

MORE RIOTS IN PHILADELPHIA. DESPERATE CONFLICT BETWEEN THE IRISH AND NATIVE AMERICANS

(From the Halifax Morning Post of July 16.) Papers have been received, giving accounts of the renewal of the awful riots by which Philadelphia has recently been disturbed.

The riots commenced on Saturday the 6th instant, begotten by some ill blood exhibited between the Native Americans and Irishmen on the 4th July. An anticipated attack on the Church of St. Philip de Neri had induced Priest Dunn's brother to organise a Company for the defence of the sacred edifice; when, as soon as this became known, and that the party had obtained 25 stand of arms from the Governor of the State, the Americans assembled for the purpose of dispersing this Company.

The mob increased till 11 o'clock on Saturday night, when the Commander of the City military ordered them to disperse, and on their refusal, was about to fire on them, when Mr. Naylor, a late member of Congress, rushed in between the military and the mob and begged the troops not to fire. Naylor was immediately seized and imprisoned in the church. Increased by this act, the Native Americans DREW UP TWO CANNON, and fired three rounds at the doors and windows of the church. Then they went up, battered in the doors, and released Naylor.

The Mob then demanded that the Greens, (Irishmen) should be turned out of the Church, which not being done as speedily as they desired, the mob assailed the church and drove them out. The Greens were pelted with stones, and were driven out of the church with groans and hisses. They did not fire till three or four of their number fell with wounds—when they turned upon their pursuers, and FIRED A VOLLEY OF BALL CARTRIDGE on the mob.

The spirit of blood and carnage was now let loose. The exasperated mob rushed on the Greens, and drove them and the City military before them. Squads of fifty or fifty rioters pursued each soldier through the streets and beat them unmercifully with guns, bayonets, and sticks. One of the soldiers private Robert Gallagher was dragged through the streets, beaten, mutilated, and wounded unmercifully.

A large number of the City Military were locked up in the Girard Bank as prisoners. At 8 o'clock, p. m. comparative quiet had been restored, when Captain Hill of the City Guards got into collision with some elderly person, and struck him with his sword. The man wrested the sword from Captain Hill—a crowd gathered—Captain Hill was knocked down—an attempt was made TO STAB HIM—one of the soldiers rushed with fixed bayonet to the rescue—he was met by a shower of stones—confusion ensued—a general riot—when General Chadwallader rushed up excited and gave the word "FIRE"—when a murderous discharge from the soldiery shot down the mob in all directions, without discrimination.

The air was now filled with cries of human agony—blood flowed through the streets—and on all sides were heard shrieks of the wounded and the dying.

The rioters now retreated—organized—armed themselves with muskets, and two pieces of ordnance. Then they repaired to the scene of bloodshed, and commenced a BLOODY FIGHT with the Military—common and small arms being freely used on both sides.

One man had his face entirely shot away. One discharge from the Cannon of the Rioters killed 20 Soldiers, who, in their turn, rushed on the populace, firing on them and charging with fixed bayonets.

The battle raged furiously for two hours. Between 10 and 11 o'clock, p. m. the contest was very severe. The number of killed and wounded is immense, though it is impossible to ascertain the number. The military have suffered terribly. Capt. R. K. Scott, of the Cadwallader Greys, was shot in the eye, and is in a fearful mortal danger. Col. Pleasanton, of the Artillery Regiment, was wounded in the groin—some silver change in his pocket preserving his life.

Many of the wounded were carried off by their friends, others were DYING in the streets UNRECOGNISED. The contest continued till midnight, the rioters taking possession of an iron foundry, seizing all the grate stoves and iron scrapings in the place—loaded their cannon, and did great execution.

At 7 o'clock the military appeared in great force—warned the crowd—attacked them—charged with bayonets—but were repulsed by the crowd with volleys of stones. The word "FIRE" was given, and great numbers shot down. At half past 8 o'clock, the crowd rallied—by night up two field pieces with muffled wheels—and soon after the air reverberated with the sound of heavy cannon, volleys of musketry, and savage shouts!

The military and the crowd were engaged in deadly conflict. Females were running distracted through the streets, and calling out the names of their dearest relatives, and weeping over the bodies of the wounded and the dying.

The contest continued violently till noon on Sunday, when the field pieces of the mob were taken possession of by the Cavalry.

In the afternoon, large numbers of Natives from Kensington assembled and vowed to burn those in the south ward to the death. They had determined to burn the church of St. Philip de Neri.

On Monday morning, large numbers of military arrived from the surrounding country, and about three thousand troops were organized.

Through Monday evening, comparative order was restored. The military paraded the Streets, while the Natives took up their position, with several pieces of Cannon, in the Water Market. They mustered strong, and with Cannon banded and pointed, declared that they were only waiting for the Military. They were all organized, with officers, and in good drill. They had plenty of powder, and loaded their Cannon with spikes, signs, nails, pieces of iron, and grape shot.

The military took charge of St. Philip's Church, and the latest accounts (2 A. M.) on Tuesday morning the 9th, there was no evidence of active aggressive movement on the part of the mob, but the military were still on the alert.

SUPREME COURT.—Wednesday and Saturday last having been named by the Courts days supplementary to the Term for the winding up such part of the business as should not require a Jury, the court accordingly sat thereon. The former day was chiefly consumed in a long argument by the Solicitor General, showing cause against a Rule nisi for a new trial in a very important ejectment case tried at St. Eleanor's in June, Doe M. Murray vs. Murray. On Saturday the remainder of argument was heard, and also Mr. Palmer in reply; after which His Lordship the Chief Justice proceeded to give his decision on the points raised and argued by Mr. Street, a Counsel for Mr. John Mackenzie, on his motion for a new trial, and for arrest of Judgment, in the prosecution against the latter for uttering a forged Receipt. His Lordship stated, that having given the matter every consideration, he is compelled to confirm the verdict, and that there appeared nothing to affect the Indictment.

Mr. Mackenzie was then called up for judgment, and in a very moving address from the Chief Justice, received the following sentence:—Imprisonment for Three Calendar Months, and to pay a Fine £50, and to stand committed until the fine be paid.—Gazette July 16.

SHIP NEWS.

Sailed on Tuesday, the hired surveying vessel Gulnare, Capt. Bayfield, for St. John's, N. F.

The Brig Lady Lilford, cleared from Bedeque on Thursday, the 10th inst., for Dublin. Cargo, Timber, Deals and Lathwood, by J. Wentholt.

The brig William Griffiths, of Charlottetown, from Fogwash, bound to Cork, with a cargo of timber and deals, went ashore on the 22nd of June, in a thick fog, on Point English, St. Mary's Bay, N. F., the wind blowing fresh, and a heavy sea running. After carrying away her rudder, and starting her stern post and frame, she came off, and floated on Point La Haya Beach, where she lies stranded, bilged, and her keel broken in two.—Materials and luggage saved. The vessel and cargo were sold on the 1st July for £210s.—Insured in England.

The ship Ritchie, of and for Glasgow, from Quebec, timber, laden, was stranded at St. Shant's on Wednesday evening last, having gone on shore in a thick fog.—She is stated to have been of about 900 tons, with a crew of 37 men and 1 passenger, who were all happily saved, together with part of the materials.—Nfld. Royal Gazette.

The wreck of the Grampus.—Capt. Taber, of the whale ship Montpelier, arrived at New Bedford, informs the editor of the Bulletin, that on the 26th of June, he fell in with a vessel bottom up, or nearly so, having the appearance of a war schooner, foremast gone, mainmast and bowsprit remaining, apparently nearly new. Her copper appeared good, part of the false keel and port shutters gone, and had apparently been in that situation five or six months. The wreck was doubtless that of the U. S. schr. Grampus, which was last heard of, we believe, off the Bermudas.
