THE BUDGET DEBATE.

READERS OF THE EXAMINER have, of course, read the report of the budget debate. Every impartial and reasonable man who has done so will, we have no doubt, have arrived at the conclusion that the Opposition, though few in numbers, had very much the best of it. Indeed, the Budget Speech itself was, on the part of the Government, a confession of weakness. To bolster up his case, Mr. Peters was compelled to employ the tu quoque argument. Having driven the Conservative party from power because they failed to make ends meet, Mr. Peters proceeded to justify the biggest deficit in the history of the Province by reference to the deficits on account of which his opponents had been condemned. The special pleader compelled to make this plea was certainly in a tight place. That the Conservatives committed some errors will not be denied by anyone. But the period of their administration under the leadership of Hon. Mr. Sullivan and his colleagues will, notwithstanding, be remembered as one in which the public affairs of the Province were conducted economically and prudently and in which the financial state of the Province was, upon the whole, improved, though taxes were not taken from the people for ten long years. In the course of his long and able speech, Mr. Shaw made it clear that the Conservatives at the same time expended more money upon roads, bridges and wharves than those who now hold office—i. e., apart from the corrupt, needless, dashaway expenditures of last year. These latter expenditures were openly condemned by Messrs. Bell and Rogers (Alberton) inferentially condemned by Mr. McKinnon and others, while scarcely a man on the Government side of the House had the hardihood to say a single word in their justification. The Premier and his Commissioners have so far been able to command the vote of the majority. But the budget debate has shown that the solidarity of their party has been greatly impaired. The corruption of the Government "is rank; it smells to heaven."

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

In the Provincial Legislature yesterday, while the Assessment Act, 1894, was passing through committee, Mr. Shaw took strong objection to Section 40, which provides that "executions under the Act may be executed by the sheriff of any county or any constable or bailiff, or by any person therein especially named, to be settled by the Provincial Treasurer." He thought that this clause was too sweeping, that under it the Government was given a power which might be abused. He pointed out that at election times it would be possible for the Government to use this power to further their own ends by impressing persons opposed to them, and in that way preventing them from going to the polls. He moved that the section be amended by providing that these documents shall be executed by the sheriffs, or constables, or bailiffs only, instead of by a special officer created for that purpose. A lively debate followed concerning the executing of these documents by the sheriffs, in the course of which the Leader of the Government volunteered the information that if the Government had the appointing of the sheriffs, not one of the present officers would be appointed. Mr. Shaw took exception to this statement, and spoke ably in support of the gentlemen who filled the office of Sheriff for each of the counties. He thought it would be hard to find three men better qualified for the position. Especially was this true of the Sheriff of King's County, a strong opponent of his in politics. Mr. Shaw then proceeded to show that these officers were in reality appointed by the Government. The Judges of the Supreme Court sent in the names of the persons they wished appointed to the Executive Council, and as everyone knew, the Lieutenant-Governor acted upon the advice of the Executive in this as in other matters. He could not see how, in the face of these facts, the Attorney-General could say that the sheriffs were not appointed by the Government. Mr. Shaw pointed out further that there were a great many applicants for the position of sheriff, but as the Leader could not appoint all of them to the office, he thought that the easiest way out of the difficulty was to re-appoint the present officers, and in this way he hoped to tranquilize the disappointed office seekers. The Leader of the Opposition took similar ground against the section under discussion, and strongly commended the sheriffs of the three counties upon the same manner in which they discharged the duties pertaining to the office. It is, perhaps, needless to add that the change in the section, suggested by Mr. Shaw, was not made. The Government voted it down.

ARRIVAL OF THE FLORIDA.

When the Canada Atlantic and Plant steamship company failed to materialize with a steamer last year, there was an impression got abroad that the company was not earnest in its announcement that it meant to provide better and more direct service to Prince Edward Island and Cape Breton than had ever hitherto been enjoyed. But circumstances occurred over which the Plant people had no control and compelled them to place their steamer on a route already in existence, one of the steamers in which service had become disabled.

But one of the characteristics about President H. B. Plant is that he always keeps his word, and whenever he makes up his mind to do a thing, he always does it well. That is the reason why tourists and natives of the Province who it is to be hoped will journey hither in greater numbers than ever this season, will be able to come direct in one of the finest ships which has ever plied between Boston and the Maritime Provinces.

The steamer Florida of the new Plant Line arrived here from Boston, last evening about 5.30 o'clock, and is now discharging cargo, at the Steam Navigation Co's wharf. A large number of persons were on the wharf when she arrived. She brought a cargo of about 7,000 lbs. and sixteen passengers.

There is a solid English look about her which the American registration cannot wipe out. She is a sweet smelling as a rule and equipped with all the modern appliances which contribute to make the journey a joy, nowadays, when made in such a craft, a pleasure to be long remembered.

She is a splendid iron ship of 2000 tons gross, 250 feet length over all, 35 feet breadth and 16 feet depth of hold. The ship is painted in the well known Plant colors of canary and brown, and her equipment throughout is finer than that of any steamer which has ever been in this service. The cabins are finely fitted, each being equipped with double berths, the top one folding up as a pullman car. A comfortable sofa extends across one end of the stateroom and the wash basin is up out of the way. On the main deck there are eight sets of "double rows" opening into one another, which are particularly in favor with parties of four or more, and the promenade deck are two rooms which are known as "families" in which a husband and wife, with two or three children, can be accommodated with extreme comfort.

Down between decks are the "berth" accommodations, the use of which goes with the purchase of a ticket. These are nicely fitted up and very neat looking and are reached by a broad staircase from the main deck. The dining saloon is a cosy compartment situated on the main deck, with a magnificent oak wood floor, which runs the full length of that apartment. The social hall is located on the promenade deck, and is handsomely fitted up, being furnished with an idea to solid comfort rather than elaborate ornament. The smoking room is on the main-deck, and is an inviting place for the lover of the "weed" to indulge himself.

The Florida is equipped with steam steering gear, and is equipped with the plenitude of boats, rafts, life preservers and all other such things required by law, but which (thank God) are often much more ornamental than useful on such a finely constructed vessel as this. The steamer is electric lighted and is fitted with electric call bells, and has also a powerful search light.

The officers of the ship are as follows: Captain, B. F. Hall; first officer, W. F. Howe; second officer, Oscar Olsen; chief engineer, W. H. Currier; first assistant engineer, J. E. Wilson; purser, John J. Hartley; pilot, Captain Hansen formerly of Carroll, Steward, W. M. Newman.

Freel Robin, passenger agent of the Plant System, and H. L. Chipman, agent at Halifax, came along in the Florida from Malagu.

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE.

FRIDAY, MAY 4.

House met at 11. Mr. A. Peters asked the Commissioner of Public Works whether the Government had received a petition from the inhabitants of Lot 38 for the opening of a road from Henry Jardine's gate to the McEwen Road, which petition is alleged to have been sent in the year 1892, and what action the Government intends taking thereon.

Hon. Mr. McLean said a petition had been received, and the matter would be investigated during recess. Hon. Mr. Peters asked the Attorney-General whether a petition has been received regarding John Stevens, and whether the Government will compensate him for injuries received while pursuing a wharf.

Hon. Mr. Peters said that if possible work would be provided for Mr. Stevens. Work would not be made for him, but if any arose which he could do he would be remembered.

Mr. McKinnon asked the Premier if a petition had been received by the Government relating to Robert Boughton, and what the Government will do in the premises.

Hon. Mr. Peters said that as the man referred to was ninety-three years of age, and had been in the public service for some time, he would be placed on the pauper list.

Mr. McKinnon asked the Attorney-General why the returning officers, plebeic officers, owners of places where poll was held, doorkeepers and clerks who acted at the election on 12th December, had not received their payments, and whether these people are to be paid for their services on that date.

Hon. Mr. Peters said the matter had been neglected by the sheriff, but would be attended to at once.

The bill amending the Public Roads Act and the bill respecting the city schools were read a third time and passed.

Committee on the Assessment Bill was then resumed. On that portion of the bill dealing with the mode of collecting the tax, the Premier pointed out that there was a double remedy provided in the bill, viz., the land was liable for the tax as well as the owner, tenant or occupier. These can be used, or the Government may choose against the land in either the County or the Supreme Court.

At one o'clock the House took recess. After recess committee on the Assessment Act was resumed. Several amendments to the bill carried, including one providing that the deputy collector shall make returns under oath once a year, and all the sections relating to poll tax were struck out.

An amendment by Mr. Shaw to the effect that executions should be executed only by the sheriffs, constables and bailiffs, was voted down by the Government.

Mr. Shaw moved that the act do not apply to land or places, but that the provisions of the act respecting the election of members of the Legislature, be supported.

He supported the resolution in a brief but forcible speech. He claimed that the Dominion officials who were disfranchised were all good citizens. They were required to pay their share to the revenue of the Province in the face of the fact that they were not allowed to have a voice in the election of those whose duty it was to impose the taxes. Taxation without representation was unjust. He claimed that equal privileges should be given all.

Hon. Mr. Peters pointed out that non-residents were taxed on their land, yet they were not allowed to vote. Persons under two-one years were voting property, yet also obliged to pay taxes, yet they could not vote. Judges of the Supreme Court who owned property were not allowed to vote, and women owning property were also debarred from voting.

There was a difference of opinion among the Opposition as to whether this matter, most of them thinking that the Government had acted rightly towards them.

Mr. Shaw said he considered this matter apart from party politics. It mattered not whether these men were Grits or Tories. It would be an outrage to tax them, under the circumstances.

Mr. Rogers expressed himself as being opposed to the principle of exempting church property.

Hon. Mr. Laird thought that to exempt church property was done under the Davies Act and would do no harm.

Mr. Warburton said that charitable institutions would not come under the provisions of the act.

Hon. Mr. McLean spoke in approval of the course pursued by the Leader of the Government in allowing this matter to be calmly discussed by both sides. He did not think it was wise to put a high tax on church property. The houses of clergyman and charitable institutions might also be exempt.

money out of one pocket and putting it into the other. He thought the resolution was just and right.

Mr. Prowse was favorable to the exemption of churches and church property. Hon. Mr. Sinclair also expressed himself as favorable to the exemption of churches.

Hon. Mr. Peters thought it was prudent to exempt churches and church property. He had left the matter of exemption to the whole House. It was not a party question at all.

The motion carried, only Rogers and Wise voting against it. The Speaker took the chair, and the chairman reported the bill agreed to, with amendments.

Mr. Shaw moved that the report of the committee be not agreed to, but that the bill be referred back to the committee for amendment. The amendments he introduced were the same as those previously moved by him and voted down. They were all voted down again.

Mr. Bell moved that all after the word "Summerside" section three be struck out and the following substituted in lieu thereof:

"All taxes upon lands in the Province shall be levied equally upon the whole rateable property therein according to the assessed value thereof and not according to classes."

Mr. Arsenault seconded the motion. The motion was declared lost. Those appearing for it were Bell, Arsenault, J. A. Macdonald, J. E. Macdonald, and A. J. Macdonald.

The motion that the report of the committee be adopted was carried, and the bill was ordered to be read a third time tomorrow.

The House went into committee on the bill respecting contingent remainders. Respecting to be read a third time tomorrow. House adjourned at midnight until 10 a. m. on Saturday.

House met at 10.45. Mr. Arsenault submitted an act amending the Incorporation Act of the City of Charlottetown by providing that the Charlottetown Hospital and the Prince Edward Island Hospital be exempt from taxation. The bill was ordered to be read a second time on Monday.

House went into committee on the bill relating to the income tax. Mr. Macdonald moved amendments to the bill. These amendments provide (1) that gains and profits be added so that income means net income gains and profits, (2) that payments may be made to deputies of the Provincial Treasurer throughout the country.

The bill was reported agreed to, with amendments, and ordered to be read a third time on Monday.

The bill respecting contingent remainders was read a third time. House went into committee on the pauper relief, by Mr. Gordon in the chair. The report of the committee was adopted.

House adjourned until 10 a. m. on Monday.

Only Once Lucky. "What is the luckiest thing that ever happened to you?" somebody asked of the millionaire.

"Do you mean sheer, unadulterated luck—something that just happens without any seeking on your part?" replied the millionaire, throwing away a half smoked Perfecto and taking another out of his case.

"Well, yes; let it go at that." "I am generally accounted a very lucky man by the thousand and one people who know more about me than I do myself. But, on my honor, what I call a genuine piece of good luck happened to me only once in my life. It didn't amount to much, though, it meant much to me at the time. It was when I was filling my first job—that of an errand boy at three dollars a week—and I tell you I have never since felt so rich as when I carried home my first three dollars."

"I had been given a check to cash and a bill to pay. After paying the bill I had $57 of my employer's money left. I was just crossing Broadway when, happening to look back, I saw two men fighting in the street. I was enough of a boy then to take a keen interest in anything like a scrap. I retraced my steps to see what it was all about. To my amazement and surprise I discovered that the two men were fighting in some mysterious fashion had dropped out of my pocket. A policeman happened along at that moment I was able to prove that I had a better right to the property in dispute than either of the two combatants, and recovered it forthwith. They had each grabbed for it at the same time, and each was bound to get all or none—luckily for me. I have often speculated upon what might have happened if they hadn't quarrelled. I should never have recovered the money, consequently I should certainly have lost my situation. That might have changed the whole current of my career, and instead of being a rich man I might to-day have been a poor devil, or I might have been twice as rich as I am. Who knows? Any way, I regard it as the only piece of downright, simple, plain, unmistakable piece of good luck that ever befell me. But any Tom, Dick or Harry that you chance to meet will be able to tell you how many luckier things that have happened to me. Some of them things that I had worked at for years."

Short Furores. Work is a delight only to him that loves it. The "bone of contention" is often the jaw. Be careful never to settle down near the suburbs of a snail. Love that does not grow an ear of deeds, is a blasted stalk. In the truth, haste, it is because it touches a diseased place. There is much gold in the soil on your farm. Seek it with long plow points. Be careful not to let seed you sow in your mental field, as of that you plant in any other field.

Do not get so busy that you cannot stop now and then and see how happy you ought to be. When the devil got into the hogs, they committed suicide. When he gets into men, they get the stars in their eyes. As a rule, there is enough time wasted around the average country railway station to cultivate any 400 acre farm in the neighborhood.—American Agriculturist.

Bread and Dyspepsia. The conclusion that wheat bread is unfit for dyspeptics, sometimes jumped at because ill effects are noticed after its use, is erroneous. On the contrary, it has been pointed out by Bonchard and others that farinaceous food is peculiarly adapted to some dyspeptic patients. It is the milk and the starch which is capable of producing irritating acids, that cause the trouble. To avoid this, Bonchard recommends that only the crust or toasted crumbs of the bread be used, by dyspeptics, particularly those whose stomachs are dilated. The reason for this is explained by the fact that baking temporarily, though not permanently, arrests the fermentation of dough. When it is again heated by the warmth of the stomach, the fermentation is renewed. In cases where the bread is toasted brown through the fermentation is stopped permanently.

A Mistaken Idea. Women have the mistaken idea that men are opposed to their advancement. Now, really they are not. The mistake does not lie there they think very much about it. They just go on calmly, and we make all the fuss about it. Woman may come on and stand in the sunlight, her pride progress, but I believe she loses just a little of the perfume of her womanhood, just as a sweet grows more gorgeous in the sun but loses its delicate perfume of those that bloom more in the shade. The aim for woman is in the path of quiet, intellectual progress.
