

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE EARL LOWTHER

Hampton United Church Is Scene Of Pretty Wedding

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at Hampton United Church on Friday afternoon, November 21, when Barbara Amy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Dunsford, Hampton, became the bride of George Earl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lowther, Cornwall. The double ring ceremony was performed by the uncle of the bride, Rev. Dr. W. A. MacQuarrie, Souris, assisted by Rev. M. Charman, Hampton.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Lorne Ferguson, Hampton, and during the ceremony, appropriate hymns were sung by Mrs. John MacQuarrie, Hampton.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a floor length gown of white nylon net over satin, with fitted bodice buttoned up the neck, full bouffant skirt, and finished with a high neckline and long fitted sleeves. Her long fitted sleeves came to points over the hands. Her shoulder length veil of handily lace fell softly from a hairdresser studded with aquina and rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of red roses with sweetheart roses on the stems. Her only ornament was pearl earrings a gift of the groom.

Barbara chose as her maid of honor, her only sister Jane, who was attractively gowned in a turquoise ballerina length dress of silk organza with matching headpiece and carried an old fashioned bouquet of pink and white mums.

Miss Joyce Ferguson, a close friend, was bridesmaid. She looked charming in a similar gown of yellow silk organza with matching headpiece and carried an old fashioned bouquet of yellow and white mums.

Little Carol Dunsford, winsome niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a floor length gown of pink embroidered organza over satin. She carried a special basket of pink and white mums.

Mr. Norman MacPhail, Meadowbank, ably supported the groom. The ushers were Mr. Howard Morrison, Hampton, and Mr. David Bernard, St. Eleanor's, cousins of the bride and groom.

Mrs. Dunsford, mother of the bride, chose a two piece dress of brown polka dot videro, with white accessories and corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Lowther, mother of the groom, chose a two piece dress of brown printed couple silk, with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow mums.

It was pleasing to note that the groom's grandmothers, Mrs. Harry Yeo, and Mrs. Percy Lowther, were both in attendance.

The reception for ninety guests was held at the spacious home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dunsford, South Melville. The rooms were nicely decorated with pink and white bells and streamers.

The table at which the bridal party were seated was centered with a three-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, and also on the bride's table was an antique candelabra with white candles.

The Rev. M. K. Charman proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom fittingly replied. Telegrams and messages were received and read by the groomsmen. Miss Gail Lowther, sister of the groom, was in charge of the guest book.

Assisting in serving were friends of the bride, namely, Mrs. Wanda Cousins, Mrs. Norman MacLeod, Misses Ruth Dunsford, Sadie MacFadyen and Edith Campbell.

The young couple left on a honeymoon trip to Ottawa and the Eastern States. For traveling the bride wore a blue and silver dress with a blue coat and white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Miss Edith Campbell caught the bride's bouquet.

Previous to her marriage, a miscellaneous shower was held in Hampton Hall where many beautiful gifts and money were received.

Mrs. W. H. Dunsford, 26 Kirkwood Drive, was hostess at a luncheon shower in honor of her sister-in-law.

On December 6th, residents of Cornwall and vicinity gathered at the home of the groom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lowther, to welcome the newlyweds.

Mr. George MacMillan capably acted as master of ceremonies, and after a few complimentary remarks he called on Miss Christine MacPhail to read an address and Mr. Norman MacPhail presented the bride and groom with a substantial purse and other gifts. George, in a few brief remarks, thanked one and all for the gifts. Dainty refreshments were served at all these showers.

Mrs. Lowther is on the staff of Union Commercial College, Charlottetown, where she was generously remembered with gifts. Mr. Lowther is a plumber.

ELLEN'S DIARY

Yeast, China Dolls And Colored Sweets--So Good!

We made bread today. And ever its mixing returns to us, memories of bygone years. Memories of a respected company of bottled yeast on a shelf in a white-washed dairy of the cellar, all tightly corked against possible disaster and consequential dismay on the part of the cook.

The energy these contained was compounded in part of the ripened hops that grew in summer loveliness against the garden-pickets--or that which tightly pressed, came in a smelly packet from the general store at the corner, received in exchange for the big copper pennies hoarded so carefully en route thither, they came warm from the palm of the errand-child.

What an amazing store that was in any season, but more especially as the Yuletide neared, when the glass jars on the shelf held a brand new assortment of sweets: colorful and beaming candystick, fetchingly jewelled in topaz and ruby, in emerald and sapphire and amethyst to beguile the hearts of little girls; intriguing bright candy mice that danced at the end of a slim elastic, and tasted quite good though one invariably heaved a sigh over their disappearance, effected too soon and bite by bite; the fanciful shapes of the moulded creams which to savor even in a first delicate nip was to destroy something exceedingly attractive and good.

There were also the toys of season tucked away in a neat glass showcase: china-headed dolls, pretty, though not nearly so warm and desirable as the flaxen--or dark-haired dolls who fairly cried out for young maids of mothers. Erect, they stared appealingly, or better still, reclining they slept, lashes demurely closed.

Whence came these wonders of that age? Likely in magic crates, by horse and wagon--or sleigh from the town a day's journey away. Or maybe brought in the last trip of the S.S. City of London, or the trim white S. S. Harland, sailing proudly up the cool green of the Strait. Or did they come from some "furrin" place, carried by virtue of the wind-filled white sails of the dark-hulled graceful schooners of a wharf of the harbour beyond?

"One, two, three, loaves" one of the children counted them cooling on a cupboard. "A big baking!" he chuckled.

And outdoors, January shining in clean-clad and wearing a sunny smile walked the winter-fields.

A white week this has been, one of mixed sun and shadow, of frost or gray skies. And at Alderlea it carried the farmers and

HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. R.R. Bell entertained a dinner bridge Friday evening at their home, Brighton Road.

Mr. and Mrs. G.M. Avarud entertained Friday evening at their home Greenfield Avenue after lads along the fields to the woodcutting. It was a week which led us into the New Year's path--a little hesitantly perhaps or even anxiously it may have been, we being forgetful that:

"When we walk amid the shadows and the sky is overcast, When we linger half-bewildered 'twixt the future and the past, We shall always find the Master at the parting of the ways. We shall hear His strong voice saying: "I am with you all the days." Until Monday --- Diary. Good-night.

the church service at Zion Presbyterian Church. The guest of honor was Canon H.L. Puxley and other guests were members of the Ministerial Association and their wives.

Mr. Dewar MacNeill of Halifax was on a business trip to Moncton and Charlottetown this week. He was accompanied by Mrs. MacNeill and while in Charlottetown they were visiting Mrs. MacNeill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Smith and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cullen, 14 Passmore Street, returned home after a very pleasant holiday spent with relatives and a number of friends in Montreal and Hamilton.

Mr. Joseph Rogerson, St. Patrick's Road, returned to Montreal after spending a holiday with his parents and his brother Leslie. The latter is on the teaching staff in Leval West, P.Q.

The regular monthly meeting of the Charlottetown Kinette Club was held at the home of Mrs. Edward Martin on Wednesday, January 7th, 1959. A letter of appreciation from Mrs. Frank Walker, secretary treasurer of the board, for the Association for Retarded Children was read thanking the club for the donation of a table to the Day Training class. Plans were made for an annual party entertaining the hands. Volunteers were asked to assist in the Winter Work-campaign sponsored by the local Unemployment Insurance Commission.

The meeting was adjourned and the remainder of the evening was spent in the form of a snipping party, after which lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. George Hood and Mrs. Clive Cudmore.

The hostesses this afternoon at the Summerside Curling Club, following mixed Curling, will be Mrs. Glenn-Ramsay, convener, assisted by Mrs. Peggy Clark, Mrs. Thelma Willes, Mrs. Isabel Cameron and Mrs. Edith MacLean. A dance will follow.

A Large Number Attended Trinity WMS Auxiliary

The combined monthly and annual meeting of the afternoon auxiliary of the W. M. S. of Trinity United Church was held in the Social Hall with a large attendance.

Mrs. A. B. Bagnall led the worship service and gave a very appropriate New Year meditation, "In the beginning God."

She was assisted by Mrs. J. E. Bennett and Mrs. Edgar Gillespie who offered prayers. Mrs. Leigh Warren sang "How Great Thou Art," most acceptably. She was accompanied by Mrs. J. B. Andrew.

Mrs. K. A. Parker presided over the business session, when monthly and annual reports were presented.

The summation of the year's activities by the recording secretary were most comprehensive and stimulating.

The treasurer's financial statement was heartening, the allocation being exceeded, leaving a balance for gifts for building advance.

One of the most satisfying features of the work was the packing and shipping of several bags of clothing overseas, where the need is still so great.

The sick and shut-ins were not overlooked, the visiting committee making a total of 1500 visits during the year. Many cards and letters of sympathy were also sent.

Following is the slate of Officers for the Year 1959:

• Past president, Mrs. A. B. Bagnall; president, Mrs. K. A. Parker; 1st. vice-president, Mrs. A. F. MacLean; 2nd. vice-president, Mrs. Garfield Bennett; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Gordon Avarud; Treasurer, Mrs. Blois Andrew.

Assistant Treasurer, Mrs. Reuben Betts; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Gwen Taylor; Temperance and Christian Citizenship, Mrs. Joseph Neale; Literature and Missionary Monthly, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Bustin; Associate Members, Miss Mary MacNutt; Supply Secretaries, Mrs. W. W. Mutch, Mrs. Ethel Rogers.

Christian Stewardship, Mrs. Vernon Munn; Community Friendship, Mrs. Edgar Gillespie; Press, Mrs. A. D. McLennan; Pianist, Mrs. J. B. Andrew; Vice-President of Younger Groups, Mrs. L. W. Saunders; Auditor, Miss Winnie Allan.
