GOOD Food - Digestion - Complexion

are all intimately connected—practically inseparable. Though the fact is often ignored, it is nevertheless true that a good complexion is an impossibility without good digestion, which in turn depends on good food.

There is no more common cause of indigestion than lard. Let the bright housekeeper use COTTLENE.

SENATOR FERGUSON'S SPEECH

Public Works & Winter Communication.

Now we come to the great canal, and we find that in the year 1873, three weeks after Prince Edward Island entered the Confederation, that Her Majesty the Queen assented to an Act of the Imperial Parliament authorizing a loan, with the Imperial guarantee, of three million six hundred thousand pounds sterling, which Canada was authorized to raise on conditions that she raised a further sum of four million four hundred pounds sterling by loan on her own credit and applied all that money to the building of the Canadian Pacific Railway and to the improvement and enlargement of the canals and to no other purpose whatever.

Whereas the Government of Canada propose to raise by way of a loan for the purpose of the construction of the Pacific Railway, and also for the improvement and enlargement of the Canadian canals, a sum of money not exceeding eight millions six hundred thousand pounds.

Sec. 2. The treasury may guarantee in such manner and form and on such condition as they think fit, the payment of the principal and interest, not exceeding five per cent per annum on all or any part of any loan raised by the Government of Canada for the purpose of the construction of the Pacific Railway and the improvement and enlargement of the Canadian canals, so that the total amount so guaranteed from time to time does not exceed three millions six hundred thousand pounds.

Sec. 3. The treasury shall not give any guarantee under this Act unless and until provision is made by an Act of Parliament or otherwise, to the satisfaction of the treasury.

Subsec. 1. For raising and appropriating the said proposed loan of eight million pounds.

In this way were the $30,000,000 provided by law for the Canadian Pacific Railway, and $8,933,333 for the canals.

Now, my contention is that those were the sureties and the works which formed the basis of the terms of union with Prince Edward Island that the debt of Canada on the 13th June, 1873, and the $30,000,000 for the Canadian Pacific Railway, was to be taken, and that this $8,933,000 for the canals was to be taken and the unexpended portion of the $20,000,000 on the Intercolonial Railway and provided thereon altogether we have a sum of $173,228,914.09.

Debt of Canada in 1873. $ 129,743,432.19 Authorized for Canadian Pacific Railway (unexpended) 30,000,000.00 Authorized for Intercolonial Railway (unexpended) 4,552,148.57 Authorized for Canals (unexpended) 8,933,333.33 $173,228,914.09

If anything was necessary to prove the stand that I have taken, anything stronger than the statistics of Canada, and the terms of confederation, with the description of the works therein contained, namely, those large public works authorized by the Parliament of Canada, if I say anything further it is necessary to prove the position I take. I think the gentlemen will find that that amount of $173,228,914. Taking the census of 1871 as the basis, and making some allowance for the population of Manitoba and British Columbia which were not enumerated with the rest of the provinces, and putting the population of Canada at about 3,500,000, it will make $49.40 per head on the basis of the population of Canada by the debt then incurred and by the great public works that the Parliament of Canada was authorized to proceed with at that time when we were into the union. There was the basis—$49.40 per head being the debt which was incurred or authorized under the sections 2 and 3 of the Act of 1873, and the $49.40 per head on the population as ascertained by the census of 1871 being 94,921. This was a perfectly fair start. In the terms of the union to which I have directed your attention the fullest and fairest admission was made that these burdens which Canada had undertaken and which were resting upon her by the debt which she had created and the laws which she had passed authorizing these large public expenditures were such that Prince Edward Island should not be called upon to bear the cost of $4,701,050, or $50 per head on the population as ascertained by the census of 1871 being 94,921. This was a perfectly fair start. Consumption—Low Condition

Wonderful Results From Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Four years ago while in the old country (England), my daughter Hannah was sent away from the hospital, in a very low condition with consumption of the lungs and bowels, and weak action of the heart.

Said She Was Past All Help and wanted me to send her to the "Home for Incurables." But I said as long as I could hold my hand up she should not go. We then began Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures.
