

Whatever is, is Best.

I know, as my life grows older, And mine eyes have clearer sight, That under each rank wears some here There lies the root of Right.

I know that each sinful act, As sure as the night brings shade, Is sometimes, however, made, Though the hour be long delayed.

I know there are no errors In the great eternal plan, And all things work together For the final good of man.

Equal to the Emergency.

A wild-eyed man entered a Chatham street pawnshop and wished to see some pistols.

'I sell you dot pistol for two dollars,' said the clerk.

'I'll take it. Load it up and before another sunrise I'll put an end to my miserable existence.'

'Vat? You shoot yourself mit dot pistol?'

'Yes,' said the wild-eyed man desperately.

'Mr. Issaestein,' called the clerk to the proprietor in the back room, 'der shentlemans wants a two-dollar pistol to kill himself mit Vat shall I do?'

Luck.

It is strange how luck seems to follow certain ships. An officer on one of the trans-Atlantic steamships avers that though there is not a stauncher or more seaworthy steamer on the Atlantic than a certain designated vessel, yet it is a terror to be compelled to sail on her.

Successful Advertising.

Thousands of women and girls, says the Albany Argus, rushed to a dry goods store in Cohoes to purchase silk which it was advertised would be sold "three yards for one cent."

Mrs. Brown's Forty Millions.

Advertisements have appeared in the newspapers in almost every State in the Union and of every Canadian city during the past ten years inquiring for heirs of the Lawrence Townley estate in England.
