CARS ARRIVE IN REGINA

Regina city police said about 300 cars gathered at the provincial legislature grounds, carrying about 1,000 persons who wanted the government to delay implementing the compulsory medical care plan until agreement with the doctors is reached. The cavalcade included cars from nearly all over Saskatchewan. (CP Wirephoto).

Annual School Meetings Slated For Tuesday Night

Notice has gone out from the department of education to all secretaries of boards of trustees of school districts in the province that each district's annual ratepayers meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, June 5.

Malcolm MacKenzie, deputy minister of education, said yesterday that a circular letter was sent to all boards, dealing with such things as preparation of financial statements, how the services of the Land Valuation Board can be secured, procedure to follow in joining a regional high school unit, or district and recent amendments to the Schools Act.

Mr. MacKenzie said that the most important amendment has to do with clause one. Section 82 of the Act, which was repealed at the last session of the Legislature and the following substituted: "Every board of school trustees of a district shall provide free school privileges within the district and within the regional high school unit, or district, nearest to the district for all children of school age who have not graduated from high school in either an academic or a vocational course, provided however that free transportation shall not be provided, except with the consent of the school district, to any child of school age not attending the regional high school nearest to his or her unit or district."

TRANSPORTATION

"It should be noted said Mr. MacKenzie, "that free school privileges is defined as meaning free educational instruction and necessary transportation.

"The reference to transportation in the amendment means that student transportation is not provided within a small district unless ratepayers of that district vote in favor of it.

"At present, no small district arranges transportation unless it is part of a consolidated unit. We don't see the necessity of arranging transportation within small districts."

Asked if the clause applied in Prince of Wales College, St. Dunstan's High School or University, Mr. MacKenzie said "the amendment does not imply that the case of students attending school boards are responsible for the costs of educating students who are under 18 years of age and choose to attend PWC, SDU or university."

AGE GROUP

Another amendment to the act defines the age group of children who must be provided free school privileges — this provision is for the enrolment of children who on the Jan. 31 in any school year are between the ages of six and 18 inclusive.

Also covered in the two-page circular to boards of trustees are instructions on what districts are to do if they wish to vote on joining a regional high school unit. "The question may be debated at the annual meeting," said Mr. MacKenzie, "and it can be voted on whether or not the ratepayers wish to request the department to call a special meeting for the purpose of taking a formal vote on joining a regional high school unit."

Districts are also asked to advise the department whether they wish their annual meetings to be shifted from June to July.

Blood Donor Clinic Slated For RCAF Sta.

Included in next week's series of Red Cross blood donor clinics being held in Prince County is one at the RCAF station which will take place on Wednesday morning, June 6 between 9.30 and 1 p.m.

Group Capt. A.G. Dagg, the commanding officer, who was among the first donors at last falls clinic on the station, has again appointed FO Lois Wagner as the co-ordinator for this clinic. The station's drill hall will be the locale of the clinic which has an objective of at least 225 donors during the three and one-half hour session.

Working closely with the co-ordinator in the promotion of a maximum attendance at this clinic are key personnel from each of the various sections on the station.

Miss Wagner reports that she is meeting with the utmost co-operation, and states that she is confident that next Wednesday's results will surpass all previous efforts at the station.

Fines Of $50 Are Levied In S'side

SUMMERSIDE — Fines of $50 were levied against two Summerside men on separate charges yesterday in town Police Court before Magistrate R.S. Hinton, QC.

Cecil "Monk" Arsenault pleaded guilty to a charge of being intoxicated in a public place and was fined $50 and costs or one month in Prince County jail.

Ferdinand Gallant, charged with driving a motor vehicle while his license was suspended, pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs or one month in Prince County jail. On a second charge of being intoxicated in a public place, he pleaded guilty and was given a fine of $20 and costs or 15 days.

Dennis Saulnier, Summerside, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving without due care and attention at an excessive rate of speed on Water Street west in Summerside, and was fined $30 and costs or 10 days.

Police Chief Peter White stated that Saulnier had damaged two telephone poles and part of the railing along the breastwork of Summerside harbour when his vehicle went out of control due to the excessive rate of speed at which he was travelling. The Chief stated that there was a flashing traffic light at the western entrance to Summerside on Water street west, indicating traffic to proceed with caution at a reduced rate of speed, and Saulnier had not heeded this light.

Fines of $50 and costs for driving without due care and attention (speeding) were meted out to Donald Groom. Mrs. Sandra L. Mohr, and Ralph Silliphant, all of Summerside, and Terry Carrier of Kensington.

Plans Finalized For Canvass By Retarded Children's Ass'n

Plans for this month's financial campaign were finalized at a meeting of the P.E.I. Association For Retarded Children held in Summerside last night. Four of the seven locals of the association were represented.

Members were reminded of the urgent need of raising funds for research and teacher training.

The president, Roy Smallman, Charlottetown, announced that Summerside expects to open a day training school next February which will bring the total number of day training classes in the province to six.

He said that Miss Marjorie Woodside of Prince County is to receive special teacher training this summer in preparation for the new Summerside class.

Mr. Smallman urged as many members as possible to attend the annual Canadian Conference on Retarded Children which is to be held this year in Halifax, Sept. 18 to 21.
