THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, 1855.—

THE TRIBUNE is now in the middle of its fifteenth year; Vol. XV. of its weekly issue commencing on the 1st September last. The American people need not now be brought to the question of its character or claims to consideration.

In defiance of calumnies the most atrocious, and of the most unscrupulous attacks, THE TRIBUNE has grown steadily in public estimation.

Attached by profound conviction to the beneficent policy of Industrial development and Internal Improvement, through the late Half-Century was HENRY CLAY—
