Canadians Hold Notes In Shaky Financial Co.

TORONTO (CP)— Canadians hold about $23,000,000 in notes of Prudential Finance Corp. Ltd. of Toronto, but it is too early to estimate what they will recover, J. L. Biddell, president of Clarkson Co. Ltd., trustees, said here.

Prudential Finance moved under control of Clarkson Co. Saturday and it was estimated the company had a deficit of $3,500,000. The Ontario securities Commission is also investigating recent company developments.

Mr. Biddell said the great tragedy of Prudental Fnance tragedy of Prudential Finance is that almost all the $23,000,000 in notes is held by individuals. There are about 85,000 noteholders with holdings ranging from a few hundred dollars to more than $100,000.

"I expect we will find noteholders living in all the provinces," he said.

The company, an investment firm, advertised heavily in 1962 for money from individuals. It invested the money in a variety of enterprises including real estate and manufacturing.

J. R. Kimber, chairman of the securities commission, said some aspects of Prudential Finance's affairs are giving the commission concern, but he could not be specific.

Could YOUR CHILD Become A Sex Criminal?

Why does the forcible rapist so often beat, choke, kick, or stab a woman? That is the key to the problem of the sexually violent man—says a woman writer, who herself was once the intended victim of a rapist. In December Reader's Digest, she reveals this criminal's sickness to be a sickness of hate—hate of the female. Read why some authorities believe the sex criminal's problem—like most criminal problems—begins at home. Did you know that overindulging and overprotecting a child can sow the seeds of sexual deviation? Learn the three cardinal rules that should be adopted in the home to help establish a child's healthy attitude towards women. This article is 'required reading' for all parents. In the December Digest now on sale.
