Doctors' Plan Is Explained

REGINA (CP) — Detailed plans for doctor-sponsored, hospital-based emergency medical services were outlined here by Dr. Sam Landa of Saskatoon, provincial co-ordinator of emergency services.

Under the plan, 29 hospital and 29 doctors will service 16 provincial districts. A total of 95 hospitals in Saskatchewan will be without the services of doctors.

The college of physicians and surgeons is arranging the emergency services for after July 1 when the provincial compulsory medical care insurance plan goes into operation. The doctors oppose the plan and have said they will not practise under it.

Dr. Landa, appointed by the Saskatchewan division of the Canadian Medical Association to prepare the plan, said it will "only be used in the event the government implements its medical plan July 1."

He said the minimum requirements for provincial medical services has been set at 270 doctors. So far only 239 have volunteered to provide the free service.

Details of what will be termed an emergency under the arrangement have not been announced by the college. It will include maternity care and child care.

Russian Claims West Is Using Hitler Tactics

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Defence Minister Marshal Rodion Y. Malinop accused the West of advocating the same kind of aggressive policies with which Hitler touched off the Second World War.

Writing in the Communist party newspaper Pravda on the 21st anniversary of the German attack on the Soviet Union, Malinovsky said much had changed in the world since then. "But blinded by their class hatred of socialism, of the progressive forces of the world, the imperialist states were trying to follow the same kind of policy that plunged mankind into the Second World War."

He accused President Kennedy of advocating "preventive" nuclear war and said: "Unless the aggressive aspirations of the U.S. imperialists and their partners military alliances are checked in time, the future war will bring death to hundreds of millions of people and reduce the main centres of world civilization to ruin."
