Retrenchment.

The Government at Ottawa is doing its utmost to carry out the pledges made to the people in regard to retrenchment. The Civil Service is undergoing a great change, for the purpose of effecting the economy so necessary after five years of Grit extravagance. It was found, by the present Administration, that many officials were retained in office for no other purpose than to uphold Grit rule by their activity at Dominion, and their partizan interference in Local elections. In the latter case the object being to maintain a union between the Provincial Governments and the General Government, under the leadership of Mr. McKenzie. The Government under Sir John has manifested a sincere desire for retrenchment, by displacing men of the stamp alluded to, and retaining only those that are absolutely necessary for the performance of the duties of the public service. The effect of this spirit of economy is not confined to any one Province. We find the Civil Service everywhere is being subjected to changes which will ensure its maintenance on a less burdensome scale to the taxpayers than formerly. Along the line of the Intercolonial Railway many men have been dismissed, either for incompetency or that their labor can be performed by some other officials already in the service. This amalgamation of offices must result in a great saving to the country, and will, no doubt, place the Finance Minister in a better position to meet the deficit of the late Government than the continuation of extravagant expenditure which characterized that party while in power. When Mr. Tilley assumed office he found the Treasury nearly depleted, with a debt fast maturing in England of $15,000,000, and something like $3,000,000 due to contractors and Provincial Governments. To save the credit of the Dominion and meet all her liabilities, a policy of rigorous economy has been introduced, and will, no doubt, be successfully carried out. The heads of departments have been busily engaged in reconstructing and adjusting the offices under them. No Minister has been more industrious and careful in making readjustments for the saving of public money, consistent with the efficiency of the service required in his department, than the Hon. J. C. Pope.

In connection with immigration, the policy of the Government is entirely different from that of Mr. McKenzie. It was found that the large yearly expenditure of public money was barren of any good results. During the last five years nearly $1,200,000 have been spent for the maintenance of Agencies and the salaries of Agents in connection with immigration, and it is believed the Dominion has profited but little by this expenditure. Many worthless and improvident people have had their expenses paid to this country as emigrants from cities and towns in Great Britain, and have been a curse to many of the cities of Canada. Nine agents have been recalled from Europe by the Minister of Agriculture, and the whole system of Immigration has undergone a change which must result beneficially to the Dominion. Means to encourage a better class of emigrants from Great Britain have been adopted, a class whose antecedents will be carefully inquired into before Government assistance will be granted. But while we cannot be too profuse in our praise of the Government in its policy of retrenchment, we hope too much power will not be placed in the hands of Railroad Superintendents, whose over anxiety to save the public money will destroy the efficiency of that portion of the service placed under their supervision. We think the measures adopted by Mr. Schreiber, with regard to the Island road, are too extreme, and hope to see a further readjustment of offices, which will secure to the travelling public and those who patronize the railroad, satisfactory service.

The members of St. Stephen's Juvenile Temperance Society will hold a picnic, at Glen Stewart, Southport, on Thursday next.

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

SATURDAY, May 31.

Forenoon Session.

Mr. RICHARDS was astonished at the resolution before the House. He was more astonished at the position taken by the hon. member for Rustico. That hon. member was very indignant last session that the towns were not taxed; but it seemed that this year he was content with a mere promise. The Government might not be in existence next year, and the hon. member had really no guarantee that his policy of taxing the towns would be carried out.

Mr. BENTLEY was glad that the Government had taken the first step towards doing justice to the country by levying assessment on town and country alike. He thought if the people of Charlottetown wished to keep up sidewalks, parks, etc., they should pay for them out of their own pocket. He would like to see the towns taxed, and at the same time would not object to the city getting a share of the money for public works that were a benefit to the public at large; but saw no reason why the country should keep up the police or pay the gas bills.

Mr. DEBLOIS complimented the hon. members for Kensington and Rustico for the very moderate way in which they treated this subject. If other hon. members took such sensible views, he had no doubt the city would be fairly dealt with.

Mr. SHAW said that this was a very important subject; but, as there were other subjects of greater importance before the country at the time of the election, he had not heard it discussed at that time. He thought it would be very unfortunate to cause any dissensions or jealousies to exist between the people of the town and the country. He thought that the country had some cause of complaint that the city was not taxed, especially now, as the appropriations for roads were much reduced, and the people were taxed to keep the roads in repair. However, he thought it would be better to let the matter lay over until next year, when some scheme could be introduced that would bear justly on all parties.

Mr. McMILLAN spoke strongly in favour of exempting the towns; and said there could be no sincerity in the hon. members who sat here for five weeks and never said a word on this subject until the session was about over.

House adjourned till 3 o'clock on Monday.

Ex-Mayor Beaudry and the County Orange Master.

MR. DAVID GRANT, County Master of the Orange Order of Quebec, has sued ex-Mayor Beaudry of Montreal, to recover $10,000 damages, on account of an alleged false arrest on the 12th of July last. The principal points in the ex-Mayor's defence are—

That whatever the motives of the founders of the Orange Society were, two centuries ago, it had since become dangerous and subversive of public order, so opposed to the true precepts of Christian charity, that it provoked the intervention of the Imperial Parliament and Provincial Legislatures, which have believed it their duty to enact laws imposing severe penalties against its members;

That its doings have produced in the country a spirit of defiance such that public bodies, notably the Legislature of Ontario, refused to give it legal sanction;

That said Loyal Orange Association is a coalition or illegal league, and consequently, according to the laws of the Province, prohibited;

That plaintiff, at the time of arrest, was a member of this illegal society;

That said association having announced its intention to parade on the 12th July, a meeting of Magistrates was held on the 5th of July to take the necessary measures to maintain order, and said Magistrates adopted resolutions that in their opinion it was incumbent upon the Civic authorities to take all means in their disposition to maintain order, it was thought desirable for the Mayor to issue a proclamation to prohibit any assembly or gathering on that day;

That in violation of that proclamation, the Orange Association assembled to walk in procession in the streets, while the excitement and terror of its citizens were at their height, and that the plaintiff, decked with the insignia of said association, and being in the act of organizing said parade, was apprehended by authorities in virtue of legal and regular proceeding;

That the defendant is in no way responsible for the arrest of the plaintiff, etc.

Manitoba's Local Government.

A dispatch from Winnipeg says: "In the Local Legislature, Friday, the Premier, Mr. Norquay, announced the resignation of Mr. Royal, Minister of Public Works, which has been accepted. Full explanations were deferred. It appears that the French members, nine in number, are all supporters of the ministry, expressed considerable dissatisfaction because the Government had not the support of the majority of the English members. Mr. Norquay demanded the resignation of Hon. Mr. Royal, whose French colleague, the hon. Mr. Delorme, also resigned. The English members immediately combined to support the present Government, which will be reconstructed; after its conclusion the French party, under the new state of affairs, will be left unrepresented in the Cabinet. Great changes are looked for, in consequence of the altered state of affairs, both in the personnel of the Government and the nature of the legislation. It is regarded as not improbable that the parties will be divided by nationality. The English are largely in the majority, holding 15 out of the 24 seats.

ABOUT 130 children from Scotland arrived in Montreal on Friday night. They will be sent to the Knowlton Home and Western Canada. Sixty emigrants also came over in the Nestoria.

The Walking Match.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir,—In the walking match which is advertised to take place in the Rink on the 11th inst., I notice that there is only one prize offered. This is not fair. There should, at least, be two prizes—first and second; and if there is not, very little interest will be centered in the match. If the contestants notice one of their number making better time and maintaining the lead, it will discourage them, and they will, probably, leave the track. This will allow the person who takes the lead in the beginning to win the race at his ease, thereby disappointing the spectators. I hope the Rink Directors will consider this matter, and offer two prizes.

Yours, etc.,
PEDESTRIAN.
