CORRESPONDENCE.
TO THE EDITOR OF HAZARD'S GAZETTE.
Sir:
It is our painful duty to request you to give insertion in your paper of the death of our worthy Brother, the late John Munn, who was a consistent member of the "Caledonia Division, No. 24, S. of Temperance," located at Wood Islands after a protracted illness of 12 months duration, which he endured with christian fortitude, he departed this life on the 31st ult. The late brother Munn was a native of the Island, and endeared himself to a large circle of friends and acquaintances, by his many amiable and christian virtues, his unfeigned demise cast a deep gloom over our community, and the number who were assembled to attend his funeral, and the mournful aspect of the whole evinced the esteem in which he was so deservedly held.

The buried brother of this year,
Ye meet us in our dreams
When in his holy hush of night,
The light of memory streams,
And the darling scenes of his childhood,
Our pruned spirits in,
And makes us long to quit this world
Of darkness and of sin.

We miss thee at our meeting hour,
When songs of praise and prayer
Arise in thine who maketh us
To feel the presence of thy power.
We miss the music of thy voice,—
So soft,—so sweet,—so clear,
Which, by its gentle melody,
Lull'd us 'midst thy sorrow's tear.

We miss thee at our parting hour,
When sober morn arise,
And stars look sweetly down on us
And happy thoughts arise.
When sober morn can scarce contain,
Their weight of grief and tears,
Which, when we bid adieu to thee,
Of death-enchanted years.

We miss thee! O! we miss thee!
To hear the gavel, where
With earnest hearts we first did meet,
To stand a solemn jury-seat.
When hopes were high, and life was young,
And all devoid of fears,—
Alas! dark shadows from your grave,
Now points to endless years.

We miss thee, but in that clime
Where death is never known,
We'll hail thee with the kiss of peace,
And greet thee with the smile of morn.
Your father, mother, brothers, friends,—
The sanctified and blest,—
Shining in the mournful year's away,
And with us at last.
