Outsize Lobster Caught In Malpeque

A huge lobster weighing 7 1/2 pounds was part of the catch landed last Wednesday by Mr. Richard Wall, of New Annan. This huge lobster, believed to have been the largest ever landed in this area was caught by Mr. Wall, fishing out of Prince-town in Malpeque Harbor. It was taken to the store of Mr. Harold Moase, merchant at New Annan, where some vital statistics concerning this lobster were determined. It was found to weigh 7 1/2 pounds, and to be 27 inches long with claws, 19 inches from tail to nose, and measured 14 inches around the body. Mr. Wall said it had been caught in Clamhammer Channel in Malpeque Bay, and said he intended to have the meat extracted and preserve the shell. When the process is completed this unusual lobster may, for a time be placed on exhibit in some Summerside store to prove that not all the big ones get away.—S.
