IN MEMORIAM

JOHN E. WAYS

Mr. John T. Ways a very highly esteemed resident of Hunter River passed peacefully away several weeks ago in the Prince Edward Island Hospital, Charlottetown, at the comparatively early age of 44 years.

The deceased had apparently been in a fairly good condition of health until about two months before the coming of the end. Not having felt as well as usual for a short while he was advised to undergo an X-ray examination. This he accordingly did.

Mr. Ways was a man who was held in high esteem by all who had the pleasure of knowing him. By his kindly and genial manner he made friends wherever he went.

The funeral was a very large one. In the unavoidable absence of Rev. R. Hensley Staver his former Minister the service was conducted by Rev. E. Boothroyd of the United Church.

The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful. They consisted of the following: Mrs. Wayne and daughter Lillian.

Wreath - Sisters Bessie, Louise and Alice. Wreath - Wall, Harry, Percy, Stella, Bertha, Lillian and sister Stella.

Wreath - Brethren of Prince of Wales Lodge. Of late Mrs. Ways has had the comfort of receiving a large number of letters of consolation and cards of sympathy from relatives and friends.

The following reference to the late Mr. George McLean, whose death occurred March 28th, will be of interest here as the deceased had relatives and friends in this Province among whom he visited last summer, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Andrews, Hunter River.

The Miramichi lost one of its most esteemed residents in the death of George McLean, of Tabusintac, which occurred Saturday night at the Hotel Dieu Hospital here, where he had been a patient for three weeks.

He leaves to mourn his wife, one daughter (Marjorie) Mrs. Sydney Trevors, of this town, five sons, Andrew and Leslie, of Tabusintac, McKay, principal of Wellington St. School, Chatham, Murray, of Astashook, Ontario, at home; and one sister, Mrs. W. A. Simpson, of Millerton.

The remains were conveyed to his late home at Tabusintac on Sunday morning and the funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon. Service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Dymont and interment was made in the United Church cemetery.

Rats To Have Rough Time Acquiring Nervousness

Professor's Proposed Experiments to Ascertain Causes of Breakdowns Will Be Hard on Subjects.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 21—Professors of the University of Minnesota are trying to give rats a nervous breakdown. They think that if they are successful, they can ascertain the causes and possibly a better treatment of similar breakdowns in human beings.

Prof. Stuart Cook announced yesterday a series of experiments which will determine just what it takes to make a rat have a nervous breakdown. Whether he succeeds, life for the next few weeks is going to be over complicated for the rodents selected for the experiment.

First of all, the rats will be required to walk across a series of electrically-charged plates to reach their food. The rats can decide whether they want to take a jolt or go hungry.

Next, they will be placed on one of two plates with a gap in between. When they get used to that, they will be given a shock and persuaded to jump to the other plate. As soon as they get used to that, they will be given another shock, and encouraged to jump back to the first plate.

After this series is completed, this medium was devised by Miss Ruth Falcon Shaw in her school in 1931. One of her pupils cut his finger, painted it with iodine and proceeded to cover a door of the building with an abstract design by rubbing his fingers this way and that over the surface.

Finger painting is being used as well by psychiatrists as a method of interpreting a patient's emotional difficulties, the psychiatrists working on the theory that it reveals the subconscious. It is also employed in schools for deaf mutes, schools for backward and problem children, and for children with physical handicaps.
