDE BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN

A Central Bedeque man, Douglas George Bradshaw, was fined $75 and costs plus an automatic suspension of his driver's license when he pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of criminal negligence before Magistrate W. Chester S. MacDonald in Prince County magistrate's court.

In passing sentence, the Magistrate warned accused that if he ever comes before the court again on any highway traffic charge, he will be liable to lose his license for a period of up to three years.

The charge arose when a member of the Borden RCMP observed Bradshaw pass several cars on a solid white line going around a curve, then passing several other vehicles in a long line, driving to the left side of the road at a great rate of speed and almost causing an accident on many occasions. RCMP stated traffic was fairly heavy at the time.

Raymond John Cotton, St. Eleanors; Eugene W. Callaghan, St. Eleanors and William B. Noonan, Carlton Siding, were each fined $75 and costs when they pleaded guilty to separate charges of driving while their ability was impaired by alcohol.

Norbert Frederick Noonan, North Carleton, pleaded not guilty to a charge of driving while his ability was impaired by alcohol and also pleaded not guilty to a charge of failing to stop and leave his name and address after being involved in an accident. The case was adjourned until Oct. 25 to set date for hearing. Defence Counsel is J. Watson MacNaught, QC.

TWO CHARGES

Lester Wallace Noye, Mount Pleasant, was fined $50 and costs for driving while his license was suspended. On a second charge of possession of intoxicating liquor in a place other than the residence, he pleaded not guilty and the case was adjourned to Oct. 23.

Carl Walter Semple, New Annan, pleaded not guilty to a charge of passing on the left side of the highway when oncoming traffic did not permit safe passage, and the case was adjourned to Oct. 25.

Robert Gordon Millar, Miscouche, was fined $10 and costs for driving without due care and attention.

Three residents of Cape Breton, N.S., Melvin Edward Covey, Leonard Vincent Colin and David Roy Boutilier, pleaded guilty to a charge of taking a car without the owner's consent, and the trio was remanded in custody for one week.

The trio took a car belonging to Mercier Mullin, Summerside East and drove it towards the Borden area where they were arrested by member of the Borden detachment RCMP.

William George Lockerin, Borden, was fined $35 and costs for public intoxication. Borden RCMP stated when accused came to the door of the RCMP barracks, Cst. Oland answered, and Lockerin jumped on him, resulting in a scuffle. No charge of assault was laid.

One accused was fined $20 and costs for public intoxication and another was fined a like amount for possession of intoxicating liquor in a place other than the residence.

Four psychiatrists testified the youth was insane when he shot his mother through the head in April of 1956.

Only Preparation H Contains New Healing Substance... Shrinks Hemorrhoids...Stops Itch

If your doctor thinks that surgery is not necessary, Preparation H may be the answer to your hemorrhoidal problems.

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

All this, without the use of anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.
