CLYDE RIVER W. M. S. The Clyde River W. M. S. met at the home of Mrs. George Hyde for their January meeting, with an attendance of fifteen members and four visitors. The President presided and the meeting opened with call to worship, Psalm 90, followed by prayer by Mrs. James Beer. Hymn 569 was then sung; scripture lesson was from Psalm 46, 47, and 48 read by each member. Theme for evening was "The Lord of Hosts is with us." Mrs. Nicholson then led in prayer. Hymn 626 closed the devotional part of meeting. Minutes of last meeting were read and adopted. Roll call was answered by a verse of Scripture by each member. Readings were given by Mrs. Mack MacSwain, Mrs. George Hyde, Mrs. John Gillespie, Mrs. Nicholson, and Mrs. John MacNevin. It was decided to hold the World's Day of Prayer in C. R. Church and to invite members from Clyde River Baptist Kingston United and Cornwall United to join with us. Hymn 587 was sung and the Lord's Prayer in unison closed the meeting. Lunch was served by hostess assisted by members and a social hour followed. Mrs. John MacNevin kindly invited members to her home for February meeting.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Feb. 6 (AP)—Russia apparently is sticking to her threat to have nothing to do with Secretary-General Trygve Lie of the United Nations after he began his extended term Feb. 2. U. N. officials said communications coming from Russia are being addressed to the "United Nations Secretariat," instead of to the Secretary-General as previously.

Strange But True

By F. H. MacArthur

In Eskimoland as well as elsewhere, young girls have an eye for fashions. A large labret of ivory or jade, receiving a pierced lip and a tattooed chin conform to the modern feminine attraction. . . . The quality of pears is much improved when ripened off the trees. The larger varieties are usually picked when they attain a diameter of 2 1/4 to 2 1/2 inches. . . . Yes, most fungus diseases of fruit trees are promoted by the existence of dampness. According to the Department of Agriculture all fruits suffer after a wet spell because rain spreads diseases among them. . . . The best time to pick fruit is in the morning when the berries are cold. Strawberries and raspberries picked on a rainy day do not keep for any length of time. . . .

While apples and raspberries are not placed in the same class botanically, they belong to the same family. Watermelons and pumpkins often grow to be very large. Along the Tigris River where the soil is very rich watermelons sometimes reach the remarkable weight of 275 pounds. Melons grown in Canada rarely make the 100 pounds. Jersey Clubs Find Growing Markets For Concentrated Milk

TORONTO, Ont. - A growing trend among Jersey milk producers to sell their product to concentrated milk plants was revealed at the annual meetings of the Canadian and Ontario Jersey Cattle Clubs in Toronto, Jan. 28-31.

Reports presented from many parts of the country showed that a shortage of fluid Jersey milk exists during part of the year because of the heavy sales to concentrated processors.

Ronald Macfie, Appin, Ont., president of the Ontario Jersey Club, said concentrated milk processors, particularly in Western Ontario, were paying Jersey farmers as much or more for their trade-marked Jersey milk as they could get on the fluid milk market.

"This is creating a scarcity in some of our Western Ontario markets during part of the year. Many of the Jersey producers will not leave the concentrated milk market to meet the demand of the fluid milk market."

W. D. Thomson, Brooklin, Ont., chairman of the Ontario Club's milk committee, said that Eastern Ontario Jersey milk producers were also disposing of a considerable part of their production to concentrated milk plants.

"Farmers in the central region, which supplies the Toronto market, report some surplus, but on the whole we can expect a reasonably fair demand for our milk for quite some time to come."

J. W. Pawley, Caledon, Ont., told the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club that nearly one-third of the milk consumed on the prairie provinces is reconstituted milk. "This is a growing trend," he said, "and we must recognize it."

The delegates to the Canadian Club convention voted to send a Canadian delegate to a meeting of Jersey breeders from all parts of the world on Jersey Island, birth-place of the breed.

James Bremner, executive secretary of the club, will represent Canada at the world meeting next October on the famous little island in the English Channel, about 14 miles off the French coast.

During the Canadian Club meeting, Alfred Bang and Sons, Edgely, Ont., w. . . awarded the Constructive Breeder Certificate for 1950. This award is given annually to the farmer with the Jersey herd rating highest in milk production and classification.

Edward Amos, superintendent of the Waterloo County House of Refuge, Kitchener, Ont., was awarded the Championship Certificate for the cow Refuge Evaline which produced 980 lbs. of butterfat in 365 days, two times milking, from 14,857 lbs. of milk.

The highest milk record in 1950 was made by Knollview Standard Duchess, a nine-year-old cow owned by Reginald R. Savage, Ladner, B. C. The champion, bred by Charles McEwen, Acton, Ont., produced 15,573 lbs. of milk, containing 750 lbs. of fat, in 365 days, two times milking.

W. D. Thomson, Brooklin, Ont., was elected president of the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club for the coming year, succeeding A. Edgar Dumville, Sardis, B. C.

F. M. Chapman, Pickering, Ont., was elected 1st vice-president, and Lt.-Col. Bartley Bull, Brampton, Ont., 2nd vice-president.

N. Reid Clarke, Didsbury, Alta., and J. W. Pawley, Caledon, Ont., were named to be other members of the Executive Board.

The directors of the Ontario Club selected J. Hayes Woodley, Alberton, Ont., to be president in 1951. He succeeds Ronald MacPie, of Appin, Ont.

Other officers are: 1st vice-president—Edgar Buck, Kitchener, Ont. 2nd vice-president—Alfred Bang, Edgely, Ont.

Harry Collins, Woodstock, and George Silcox, Sheddon, members of the Executive Board.
