Large Crowd Entertained By Miss Fields At Forum

Gracie Fields, acclaimed as one of the world's greatest entertainers, more than lived up to her reputation when she appeared before a crowd of some two thousand at the Charlottetown Forum last evening. Many superlatives are used to describe stars of Hollywood, but all of these words seem to fall short when talking of "our Gracie." Abounding with vitality, energy, and exuberance, Miss Fields captivated the audience from the moment she walked onto the stage until she finally left it some two and a half hours later.

With a brief intermission to allow the audience to rest from the convulsions of laughter into which she had thrown them continually, Gracie proved that people are alike the world over in their fondness for the type of humor she offers. Although comedy seems to be Miss Fields' main drink that goes with it to provide the perfectly balanced banquet of entertainment, is found in her singing of such beautiful songs as "The Lord's Prayer," and "Count Your Blessings." People throughout the huge auditorium realized that these were prayers, sung by a very sincere and devout woman, and entered into the spirit of the numbers as some of them closed their eyes and others fumbled for handkerchiefs.

Miss Fields has the happy faculty of finding out in her first few numbers just what the audience likes, and has an unlimited reserve from which to draw the type of songs and stories that she knows will please her audience of the moment.

Outstanding among her comedy offerings were the renditions of "My Hero" from the Chocolate Soldier, and "Serenade." In this latter number Gracie started out with all the dignity of an opera singer, but lost it completely after the first few bars. Using as her "prop" the inevitable scarf which she always carries on her concert tours, Miss Fields found no difficulty in changing her character from the dull-witted country lass to the dominating tax inspector of the United States.

Retaining many of the old songs for which she is so famous, Gracie sang in some new ones last evening, but it still seems that audiences will always remember her for such old favourites as "The Biggest Aspidistra." Although now in her fifties, Gracie seems to retain youth as she sings such numbers as "My First Love," giving her interpretations all the buoyancy and expectancy of a girl in her teens and even bringing a thrilling sweetness and youthfulness into her voice. Although, as she stated last evening, she has often thought of retiring, it is hoped that Miss Fields will continue bringing laughter and happiness to people for many years to come.

Appearing last evening in one group of violin solos, Miss Marguerite Learning proved herself a most capable performer. From Niagara Falls, Miss Learning played with a fine knowledge of violin technique, and performed with ease such well-known numbers as "Mornin' 'Candas" and "Intermezzo." Mr. Jimmy Bailey, accompanist for the evening, opened the programme with a group of piano solos which were very well received. Although most of these were more or less popular numbers, the favorite of the audience seemed to be the "Ritual Fire Dance."

Seed Growers' Ass'n Meets - GREATER interest and appreciation of the value of pedigreed seed is being shown throughout Canada, delegates to the annual convention of the Canadian Seed Growers Association were told today at the opening session by the president, C. P. Wright, Calgary. "New markets are developing and new varieties are being introduced continually which will stimulate farmers to become members of the C. S. G. A. and produce crops for registration," he said.

Mr. Wright stressed the vital role of the Association in promoting the welfare of Canadian Agriculture. He reported improvement in the quality of registered crops.

Waterman, Co-Adjutor, Bishop of the Diocese of Nova Scotia, was the preacher. After a delicious lunch served by the ladies of the Parish of Port Hill, the executive meetings of the D. C. S. and W. A. took place, which considerable church business was transacted, including the hearing of reports of the various departments of these organizations.

Toynbee Discusses Cold War Challenge

LONDON, June 21—(Reuters)—Historian Arnold Toynbee said today that the cold war has cancelled Britain's privileges of sovereignty within the western community and probably gives her no choice but to subordinate her sovereignty to win. In a letter to The Times, Professor Toynbee questioned the argument put in a Times article last Friday that the British Labor Party's insistence on western cooperation by consent "reflects British public opinion and the facts of British life in the world."

Toynbee commented that, assuming this to be true, this British public opinion was no longer a valid because the will of a British public—or any other single western country—would probably have little effect in arresting "the western community's forced march towards reunion."

The cold war, perhaps even more conclusively than the atom bomb, has cancelled the former privileges both of the western community in the world and of Great Britain and the overseas countries in the western community," he wrote.

"If the people of western Christendom do not subordinate their national sovereignties now with one accord, we may lose the cold war. Our choice may lie between winning the cold war by subordinating national sovereignties and forfeiting national sovereignties by losing the cold war."

BUNBURY W. M. S. - The Bunbury W. M. S. met at the home of Mrs. J. A. MacDonald on Tuesday afternoon, June seventh. At this meeting the members celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of the W. M. S. of the United Church of Canada, and it was very encouraging to have present the large attendance of twenty-seven adults and four children.

The worship period, which was conducted by Mrs. Henry Wood, was opened with the hymn "Happy The Home." Scripture was read by Mrs. Chas. Stewart, Mrs. Sylvia Pippy and Mrs. Raymond MacDonald. Following the Scriptural readings, Mrs. C. J. Wood led in prayer, after which a solo was very beautifully rendered by Mrs. A. S. Weir. A short story was read by Mrs. C. Scranton and an article on Stewardship was read by Mrs. Hope Mutch.

Looking over past records it was learned that this society was organized in 1889, and from articles prepared by older members of the society, those present were impressed with the courage, vision and faith of the founders of this organization. In reviewing the records of the past twenty-five years it was learned that there has been (with the exception of a few years) a steady increase in gifts, 1949 having been the banner year in this respect. A prayer of Thanksgiving and the hymn, "Faith of Our Fathers," closed this part of the program. Mrs. Tait then led the closing "Litany of Dedication to Advance."

Grand Jury Reports To Chief Justice

Yesterday the Grand Jury reported to Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell and were allowed to return to their homes subject to recall. Their report was as follows: "We, the foreman and members of the Grand Jury for the June term, 1950 of the Supreme Court, hereby submit the following report:

"We inspected Beech Grove Inn, being shown through same by Mr. Bonnell, and we wish to report that we found all beds and sleeping quarters in Al cleanliness, also food served being of excellent quality.

"We visited the Infirmary, being shown through by the courteous Mrs. Garrick. Here we found all departments to be beyond criticism. Especially notable were the beds and sheets, etc. All patients lived in cleanliness, but very much overcrowded.

"Our next visit was to Falconwood. Here we were taken through the women's and men's quarters. Here also we found the same staff efficiency and the same cleanliness all through, but much overcrowded. Quite notable was the meat department and cold storage plant, which keeps the food in good condition.

"We would urge that a new up to date stove be provided, as the one now in use is in very dangerous shape and should be replaced as soon as possible."

"Respectfully submitted, for self and others, F. LLOYD CARLETON Foreman.

It was also noted that dealers should be able to have their livestock slaughtered under Government inspection and shipped on a graded basis and in refrigerated boats. Adequate killing facilities were not available it stated at present and it was recommended that arrangements be made to have an expert survey the Island situation.

Inquiring about the setting up of such a plant, the hearing called on Mr. Woodrow Wheatley for information. Mr. Wheatley pointed out that Newfoundland dealers favored such a plant here but that Island Government support could not be obtained for the project.

He stated that an offer of a refrigerated boat was given but there was no place here to get livestock killed.

We have one killing plant here now, he stated, but it will not kill for export shipment. If you are figuring on a custom killing and cooling plant you can slaughter five, six or eight thousand animals and still make it a paying proposition, he stated. He believed the market in Newfoundland could stand 15,000 animals a year.

Seeks Information - The meeting also voted to ask the Provincial Government to enlighten the people about the new transportation proposal of the C. N. R. In the preamble it was noted that the farm people feel that some definite improvements are needed immediately especially with regard to the rural mail and passenger services.

President Earle Ings backed this resolution by stating that it was proper for the Government to deal in clouded surroundings over such matters as the transportation proposal, the Trans Canada Highway or other matters which were of vital interest to the individual well being.

The meeting voted on the Day-light Savings issue after hearing Mr. MacDonald and Walthen Gaudet of the Charlottetown Board of Trade express the City's view on the question. Several rural men spoke with favor and disfavor on the proposition. The return of the vote will be made known following Friday's meeting in Cardigan.

The membership report showed there were 2050 County members in Queen's County. Island membership is around 6,000. The meeting favored the holding the annual meeting in Charlottetown some time this November. Two short films, one "55,000 for Breakfast" and another on Flax Processing, were shown.

Mr. Ralph MacLean of the Vocational School gave an enlightening talk on courses offered at the school. Mrs. Bruce Judson of Alexandria and Mr. Reginald Smith were appointed to the Farm Forum Committee.

fulfill the earliest expectations. Dr. G. E. Hobbs, London, Ont., told a meeting of the psychiatric section there was a possibility that drivers' personality trait and their relative susceptibility to accidents could be correlated.

A study of accident records and personal histories conducted in London showed a distinct connection between the personality of an individual and the number of accidents he had.

Discuss Cancer - Dr. O. H. Warwick, Toronto, said efforts of medical, lay and government groups to combat cancer were being rewarded with "some success."

Although skin cancer was sometimes dismissed lightly, more than 400 Canadians would die of it this year. Half of those deaths, he said, would be unnecessary ones.

Dr. G. M. Brownrigg, St. John's, Nfld., told the meeting greater public consciousness to the importance of abdominal pains coupled with the development of new drugs has led to a significant drop in the death rate from appendicitis.

"During the years, the public has been made increasingly conscious of the importance of abdominal

Warns Doctors - Dr. Gosse, the incoming president, said doctors should protect their profession against the influences of paternalism and bureaucratic power. The profession was willing to co-operate in measures designed to extend the benefits of medicine but would not accept a proposal which restricted the medical profession, he said.

Canada ranks with all nations in the world in the number of doctors per thousand of population and compares favorably with any Individual therapy by individual specialists could not keep pace with increasing demands for treatment and psychiatry should be a basic science common to all medical studies.

Other resolutions urged that every effort be made for the expansion of the sale of British products in Canada and that thanks be given to the press, radio and the ladies of Hunter River Lodge in supplying the members with supper.
