An Inviting Gun.

The Hon. William Wortham, long state treasurer of Texas, was in a New York jewelry store one day when he noticed a showcase filled with splendid jeweled revolvers with silver and gold grips and chased barrels, having precious stones set into the butts.

"Lemme see one of those guns," he said to the clerk.

"Which one, sir?"

"The gold one with the big ruby in the handle."

The clerk took it from the case. It was marked $33, and it looked worth even more. The Texan took it tenderly in both hands and held it admiringly up to the light. Then drawing himself up to his full height, which was 6½ feet, he rested the revolver barrel upon his left elbow, crooked for the purpose, and looked over the sights down the long store. Those persons who saw him involuntarily dodged.

"Say," said Mr. Wortham, with quiet but intense enthusiasm, as he returned the weapon, "if I was to wear that gun down in my state the people would be falling down on their knees begging to be killed with it."

A Sure Cure For Howls.

"I say, mamma," said Charlie, who was watching his mamma bathe the new girl baby, "what would happen if you would put her in the bathtub and go away off and leave her to wash her ownself, like me?"

"I'm afraid," said mamma, "that little sister would get water in her mouth and drown."

"Would it fill her all up full with water so she couldn't howl no more?" inquired Charlie.

"Yes, I'm afraid it would," said mamma, pleased with the interest Charlie was taking in his sister's welfare.

"I say, mum," exclaimed Charlie enthusiastically, "let's put her in right away."—Providence Telegram.

He Knew Her.

Von Blumer—How is it you are taking luncheon alone? I thought I saw you going down town with your wife this morning.

Witherby—You did. But she saw something in a window that she wanted to look at, and I told her I would wait outside. I'm going back late this afternoon to catch her as she comes out.—Detroit Free Press.

A Neat Selection.

"That's a nice umbrella you have there."

"Ain't it? Reflects credit on my taste, doesn't it?"

"It certainly does. Where did you get it?"

"Picked it out of a bunch of seven that were standing in the boarding house hall this morning."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Work For the Jaws.

John Bulwer, a quaint writer of the seventeenth century, recommends the following three dinner rules: Stridor dentium, altum silentium, rumor gentium, which has been humorously translated, "Work for the jaws, a silent pause, frequent ha-has."—What to Eat.
