Grandeur of "Queen of Sheba"

WHICH COMES TO THE STRAND MONDAY AND TUESDAY SHOWN IN GREAT DESERT SCENES.

The grandeur and immensity of the scale on which "Queen of Sheba" which will be at the Strand Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, was produced, under the direction of Gordon Edwards, is shown in these scenes of the picture taken on the desert. These involve the trip of Sheba across the Arabian desert on her first visit to the great wise man of the East, King Solomon; later the crossing of Sheba and her army going to the aid of Solomon, besieged by Adonijah, in the Tower of David; and finally the Queen and her little son return to her kingdom after the child has been returned to Solomon by the king's officers at the court of the king. Like the moving of an army, like the moving of a great caravan over the desert, was the preparation for the making of these scenes. The sand dunes on which they were filmed are at Oxnard, 65 miles from the William Fox West Coast Studios. To this point there had to be transported 600 persons, 300 horses, 14 camels, 31 chariots, some 150 tents including Arabian tents, wardrobe and dressing room tents, sleeping tents for about 300 persons, and there were two motor wagons, accompanied by a chef and a staff of assistants; forty wardrobe boxes besides special wardrobe for principals; four water wagons; and eighteen motor trucks for the transportation of these things from the train over the five miles to location. Like a little city was this complete equipment when spread and set in action for the making of the picture.

For the accommodation of this moving army there were chartered two trains to carry the people and the equipment between Los Angeles and Oxnard—one train of twelve cars for the freight and animals, and a second train of six cars to carry the actors. Beside this, Mr. Edwards and his staff, the principals, and the cameramen went by automobile over the mountain roads.

The picturesquely clad mounted Arabians, followers of the Queen and her fighting men, were all picked, trained, riders, many of them Western cowboys, who gave the greatest zest to the dramatic dash of Sheba's army racing across the sands of the desert when, at the command of the Queen, they rushed to the aid of Solomon besieged by Adonijah.

Not the least thrill of these scenes was the presence of Sheba herself, clad in her picturesque suit of armor, riding in her chariot and urging the driver of her four Arabian horses forward to the rescue of the king. She was accompanied by her troop of charioteers, thirty in all, with each of the gay Oriental chariots drawn by four horses. An Arabian encampment at an oasis in the desert is one of the striking features of the episode that presents Sheba's first trip over the desert. Mounted high on the back of a camel, followed by her men at arms, charioteers, and Nabian slaves on foot, she makes camp in a group of palm trees, where were pitched thirty-five Arabian tents, guarded by Arabians in picturesque flowing robes of striped stuff.

LETTER OF SYMPATHY

Mrs. Jack Dixon, DeSable, Dear Sister,—It is with feelings of deepest sorrow, that we, the members of the DeSable W. M. Society take this opportunity of conveying to you our deepest sympathy in this your time of great sorrow and sadness, which you have been called upon to bear in the sudden death of your mother.

We feel that words of ours would be so empty and of little comfort to you at this time, but we trust and pray that God, who knoweth all things, and doeth everything in His infinite wisdom will sustain and console you in your sad affliction.

We, therefore, as sisters commit you to the love and care of our Father in Heaven, being assured that there is a glorious reunion beyond death and the grave, where there is no sorrow but an endless song of joyous gladness. Who would not wish to die like those.

Whom God's own spirit deigns to bless. To sink into that soft repose. Then make to perfect happiness. Signed on behalf of the Society.

SUPREME COURT—At the Supreme Court yesterday the appeal case of McIvor vs. Jacques, was concluded before Messrs Justices Hazard and Arseneault. This case an action for debt was tried in Summerside last June before Chief Justice Mathieson and a jury, when a verdict was rendered for the plaintiff for $250. Messrs Johnston, K. C. and Bentley, K. C., for the defendant moved for a new trial. Gaudet, K. C., argued contra. Judgment was reserved. Justice Hazard said that as the docket is now in a fairly satisfactory condition it was not judged necessary to continue the already lengthy session. The Court accordingly adjourned sine die.

AT THE POLICE COURT—His Honor had quite a busy time at the Police Court yesterday morning. Two drunks were each fined $5.00; one $20.00 and a fourth $30.00. Four truckmen for breach of the traffic by law were each asked to contribute $1.00 each to the city exchequer. One auto driver handed over $10.00 for overspeeding and four other autoists, with possibly no time to spare and cut the corners were asked to pay $2.00 for taking the short cut. A case of theft was adjourned.

A FIRE ALARM—The firemen were called out yesterday evening about 8.45 for a brisk blaze under the stairway of the residence of Mr. Wm. Davis, Garfield St. When the firemen arrived the house, which is a three tenement was filled with smoke and the fire burning rapidly through the walls in a cupboard under the stairway, which was badly damaged before the firemen had the blaze extinguished. The chemical apparatus only was used. The fire was caused by the occupant striking matches in the cupboard and igniting cloths hanging on the wall.

Prince County Race Horses

Judging by the list of eligible race horses and their known qualities for speed and endurance, Prince County seems destined to have a place in the racing firmament of the "Garden of the Gulf" during the coming race season. Charlottetown horsemen will need not to "overlook any bets" to retain their pre-eminent position in racing.

Kensington and vicinity seems to hold the greater number. W. B. McArthur has Miss Belle Rico and Upton Prince which are both in fine shape for a good season's racing. Miss Belle Rico, decked out in her hundred dollar suit of racing togs will be some sight for connoisseurs of speed. T. Semple will have John P. Smith's horses, viz, Lacopia and Miss Eldred, and his own Luanda. The sensational great pace of 1921. There is also Lois Guy, Kennis, Aubrey and Queen Catherine, owned by Layton Rogers, Eddie Stewart and Gavin Harding, respectively. In Summerside there is Dr. Christopher's beautiful trotter Uscita, now being trained by Mack Steels, which won the Free for All Trot in Charlottetown and acquitted herself so well at Woodstock, N. B., Maine and New Brunswick, in her last season, against the finest of class. There is also Corvine, now owned by Dr. Church, Governor General and Hasty Lad owned by Billy Matthews, Harry O'Brien of Alberton has a Princeton horse which he expects will deliver the "speed" later on. James O'Brien, Jr., Elmfield, has two Capt. Aubrey which will likely be heard from this season. The O'Brien boys are always to be reckoned with in a race. The redoubtable prof. Rockford of Palmer Road has "laid off" the half mile rings for some years.

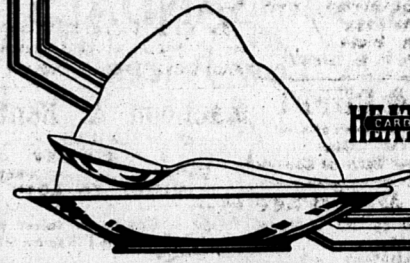

about is reported to have a "dark one" and is liable to break into the "Kingly Sport" stronger than ever. There is yet Bertram Ramsay and Tine Crockett to be heard from in the West, to develop speed in horses is a religious principle with them—and they have developed some good ones. This country appears to be producing more speed horses from year to year, the average of speedy horses per capita to the population of "the Island" is perhaps unequalled by any Province in Canada or U. States in the Union. So many well bred horses are in the province that any time during the racing season in regard to light harness racing an "unknown" from some country we are known as "The Kentucky Cross Roads is liable to upset all Canada."—K.

Great welcome meeting to Commissioner Sawton, Lieut. Governor McKinnon will occupy the chair, supported by Premier Bell, His Worship Mayor Jenkins, and a number of prominent citizens.

"Here Come the Elephants!"

Do you remember how you used to be on the job bright and early to see the circus parade? Remember how you thrilled as the lions, tigers, and the big, lumbering elephants passed in review? How the horses, the blare of the bands, the antics of the clowns, and the glitter of it all inspired you with a fervid determination to see the real show—the big performance in the tent?

You didn't realize it then, but you were getting a lot out of an attractive advertisement.

Perhaps you don't realize it now, but other advertisements, just as attractive, just as interesting and far more valuable to you, parade daily before you in the columns of this paper.

The merchants and makers of everything you want or need, here display before you their most attractive wares. It is truly "the greatest show on earth."

The whole purpose of any advertisement is to excite your curiosity, gain your interest, arouse your desire; to tell you something you don't know; to remind you of something you have forgotten; to convince you of something over which you have been hesitating.

In short, the purpose of an advertisement is, in one way or another, to make you happier.

Read the advertisements and see if that isn't so?

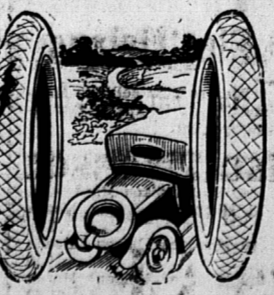

CUTICURA HEALS ITCHY PIMPLES

Face Inflamed and Disfigured. Lost Rest at Night.

"My face broke out with hard, red pimples which festered and scaled over. They were in blisters and itched and burned so badly that I had to scratch them, and my face was inflamed and disfigured. I lost rest at night on account of the irritation. I saw an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample, which relieved me. I bought more, and after using four cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Ointment I was healed, in about three weeks." (Signed) Miss Juliette Ortiz, Box 1015, San Diego, Calif., Feb. 7, 1921.
