improved by the present Government. Mr. C. Howatt has helped to mutilate it. Advocated paying teachers wholly out of the Treasury. Under present system we pay now more in proportion than any of the sister Colonies. But if the State is to undertake the whole support of Education, it is quite evident that taxation must be increased. Was an advocate for County Institutions, particularly a Board of Education, and a Visitor of Schools for each County. This Board should be composed of men who had received a good English Education. He would like to see the young men of the Island more thoroughly educated than they were at present. Two visits a year were not sufficient for the Inspector to pay to each school, the visits should be more frequent, and the examinations more searching. Was sorry to see many school houses in a very dilapidated condition. Is not a Confederate. Is opposed to the Quebec Scheme. The question must be submitted to the people at the polls. The people, and the people alone, were the proper judges. With regard to the initiation of money votes, no Government can reasonably be held responsible for the expenditure of the public money if this regulation were not in force. If every clerk in a business establishment had the power of making what investments he pleased of the capital of the firm, how could the business be carried on? The system was practised in the Old Country, in all the other colonies, and he had good reason to believe that Mr. Coles would have introduced the measure if his lease of power had lasted one year longer. Would, if returned, assimilate the currency of this Island to that of the neighboring colonies. Was opposed to Bounties, but thought there were exceptional cases in which Government aid might be extended for a time to support an infant industry. If Mr. Howatt was so violent an opponant of the Conservative party, why a few weeks ago did he support that party by voting for Ramsay.

Mr. A. Laird said that eight years ago the Conservative party was raised to power manly by becoming pledged to purge the Legislature of office holders. The members of that party had broken their pledges. The Government had mismanaged the Land Question. They had made an attempt to coerce the British Government in the matter of the Award. Had sent home a delegation composed of a land proprietor and a land agent. It was declared that the proprietors on this Island had no better titles to the lands they held than had the owners of encumbered estates in Ireland, or the holders of slaves in the West Indies. If this is the case, is it not possible to compel them to sell their lands at a fair valuation? Had always opposed Confederation, and would oppose it. Believes that it is the duty of the State to educate the children of the State. The Government had neglected education. The Government could find money to pay for delegations and to support and lodge troops, but could find none to educate the children of the people. The fact of our being an uneducated people was used as an argument to force us into Confederation by one who helped to throw obstacles in the way of the general education of the people. Education is the people's right, their best defence, and it is the duty of every Government to encourage it. Our Government have done nothing to encourage manufacturers. They refused to grant a remission on the duty of some machinery, although that remission was petitioned by a number of the tax-payers of this Island. In answer to a number of questions put to him by the electors, Mr. Laird said that he would coalesce with the Liberals. Would, if returned, support an Anti-Confederate Government. Would support a Coles' Government. Would not support a Government that contained a single land proprietor. Will not support a Palmer Government, Mr. Palmer being a land proprietor. Will take the Liberal side. Will support a Liberal Government.

☞ We learn that our worthy Mail Carrier, Mr. Sampson, has of late found it almost impossible to get into Charlottetown on Tuesday and Friday evenings, having to pass so many sleighs returning from market, the owners of which, on several occasions, refusing to give even half the road. This should be remedied at once. Mr. Sampson is a very obliging man, carries Her Majesty's mails, and has very often a heavy load of passengers and luggage, and therefore should be protected. It was only last week that we heard of him being run into by a person with a wood sleigh, the stakes of which dragged a shawl off of a lady passenger in the Postman's sleigh. The authorities in the City—to whom a complaint has been lodged—should attend to the comfort and safety of the Mail Carsier. We believe that if the Road Commissioners attended to their work better than many of them do, there would not be so much cause for complaint.

☞ The Annual Wesleyan Missionary Meeting, in connection with the Summerside Circuit, was held last evening. The Hon. J. R. Gardiner presided. Rev. Mr. Percival read a very able and eloquent report. Several resolutions were moved and adopted. The speakers were Revs. Messrs. Smith, Percival, Frame, Colpitts, and Messrs. R. A Strong and J. Bertram. The speeches—if we may be allowed to judge—were very good. The audience was very attentive, and the music from the melodeon and the choir splendid.

☞ We have received Godey's Ladies Book for February, and, like its predecessors, we find it well worthy the attention of our Lady friends; and would advise those of them who do not take Godey to subscribe for this year, and they will not have cause to regret it.

We have also received Demorest's Monthly Magazine. The contents are very interesting this month. There is quite a brilliant display of beauty and fashion, besides some good reading and valuable instructions in many things which all should know.

☞ The Halifax Express says that the Bark Bismark, recently reported wrecked at Cape Porcupine, has been hauled up on the Marine Railway at Hawksbury, and thoroughly repaired, under Lloyd's surveyors. She was successfully launched on the 21st ult., and taken to Port Mulgrave.

The numerous friends, acquaintances, and widely scattered congregations of the Rev. Mr. McDonald will be glad to hear that, though little hopes are entertained of his recovery, the venerable gentleman's health has been rather better this week. He is in no pain whatever, but his strength is gradually declining. He remains at present under the hospitable roof of Mr. William McLeod, Southport, where the kindly offices of friendship and affectionate regard minister to his comfort and convenience. The Rev. Mr. Duncan, Dr. Sutherland, and the Hon. James Duncan, and other old and valued friends, are also most assiduous in their attentions.—Pat.
