

"Covers Prince Edward Island Like The Dew"

Aboard Welcome In U.S.

WASHINGTON (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson's meeting with President Kennedy at Hyannis Port, Mass., and the decisions they reached have been welcomed warmly by U.S. newspapers.

The Washington Star says in an editorial that looking at the Cape Cod weekend meeting from any angle, the results are "encouragingly productive."

"And why not? After all, our two countries are identical twins, so to speak—geographically, politically, culturally, temperamentally and in terms of the military imperatives that bind us together for better or worse, inevitably."

"Certainly anything that would estrange or divide us nature's way, is inevitable."

Both the Star and the Baltimore Sun criticise former Prime Minister Diefenbaker for failing to accept nuclear warheads for Canadian defence weapons.

Manitoba, Militia Signal units are eligible for the competition. The first was at London, Ont. At present the Malloch trophy, won here for a number of years, is held in

Cooper Values Honor From SDU

By NEIL MATHESON
Provincial Editor

"I value this honorary degree as one of the greatest honors that have come to me. Nothing touches a man more deeply than a tribute of this kind from his own people. It reverses the old adage and proves that sometimes a prophet is honored even in his own country." Rev. J. Suberland Bonnell observed yesterday afternoon as he looked forward to receiving the honorary degree of L.D. this afternoon at St. Dunstan's University.

St. Dunstan's has always been warm and kind, observed the man who has never forgotten his humble and somewhat difficult beginning on the road to international renown, the men who helped him through some of the most difficult spots.

Bonnell, who West Kent School in the 8th grade to go to Falconwood Hospital as an attendant nurse at 17 years, an experience that proved of invaluable help to him later, as he could draw upon case histories of men he had known as mental patients here during his

Cooper's Space Flight Preparation Go On For Launching Today

ALAS rocket is scheduled for blast off between 10 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. ADT to start Cooper on a 22-orbit flight lasting more than 34 hours—longest manned space flight attempted by the United States.

A heavy cloud cover over Cape Canaveral would prohibit vital camera coverage of the five-minute Atlas boost phase of flight. The photographic record is needed for something new.

Trainers could like wide visibility in case trouble forces the astronaut to abort the mission shortly after liftoff.

PREDICT IMPROVEMENT
The weather forecast said conditions would improve later and probably be good by Wednesday morning. There was hope that a northeast wind blowing into the area would shift sufficiently to carry the clouds away by launch time.

Talks Today

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—The United Nations General Assembly goes into special session today in search of stop-gap ways and means of financing UN peace-keeping operations.

COOPER CALM
If all this bothered Cooper, it would be the Pacific flight last Saturday night. For him it was dinner and early to bed. Around 3 a.m. he is to be routed out for final preparations for this prolonged flight.

SCOTT THOMPSON
Denied by Douglas

By KEN KELLY
OTTAWA, (CP)—Robert Thompson, a Liberal M.P., hopes it will be possible to bring the party's parliamentary whip to allege—as Deputy Leader Real Caouette did last weekend—that Social Credit members tried to force a vote on the Diefenbaker government in office after the April 4 general election.

MALLOCH TROPHY INSPECTION HELD

Inspection of a Signals Regiment in the Malloch Trophy competition took place last night at the Charlottetown Armouries. Here inspecting officer Major D.A. Polley of army headquarters, Ottawa, is talking to Sgt. Barry Stevenson, extreme right. The inspection was the second of six across Canada. The first was at London, Ont. At present the Malloch trophy, won here for a number of years, is held in

Riot Troops Held Ready; Birmingham Remains Calm

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Army officers and federal officials set up headquarters Monday in this violence-stricken industrial city. About 3,000 federal troops were held ready to move into Birmingham.

President Kennedy wired Gov. George C. Wallace that the federal efforts were aimed at restoring local citizens "to achieve and maintain a peaceful, respectable settlement."

Kennedy said he trusted Wallace, who had challenged the dispatch of federal troops into the state, would help maintain an atmosphere of law and order.

Gutman indicated that even if violence bursts out, federal troops would not be used here unless local authorities were unable to maintain control.

CITY CALM
The flurry of federal activity as racial calm returned to this deep south industrial city followed wild rioting by Negroes Saturday night. The riots followed the bombing of a Negro minister's home and a motel near headquarters by integration leaders.

12 Britons, 7 Banks Banned By Soviets

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union banned 10 U.S. and British diplomatic officers and wives of two of them from Russia in the wake of a spy trial linking the envoys with espionage.

U.S. and British embassy spokesmen, while formally declining to accept the Soviet charges, said they could do nothing but comply.

Only British secret secretary George Coward and his wife among the 12 accused were in Moscow when the Soviet news agency announced the ban.

One U.S. official whose name came up in the Wynne-Penkow spy trial was the embassy's current agricultural attaché. He was not named, but the official spokesman said.

Funeral Home Issue Unsettled

By STAN BOWLER
Guardian - Star Staff Writer

Despite considerable wrangling, which at times waxed hot, the city council at its regular meeting last night failed to bring the subject of the moving of the Hennessey Funeral Home to the Alton property on Longworth Avenue to a definite conclusion.

As matters stand now William Gaudet, the proprietor, has had the rental of his present site extended for six months from June 1.
