MAHA Upholds Eagles Protest

By NORMAN MacDONALD

Frankly we are a bit surprised at the MAHA decision on the RCAF Eagles' protest. Not that it did any great injustice to anyone, but it seemed a departure from what had been the rule down through the years. You can't protest matters of judgement on the part of an umpire or referee. If a ball is a good foot off the plate, and the umpire calls it a strike, a strike it is. But errors in rule interpretation have always been solid grounds for protest. If a referee or umpire or executive head makes an error, someone is bound to get hurt, no matter what ruling you make. The Eagles' protest had been denied, a victory for which the Eagles had fought hard and cleanly would have been wiped out. As it stands, the Combines were forced to play, because of an executive error, without one of their best players. It's a dilemma, and the question is, whose wrongs are you going to redress?" As we have said, the side who receives the benefit of the rule misinterpretation generally loses out, and that is why they should know the rules and not accept favors which boomerang from the officials.

No Need For Error?

The new president was quoted in the newspaper as saying: "there wasn't any need for the error." We think this statement needs some clarification. There wasn't any need for Jack and Jill to "come tumbling down the hill," but they slipped, and most of us have been making the occasional slip ever since Adam sank his molars into that luscious apple, guaranteed steed both by Eve and the serpent, who probably told him he'd belong to the apple sauce generation. Fans, and we have talked to quite a few, seem to be under the impression that this statement was an insinuation that the retiring president acted in bad faith. We hardly credit this, but if it is true, it is just about as despicable as conking a player over the head with a hockey stick. We don't expect presidents to feel neutral. That's too much to expect. But they should act neutral.

We have been throughout the season an admirer of the RCAF Eagles for the way they conduct themselves on the ice. An RCAF fan writing a letter to a newspaper affirms that they are compelled to avoid dirty tactics by order from the CO and this information takes a little of the glory from their exemplary behaviour. If you tie a dog in the backyard you can't give him credit for not biting strangers who pass in front of the house. We still think, however, that with possibly one or two exceptions the RCAF boys are even-tempered and stick strictly to hockey because they like it that way.

Making Long Stories Short

Pat Pickard, SHS student of a few years back, and now teaching physical education in Winnipeg, is doing well in athletics. The basketball team she played with won the Manitoba crown, and played in the Canadian championship games. They didn't emerge as Canadian champions but were well up in the running. Pat was also picked on an all-star volleyball team and travelled to Vancouver for games there.

The 5-3 victory of Junior Legionnaires over Rogers Rangs emphasized how evenly matched these teams are, and how important the breaks are likely to be in deciding victory. Don't let any black cats cross your path in the next week. Junior Legionnaires.

RCAF Eagles Protest Upheld

SUMMERSIDE — The Maritime Amateur Hockey Association ruled Saturday the RCAF Eagles of the PCHL have won their appeal after the RCAF had submitted the appeal to the association on Wednesday.

A telegram sent by the MAHA was received by the RCAF club shortly after 12 noon Saturday.

The statement issued by MAHA Secretary Registrar Mr. Hansen Dowell of Middleton, Nova Scotia said in effect the Eagles have officially won their appeal and can now meet Borden Nationals.

"I am glad that this is over and we can get back to playing hockey again" said PCHL president, Squadron Leader Stewart Logan.

To refresh facts, RCAF appealed to the MAHA of the Prince County League Executive's upholding of a protest made by Enman Drug Combines.

Enman Drug's protest concerned Dave Martin, a Combine forward. Martin was suspended by error for one game because of a 10 minute misconduct he received in the last 10 minutes of the fifth semi-final game between Enman Drug and RCAF.

Tonight the Eagles host Borden Nationals at the RCAF Base in the first game of a best of seven finals for the PCHL championship. Game time is 8:15 p.m.

RCAF disposed of Enman Drug in the semi-final round, four games to two.

Borden, idle for nearly two weeks, defeated Summerside Junior Legionnaires four games to one. Borden last played March 17.

SUMMERSIDE — When Don Clark, secretary of the Prince County Hockey League was asked for comments on the outcome of the appeal of the RCAF Eagles to the MAHA, he had the following to say:

"In my opimon, the decision of MAHA to uphold the protest of the RCAF Eagles is in no sense a vote of non confidence in the Prince County Hockey executive. Based on the human error made by the former president, Mr. Bob Schurman, and his courage and honesty in admitting this error, the majority vote was in favor of the Combines. However the Eagles exercised their democratic prerogative by appealing to MAHA the parent body, who in turn reversed the decision of the local executive. Personally, my chief concern, as in the past is to see a continuance of this league. Too much work has gone into it to allow petty differences and divergence of opinions to defeat this purpose. I feel quite confident that had the decision of MAHA been reversed, the commanding officer, Group Captain Dazz, whose interests extend beyond the confines of the RCAF Station, would have accepted the decision as final and ordered the game replayed. It is fitting that I express on behalf of the league our deep gratitude to the man who guided our destinies since the league's inception two years ago Bob Schurman, as president of the Prince County Hockey League, gave unstintingly of his time and talents, often to the detriment of his personal business interests, to create a smooth operating unit; this in spite of the pessimistic views of many. The irony of the situation resoled by MAHA is that it was created by the unswerving integrity of Mr. Schurman is making public his error and accepting full responsibility for same. Personally, I could not imagine Bob taking any other course (although one was open to him) and I am sure that none more than he would wish the executive to continue its function under the direction of the newly elected president, S-L. Stu Logan. This I intend to do and look forward to a thrilling final series between the Borden Nationals and the RCAF Eagles".

TORONTO MAPLE Leafs' goalie Johnny Bower (center) is embraced by teammates after they shutout the Detroit Red Wings last night, 4-0, to win the coveted Vezina trophy. Toronto's goal-tending team of Bower and Terry Sawchuk ended the season with 173 goals to Detroit's 175 and a heartbreaker for Detroit's rookie goalie Roger Crozier who went into the game two goals ahead. Toronto Duo Wins Vezina; Mikita Takes Ross Trophy

DETROIT (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs downed Detroit Red Wings 4-0 in National Hockey League action Sunday night as Red Wings rookie goalie Roger Crozier lost all chance of taking the coveted Vezina Trophy away from the Maple Leaf team of Terry Sawchuk and Johnny Bower.

The game was the last one of the regular season for both teams and the shutout for Toronto gave Bower and Sawchuk a 70-game record of 173 points against them. Crozier had 171 going into the game.

The turning point came on Leafs' third goal, a shot by Pete Stemkowski in the third period that Crozier had no chance of stopping. It was the third tally of the game.

Leftwinger Don McKenney cracked Crozier and the Detroit defence at 6:19 of the first period. His goal came on assists by Dave Keon and George Armstrong.

Time Horton bounced one off the post for the Maple Leafs' second tally at 7:45 of the second period. Crozier didn't see the puck until it landed in the net.

KEON SCORED

Dave Keon collected the final Maple Leaf tally with three seconds remaining on a pass from Armstrong into an empty net.

Toronto outskated, outpassed and outchecked the Wings throughout the game.

It was a night of frustration for Wing veterans Norm Ullman, Gordie Howe, Parker MacDonald and Ted Lindsay.

Coach Sid Abel shifted lines without finding one capable of breaking Toronto's hard checking defence.

A crowd of 14,740 saw the Wings drop their last home game of the regular season.

The defeat snapped a 14-game consecutive winning streak on home ice for the Detroit club. It was the first time since Jan. 23, 1963, that a Red Wing team had been shut out in Detroit. Chicago did be trick that time with a 3-0 victory.

NEW YORK (AP) — Jean Beliveau fired two goals his 19th and 20th of the season as Montreal Canadiens, alternating their goalies at five-minute intervals, defeated New York Rangers 5-3 Sunday night in the regular-season finale for both National Hockey League clubs.

The Canadiens finished in second place and will meet fourth-place Toronto Maple Leafs in a Stanley Cup semi-final playoffs series beginning Thursday.

The Rangers wound up fifth, missing the playoffs.

Charlie Hodge started in the Montreal nets, played approximately five minutes, and gave way to Gump Worsley. The two took turns from then on as coach Toe Blake prepared them for the upcoming post-season games.

Worsley, making his first appearance against the Rangers in New York since they traded him to Montreal in June, 1963, yielded all three goals. He had 17 saves to 15 for Hodge and 33 for New York goaltender Marcel Paille.

BOSTON 3 — CHICAGO 1

BOSTON (AP) — Boston Bruins' Ed Westfall, Tom Williams and Johnny Bucyk humbled playoff - bound Chicago Black Hawks 3-1 Sunday night in a bone - rattling National Hockey League season's finish.

Murray Oliver added two assists.

The Bruins thus closed out their best season in five years—all of them in the league cellar—with their 21st victory.

The third-place but skidding Black Hawks, opening the first round Stanley Cup series at Detroit Thursday, went down to a fifth straight loss.

Boston's rookie goalie Jack Norris, appeared head for his second major league shutout until defenceman Matt Ravlich blasted a 40-fot screen shot through his grasp at 11:19 of the final period.

Westfall opened the scoring halfway through the first period. Standing about 15 feet in front, the burly Bruin tipped a shot by rookie Joe Watson under Chicago goalie Glenn Hall.

The most spectacular score of the game came by Williams at 9:51 of the second period. The Boston defence was girding frantically against Black Hawks' power play with Norris operating minus his stick after it had been snapped in two.

The defenders finally cleared the puck to the other end where Williams promptly stole it from Red Hay and fired a 10-footer which deflected off Elmer Vasko's stick and sailed over Hall into the goal.

Bucyk collected his 26th goal of the season—one short of his personal high—before Ravlich connected.

SUMMARY

First period—1 Boston, Westfall 12 (Watson, Oliver) 10:50. Penalties—McKenzie minor and misconduct 5:00, Maxner 7:14, Jarrett 9:21, Green 9:45, Mohns 14:18.

Rangers Nip St. Dunstan's; Take Finals 3 Games To 2

Rogers Rangers, combining strong goal tending and back checking, defeated St. Dunstan's High School Junior Saints 3-1 at the Charlottetown Forum yesterday afternoon. The Rangers took the best of five series three games to two. The Rangers had dropped the first two games of the series but came back to take the next three all by one goal. The Rangers will now reign as champions of the 1964-65 version of the Charlottetown and District Junior Hockey League.

Andy Arsenault gave the Rangers a one goal lead after nine minutes and 54 seconds of action in the first period. Arnold MacLeod picked up an assist on the play. Gary Cudmore scored at 11:10 of the first frame to tie up the game and end the Saints scoring for the day.

Colin Campbell scored what proved to be the winning goal at 6:11 of the second frame on a neat passing play with Andy Arsenault and Jamie Kennedy. This was the only goal of the second period.

Jamie Kennedy tallied the only goal of the third period when he fired the puck into an open net with 15 seconds left in the game. Kennedy carried the puck out of his own end and rushed up the ice, never shooting until just outside the Saints blueline.

The goal tenders were the big difference in the game as both Carl McQuaid, of the Saints, and John Reid, o the Rangers were red hot throughout the entire 60 minutes of action. Both goalies brought the more than 1500 fans to their feet more than once with some great saves. Reid was expecially good of stops off the sticks of Billy Weatherbie, Gary Cudmore, Cecil MacDonald, and Ron Giggey. McQuaid was tough on the Rangers throughout the game but caused the Rangers, Jamie Kennedy and Arnold MacLeod real trouble.

Referee Don Whalen with his linesmen Bob and Grant Crockett called a total of 10 penalties with the Rangers picking up five and the Saints five. All the penalties were minors.

The game was perhaps the best played in the Junior League this year with good clean hard hitting action. Although the St. Dunstan's team did not win it wasn't because they never tried. They kept putting the pressure on the Rangers and causing Reid a lot of trouble in the last few minutes of the game.

First Period: 1, Rang — Arsenault (MacLeod) 9:54. 2, SDHS — Cudmore, Flood 11:10. Penalties — Smith, Giggey, C. MacDonald, Smith.

Second Period: 3, Rang — Campbell (Arsenault, Kennedy) 6:11. Penalties — Giggey, Walsh.

Third Period: 4 Rang — Penalties — Affleck, MacEachern, W. MacDougall, V. MacDougall.

Rangers Coach Is Infuriated

By JIM CULLEN
Sports Editor

Norman "Hawk" Larter was in a rage after Friday night's game between his Rangers and the Grant Grady coached Summerside Legionnaires at Civic Stadium. This was the third game in the best-of-five junior final for the Island junior hockey championship and the right to represent this province in the Maritime junior playdowns.

The Summerside representative defeated Larter's forces 5-3 in Friday's battle to take a commanding 2-1 lead in their best-of-five battle. The fiery coach of the Rangers was on the phone bright and early Saturday morning telling us that his team wasn't beaten they were "out charged, out tripped and "outlawed".

The coach of the Rogers Rangers outfit went on to explain that two goals scored on his team in this third game supposedly went through the net, but Larter fumed that the referees never checked both nets and when questioned on the goals the referee-in-chief replied that, "this happens here all the time."

The Rangers coach added "In 31 years around hockey wars I have never seen such a sad exhibition of officiating".

Larter also made a point of the fact that the Summerside coach has referred to his team as a hitting club, and Larter stated "they are a hitting team, but only when they are at home and then they are a charging team".

We finally got Larrter calmed down to a point where we could ask him a couple of questions and when asked if he thought his team could still pull the series out he told us "We have been a come-from-behind club all season and I don't see why Monday night's game should be any different".

THIS WRITER'S VIEWS

This writer didn't see Friday night's contest at Civic Stadium so we can't assess the truth of Mr. Larter's charges, but we saw the Legion squad in action at the Charlottetown Forum and we thought they had a sharp looking junior hockey club and they conducted themselves very well.

They have a heavier squad than the Charlottetown team and we think the Rangers will have to come up with a supreme effort if they hope to force a fifth game when the two teams take to the ice at the local arena tonight. The Rangers have several top notch junior performers on their roster, but they are facing a well conditioned hockey club that has played on a good Intermediate league all season and are used to rough going.

Tonight's game should prove to be one of the hardest fought games witnessed at the Fitzroy street 'ice palace' this winter as it will be a 'do or die' situation for the Rangers and Grady's band of pucksters will be anxious to wrap the series up in four games.

A large crowd is expected to wend its way to the local arena tonight for this all important tussle. Action is scheduled to get underway at 8:30.
