that she can do to him. Her alibi, in the first place, is that she isn't possessive and, in the second place, that she is doing it for the child's good.

If anyone told her that by keeping her children in a state of perpetual babyhood she was doing a worse thing than if she bound their feet so they couldn't walk, or did something to their brains that turned them into morons, or put some pressure on their bodies that would stunt their growths so they would be dwarfs, she would be horrified. But when a mother deliberately unites her children for life by making them dependent upon her, by never letting them use their own judgments, by never forcing any responsibility on them, she is committing a crime that is far worse than any physical handicap she could put upon them.

DEAR MISS DIX: When a boy and girl marry should they destroy all letters, pictures and souvenirs from former sweethearts?
MARIE

ANSWER: Certainly when people marry they should destroy all letters, pictures and souvenirs of former sweethearts, and they should quit talking about their former loves.

Urges Greater Defense Efforts

SASKATOON, Sask., Jan. 10.—(CP)—John Diefenbaker, Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for the Saskatchewan constituency of Lake Centre, said tonight Canada's armed forces are "shockingly weak" at a time when "our defences must be built up against Communism."
"I think the first thing is for the leaders of our country to let Canadians know the facts and let us put an end to the drowsy apathy which speaks indefinitely of plans for Canadian defences," said Mr. Diefenbaker.
He made the statement in a speech prepared for delivery on free time provided by the CBC for political broadcasting.
"All Canadians want peace, but no greater disservice can be done to our survival than by playing down the danger to our existence as free nations. It may be politically beneficial to do so, but political considerations have no place when freedom is in danger... deluding ourselves spells weakness and danger."
"Our defences must be built up and not measured by the amount of the cost rather than their extent and effectiveness... Canadians deserve a vacation from statements by cabinet ministers who compare our defence position with what it was two years ago. To compare something with nothing is a gross delusion."
At other points in his speech Mr. Diefenbaker said:
1. Canada could, with benefit, contribute $50,000,000 a year for the relief of famine in Asia.
2. A co-ordinated "Commonwealth defence system" should be arrived at and in conjunction with the United States whereby there would be integration of our manpower and resources.
3. Canada needs an immigration policy that is "long-view in its conception and that would provide us with suitable settlers so needed if our population is to be sufficient for economic and defence purposes."
4. Representatives of the colored races demand an end of discrimination against them.
5. Industrial production can never be "substituted for armed forces if Commonwealth and United States goodwill is to be maintained."

U. S. Farm Crop Subsidies In Limelight

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP) Government subsidies for farm crops became a possible national issue in the United States as President Truman called again on congress to revise agricultural aid laws.
In his message to Congress, Truman said improvements are needed in farm laws to help obtain the kinds of farm products needed for the defence effort.
Officials have said that more meats, dairy and poultry products, fruits, vegetables, wool and cotton are required.
Truman did not go into details, but some farm state legislators interpreted his statement to indicate that the administration will seek authority to use subsidies to support farm prices and to encourage greater production of essential foods.
Subsidy payments are a key part of a controversial farm plan advocated by Agriculture Secretary Charles Brannan, but sharply opposed by most major farm organizations. Republicans and some Democrats.
Brannan, in recent speeches has said the government is not in a position to encourage maximum production of many farm products because it lacks an "effective" method of preventing a price collapse. Only a few farm products now have the protection of price supports.
The only support method available is government purchase and removal from the market of supplies when prices threaten to drop below support levels.

No Accidents With CNR Motor Cars

MONCTON, N. B., Jan. 9.—As indicating the great strides that have been made in accident prevention on railways since this phase of railway operation was first started, there have been no accidents with railway motor cars used by the Canadian National Telegraphs in the Maritime Provinces district since October 1948, notwithstanding the greater increase in the use of these motor cars, stated Hugh A. Marquis, superintendent, here. Thirty are at present in operation.

Constant vigilance and supervision is responsible for this remarkable showing, Mr. Marquis said. Accident prevention being part of the duties of training supervisor Jack Davies.

There is a special department of the Canadian National System devoted to accident prevention and fire protection, which in the
