REALLY ANCIENT

OSLO, Norway CP — The Paleontological Museum here has opened a special exhibit to show the first prehistoric reptile ever found in Norway. The ichthyosaurus unearthed last summer in north Norway is the fossil of an animal estimated to be 120,000,000 years old.

of Mrs. Aeneas Hughes, for the month of March.

There were 12 members present and two visitors. The meeting opened with the "Ode" followed by the "Cred." The roll call was answered by each member donating 25 cents for the March of Dimes. The roll call took in a sum of $3.25.

The members decided to take enough money out of the funds to make up $5.00 and send it to the March of Dimes.

The committees gave their reports. It was decided this month to buy blackboard, compass, yard stick, wash basin, soap and paper towels for the school.

The sick committee reported one sick, one treat. The treasurer gave a very fine report.

The secretary was not present, therefore there was no reading of minutes of the last meeting, and no articles of correspondence were read.

New committees were appointed. It was decided to answer the roll call next month with an exchange of articles for house-cleaning. Mrs. Anthony Sturdy invited the members to her home for the April meeting.

An enjoyable program of twenty questions was put on by the committee in charge. "God Save the Queen" brought the meeting to a close. An enjoyable lunch was served by the hostess.
