AFTER DAMAGES.—A young woman named Lordly is suing the city of Halifax for damages because she ran against a fire plug one night recently while the electric lights were out. AQUATIC.—It is stated that oarsman O'Connor offers to row Hanlan from one to twenty miles, and he will bet two to one on the result. He claims to have rowed a mile and a half over the Toronto Bay course in at least twenty seconds faster than Hanlan has ever done. POLICE COURT.—John Rice, for assaulting a countryman on election day, was sentenced to twenty days imprisonment. Two Scott Act cases were further adjourned for one week, on application of the defendants' counsel, in order that evidence for the defence might be heard. KEEPING UP THEIR REPUTATION.—There was a very exciting scene at a recent meeting of the Halifax City Council. Ald. Dennis denounced Ald. O'Donnell as a "liar as well as a coward." O'Donnell had assaulted Dennis, and afterwards gave a written apology, and then denied having done so. CAPLIN.—Large quantities of caplin have been caught in Black Pond, Lot 46, within the last few days. As many as eighteen barrels have been scooped out with a small net used for the purpose by one man in part of a day. Over one thousand barrels have been caught within the last fortnight. They bring a dollar a barrel. Fishermen know their value as bait when properly handled. PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.—The Philharmonic Society will meet to-morrow (Tuesday) evening, at eight o'clock, in Philharmonic Hall, for practice. A full attendance is specially requested. As work will be commenced on the beautiful choruses of Haydn's "Creation," an enjoyable evening may be anticipated. JULES VERNE OUTDONE.—Elizabeth Cochran, better known as "Nelly Bly", a reporter on the New York World, has just succeeded in beating Jules Verne's imaginary trip around the world in eighty days. She finished the trip in 72 days, 6 hours and 11 minutes, starting from New York by steamer and arriving by rail via San Francisco, on Saturday week. Miss Bisland, the Cosmopolitan Magazine's round the world traveller, who started the same day with Nellie Bly, but in the opposite direction, was, at the latest accounts, on the broad Atlantic, having been obliged to take a slow steamer from Queenstown on Sunday the 18th inst. RECKLESS DRIVING.—Souris, it seems, has its reckless drivers. Last Saturday while a young man named McDonald was driving up and down the streets of Souris with a horse and woodleigh, he was violently against Mr. D. G. McDonald, the shaft of the sleigh striking him with such force as to break two of his ribs. Such reckless driving should be stopped. This is the second time within a short period that young McDonald has transgressed, his first victim being a little boy over whom he ran with a heavy express wagon, without even stopping to enquire whether the boy was hurt or not. In the present instance the injured man is somewhat advanced in years, and his recovery is uncertain. It is time that drivers on highways were taught that the road is for pedestrians as well as for horses and vehicles. The custom is, if a walker doesn't clear the track he is run down. In such cases a few lessons from the law would teach the reckless to be more careful.

SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER. Another Mining Disaster. WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 2. At the Nottingham shaft on Saturday, John Dunston, the fire boss, was on his way from the fifth to the sixth lift, carrying a naked lamp. This is said to have fired a body of gas, which exploded and shattered the gangway, breaking the timbers and causing large quantities of the roof rock and coal to fall. The debris closed the outlet for the miners in the interior of the mine making repairs, entombing five. It is not known when these outside will be able to reach these men, but it believed they are all dead. The Nottingham shaft was the greatest anthracite coal mine in the world, and is nearly a wreck. His Life Threatened. CHICAGO, Feb. 2. Edwin Partridge, a well known Board of Trade speculator, has received an anonymous letter in which the writer threatens to shoot him dead on Monday night if he does not put wheat up two cents before one o'clock Monday. Partridge says the warning will not interfere with his transactions. Another Fire in Boston BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 2. The Sears Building, a five-story marble structure at the corner of Court and Washington Streets, owned by J. Montgomery Sears, and occupied by banks and offices, was gutted by fire this forenoon. The man in question not only promised to marry Miss Burgoyne, but went so far as to secure a marriage license. Since Dauphinee's refusal to marry the girl he has married another woman.
