A Newspaper Man's Trip. — The first Maritime Province newspaper man who has been able to raise money enough to meet the possible bills and to get off to the Chicago Exhibition is W. L. Cotton, of the Charlottetown Examiner. He passed through St. John westward last night, and when seen by the Sun had as yet seen no reason for turning back. Mr. Cotton will tell the Prince Edward Island people through his paper what he thinks of the fair, which he will investigate for two weeks if he can stand it that long.—St. John Sun.

Oddfellows' Parade.—The Oddfellows of this city attended divine service in Zion Church yesterday morning, when a very appropriate and eloquent discourse was delivered by Rev. D. Sutherland. Headed by the Citizens' Band, the procession presented a very creditable appearance, as usual. After returning to their lodge room, a resolution was passed, conveying the thanks of the Order to Rev. Mr. Sutherland for his able address, and to the trustees and choir of the church.

Cabot Club.—The members of the Cabot Club Mock Parliament were tendered a supper by the President of the Club on Saturday evening last. Immediately afterwards, Mr. George Fields, for years past in the employ of Messrs. Harris & Stewart, and who left this morning for California, was presented with a handsome gold scarf pin, accompanied by an address, to which he made a suitable reply. A short programme was then rendered, at the conclusion of which a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the ladies who had so kindly assisted in making the evening such a social success.

Echoes of the Storm.—The storm of Wednesday last did no damage on sea or land, at Souris, except the blowing down of an old unoccupied building on Chapel Street. At Little River the frame of the new cheese factory, which is building there, was blown down. About half a mile further west a large and valuable barn belonging to Mr. Fidalus McDonald, postmaster, was capsized. The barn of Mr. Isaac Cheverie, of New Zealand, was unroofed. Mrs. Cheverie was knocked down by falling timbers, but was not seriously injured. The barn on the old Campbell farm, Rollo Bay, was laid low before the storm had reached its worst.

Adrift in a Dory.—During the gale on Wednesday, the 26th inst., Donald M. Steele and Owen McAvenie, of Panmure Island, left Georgetown to go to Panmure Island. When about half way down they lost their oars and their little craft became unmanageable. After drifting for about four hours they were rescued from their perilous position by Duncan Campbell of Oyster Creek. Great credit is due Mr. Campbell for the seaman-like manner in which he handled his boat in rescuing the lives of those two men. It is to be hoped the Department of Marine will take the case in hand and make him a suitable reward.

Fire.—The machine shop and foundry of A. White & Son, King Square, was badly gutted by fire early yesterday morning. The fire was observed about five o'clock, and appears to have started in the machine shop, whence the flames spread to the foundry and stable in the rear. A horse in the stable was rescued just in time. Mr. White cannot tell how the fire originated. He estimates that his loss on the buildings and the machinery and goods therein will be in the neighborhood of $5,000. He has insurance for $1,700 in the P. E. Island Mutual. He desires through The Examiner to thanks the firemen and citizens, particularly Mr. Walter P. Doull, for valuable assistance rendered on the occasion.

ABOUT HOSIERY!

We're in shape to talk pretty largely about our Hosiery stock this spring and yet talk truthfully.

We'll be modest, however, and simply say it far outstrips anything we've heretofore shown.

"You can't afford to miss a good thing when it comes to foot-wear. The feet are at the bottom of everything, and if the foundation isn't properly looked after the whole building is liable to tumble down."

We have always kept Hosiery (many ladies say we kept the best), but never had we so large and attractive a variety as now.

A large number of ladies prefer wearing Cashmere Hose all the year round. To meet their requirements we have several lines of beautifully finished summer weight goods We ask special attention to the perfected toe. The stocking is made without any joining whatever at toe, thus avoiding the ridge or cord which so often causes discomfort to the wearer.

A TOTAL ECLIPSE.

Six fold knees is the fact that makes our Children's Eclipse Hose totally eclipse all other makes. No seams to hurt the feet, fully shaped and downright value. It is no wonder our Children's Hose sell at sight. But we fully expect them to do so, and to prepare ourselves with a large stock.

ANOTHER SENSATION.

A Ghastly Find at Kensington Range.

Human Bones Sticking Out of the Ground.

As if the town were not already furnished with sufficient sensation, there has been added to the poisoning case the discovery of a mystery which will require the ability of our detectives to unravel. Yesterday afternoon, as Mr. W. H. Long and a companion were walking over Kensington Range, they came across a hole in the ground, near a small grove of trees on the lower end of the Range near the butts. Mr. Long's attention was attracted by some bones that were sticking up in the bottom of the hole. For curiosity he examined them closely, and then discovered that they were human bones. He pulled two of them out of the hole and brought them back to town with him. The hole in which the bones were buried had not been lately disturbed, so far as Mr. Long could observe, and in his opinion the remaining bones of the skeleton are there buried deeper down. The bones were shown to Dr. Kelly to-day, who declared them to have belonged to the skeleton of a young child of 3 or 4 years of age. From their appearance, the doctor thinks they must have been buried some time.

Widespread Ruin and Death.

THE AWFUL RESULTS OF THE CYCLONE IN OKLAHOMA.

The cyclone, hailstorm and waterspout, which swept over the Territory of Oklahoma last week (as already chronicled in The Examiner), combined to wreak awful destruction in the newly-built towns. It is reported that 62 human lives were sacrificed. It is positive that 40 were killed, while several were fatally and scores seriously injured. The damage to property is inestimable.

The brunt of the storm was laid upon the prosperous little town of Norman, on the Santa Fe Railway, about 20 miles south of Oklahoma City. At that point 31 people were killed, dozens injured, and the town was almost completely destroyed. A pall has overspread the town, business is suspended, and everybody able to render any assistance to the poor unfortunates, or towards removing the dead bodies, are out searching along the track of the cyclone. People are frenzied, and cannot give any estimate of their loss, and knowing nothing except to care for the dead and injured. Oklahoma City has responded nobly, and the mayor and principal citizens organized a relief corps, and are at the scene of destruction. Further on the towns of Downs and Keokuk Falls fared but little better. These towns were nearly devasted, and scores of people injured fatally. The first signs of the impending danger were seen late on Wednesday afternoon in a pall of black clouds overshadowing the north-west for miles around, while further away to the west, rushing across the horizon, could be seen the cyclone. Men left their places and hurried to their homes, where all who could quickly sought the cyclone caves. At 7.30 o'clock the monster from the west reached its antagonist in the northwest, and with their combined strength swooped down on the town of Moore. Houses with precious lives were caught up and carried before the angry torrent, great trees were twisted off and barns and fences and everything in its path were laid low. Passing along for eight miles, it struck the town of Norman, where the damage was repeated, and then on to Downs and Keokuk Falls, and through Pottawotombe, where thousands of dollars' worth of property was demolished. The house of J. O'Connor, near Moore, was destroyed, and O'Connor and his wife and three children and five neighbors, who had sought shelter in the building, were crushed to death. The frame house of John Banks was torn to pieces and he was killed, while others of his family of six were badly injured, three of the children and Mrs. Banks fatally. The home of Henry Dyer was demolished. West of Norman, eight houses were demolished and five people badly injured. Last of the stricken town, two men and two women were killed.

Around Norman, after the cyclone, a fearful hailstorm started in, and after it a violent rainstorm. It was too dark to search out the dead, and to most of the injured and dying who were successful in making their voices heard above the storm's roar there came but little relief. Their would-be rescuers could hear the pitiful cries of the unfortunates, and here and there locate the imprisoned victims, but help in most cases was out of the question, and several of the unfortunates were compelled to lie buried beneath the debris of their houses. Men, women and children battled by the score, spent the dismal night in the rain in an endeavor to find their loved ones. Their search was generally fruitless, and when morning came it found little children crying for their mothers. As soon as it was light enough the men got quickly to work. The victims, who had been imprisoned all night, were carefully carried to improvised hospitals. But few saved more than what they had on their backs. Help from neighboring towns soon arrived and before nightfall something like comfort was provided. In Payne county, 50 miles north and near the territory line, a water spout struck the place about the same time as the cyclone, and though it is known that several houses were swept away it is not known whether any lives were lost.

DRESS GOODS FOR SPRING!

We are now showing a magnificent line of NEW AND FASHIONABLE MATERIALS in all the latest Colorings. As far as Styles and Colorings are concerned, there appears to be a larger demand for Plains and less for Fancies. This is readily explained by the increased popularity of Silk, which is being, and will be, not only used as a fabric for dresses, but largely for trimming and kindred purposes, and thus provide the necessary coloring for the plainer material.
